Beautiful in its simplicity was the wedding of Miss Fay Marie Drake, daughter of Mrs. W. B. Clendenin, and Carl C. Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Young of South Eleventh street, solemnized at high noon Wednesday at the home of the bride on North Fifteenth street. The ceremony was performed before an altar of pink and white hydrangeas which had been erected in the south parlor in front of the French windows. The bride, who possesses a sweet and simple charm was beautiful in a frock of white lingerie, trimmed in hand embroidery and real fillet lace over pink. Her bridal bouquet was made up of pink sweet peas and pink rosebuds. The single ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Walter J. Cronin. There were no attendants and only the members of the immediate families were present. Following the ceremony a bridal luncheon was served in four courses. Pink sweet peas and roses were used for appointments in the dining room. The house was artistically decorated with garden flowers. Mr. and Mrs. Young left immediately for a wedding trip. Mrs. Young traveled in a tailored gown of blue tricot and wore a small turban. She is one of the talented pianists of the city. Having graduated from the Richmond high school, Mrs. Young attended Trinity College in Washington and was graduated from the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music. During the past winter she studied in Chicago. Mr. Young is a prominent business man. For 15 months during the war he was stationed in Russia. The out-of-town guests who came for the wedding were Mrs. Mary Kiger and Mrs. Thomas Gilman of Covington, Ky., John Young of Covington, Ky., William J. Drake of Lexington, Ky., and William F. Clendenin of St. Mary's School, Dayton.

OFF-THE-FACE HAT JUST MADE FOR VEILS

Aside from the turban no hat permits of as simple adjustment of the face veil as the off-the-face type. This hat of black lisse with a navy silk upturned brim is a very pretty frame for a youthful face. Separate leaves are embroidered on it in silver thread. Then a needed finishing touch a pretty, gray, square-meshed veil is added and milady is ready for the street or the motor car.

Profits Helped Build Our Business

Do you think it's right to save money?

Swift & Company's business has been built up partly by selling capital stock for cash and partly by thrifty saving, putting some of our earnings each year back into the business to increase facilities for production.

That is what most all of us seek to do—save part of our earnings for future usefulness.

It is the way American industries have been built up. It means the least drain on the financial resources of the country.

For the past twenty-four years Swift & Company has made an average profit from all sources of 11.3 per cent on investment (capital and surplus), and 2.3 cents on each dollar of sales—a fraction of a cent per pound. Out of this we have paid dividends and saved something to help us keep pace with a growing country.
