

U. S. MINES BUREAU MAKES SUGGESTIONS FOR SAVING OF GAS

In order that the best possible use may be made of the remaining supply of rapidly waning natural gas in this country, the national committee on natural gas conservation, after a series of meetings with the United States bureau of mines, has issued for the guidance of the state utility commissions in which natural gas is used a series of suggestions that if followed may at least reduce the severity of the shortage in different parts of the United States and prolong the supply.

The suggestion as far as they relate to the work of the public utility commission and the consumers of natural gas are in part as follows:

That the state utility commissions of each state in which natural gas is used request every natural gas company in their respective states to submit to them a report on or before October 1, 1920, indicating the extent to which natural gas is supplied for industrial as well as for domestic purposes; stating in detail what rearrangements in operating and financial conditions would be necessary or desirable to enable the companies to conserve their supply of natural gas for domestic use, adding such additional data as the individual company thinks wise to make.

Proper Adjustment.
That where manufactured gas stoves are available for natural gas, that they be used, since by proper adjustment a most satisfactory service will result therefrom.

That the bureau of mines be asked to turn over to this committee all data it may have on the carbon black industry with the view and purpose of helping this committee to determine what part of natural gas is used to manufacture carbon black could be diverted into public utility lines.

That this committee recommends that the state authorities in the natural gas states take immediate steps to eliminate all unnecessary use of flameless lamps.

That this committee recommends that the state authorities in the natural gas states take immediate steps to eliminate all unnecessary use of flameless lamps.

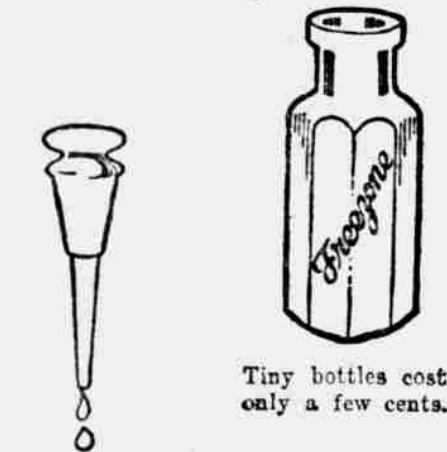

That properly constructed stoves, such as are used for manufactured gas, fitted with open or grid tops and with proper burners set about one and one-quarter inches from bottom of vessel be used, more satisfaction being sure to result therefrom. That the National Gas association of America take action to discourage the use of all stoves for natural gas which do not comply with above recommendations.

For Utility Commissions.
That the public utilities commission in every state where natural gas is used be requested to require every natural gas company within their respective states to formulate and put into effect by October 1, 1920, reasonable rules and regulations for approval by the state public utility commission, requiring that all natural gas must be used in an efficient and economical manner with proper appliances and that on the failure of any patron to comply with such reasonable rules and regulations, within a reasonable time, service to be discontinued until such rules are complied with; and we recommend that in formulating such rules and regulations for the elimination of waste that the various gas companies give careful consideration to the following standards of waste elimination and adopt the same as far as practicable.

Proper adjustment of appliances, resulting in good combustion.
Burners in gas stoves to be not more than one and one-quarter inches from the cooking vessel.
Use only grid tops, or skeleton lids, on cooking stoves.
Discard all heating furnaces having an efficiency of less than seventy-five per cent. This will eliminate practically all coal furnaces and stoves converted for use of gas.

No hot water heater giving an efficiency of less than seventy-five per cent should be used.

Use no tank heaters—heater with burner underneath, without jacketing and a flue connection.

All daylight burning of lamps or gas jets should be prohibited.

NATCO BAND PROGRAM FOR WEDNESDAY NOON ANNOUNCED

The 23 piece Natco band will give its regular concert at the Natco factory building Wednesday noon. The band is composed entirely of musicians employed at the plant. The program follows:

March, "The United States Field Artillery" (Souza); waltz, "Weeping Willow Lane" (Klickmann); march, "General Pershing" (F. E. Barry); overture, "All to the Good" (Mackie Bayer); fox trot, "O-o-h" (Byron Gay); march, "The Stars and Stripes Forever" (Souza).

The word honeymoon originated from the custom of drinking a honey-like wine, or mead.

WAS GROWING DEAF OF HEAD CATARRH

Well known Muncie citizen had catarrh for years. Head and nose stopped up every morning. Had roaring noises in ears.

Claims wonderful relief from taking Dreco, the new remedy, which is doing so much good around here.

"It is wonderful how my catarrh has been relieved since I've been taking Dreco," declared Mr. E. Stickler, who lives at 455 W. Sixth St., Muncie, Ind.

"For a long time I've suffered from this annoying disease. Every morning I'd get up with my head and nose stopped up and it would be some time before I could get them cleared up. My breath was very offensive and the dripping kept me hawking and clearing my throat all the time. I often had roaring noises in my ears which finally got so bad that I felt I was growing deaf."

"My liver was very inactive which frequently gave me dizzy spells and headaches. I often had dull, aching pains in my back, directly over my kidneys. My muscles ached and my joints were sore."

"I have finished a treatment of Dreco and it is truly a wonderful medicine. I never saw anything go right to the spot and bring such instant relief. I believe the first dose helped me. I find every morning that my head is clear as a bell. My nose is no longer filled up. My breath is pure and sweet and the dripping has ceased so that I am not continually clearing my throat. My liver now acts well; no more headaches nor dizziness and my kidneys seem as strong and regular as ever in my life. I hope every one who suffers from catarrh in any form and the complications which go with it will try Dreco, for it will do them good."

Dreco is not an experiment. It is a safe, harmless combination of natural extracts and contains no dangerous minerals, acids or salts. It is Nature's medicine and can be taken with safety into the most delicate system—Dreco is inexpensive and is now dispensed by modern drug stores almost everywhere.

All good druggists now sell Dreco and it is highly recommended in Richmond by Clem Thistlethwaite's Seven Drug Stores.—Advertisement.
