The Republican National convention was in full force at the Westcott Hotel Tuesday afternoon with Senator Lodge, Will Hays and other Republican bright lights present. However the delegation sitting in the convention differed from the one that met one recently held in Chicago in that it was entirely made up of women.

Under the direction of Mrs. W. W. Gaar and Shannon Neff a large number of women assembled at the hotel to gain instruction in practical politics. As a large number of democratic women wish a democratic convention one will no doubt be arranged.

Neff opened the meeting with an explanation of the customary procedure in a national political convention. Mrs. Juliet Swayne Shirk as Will Hays opened the convention after which Mrs. W. W. Gaar as Senator Henry Cabot Lodge was elected permanent chairman. Mrs. Gaar's speech was a take-off in the speech made by the Republican leader in Chicago recently.
