

The Diary of an Engaged Girl

Laura Edmonds came over and visited me this morning—we did a little work and then she went home. She is a regular. At a dance where her knight was a "lion hunter" had in. She arrived quite soon after several still struggling but promptly for a while, I suggested "Laura! From the minute she set give me troussau the once (Man! It was a true case of love (phrase that my ma hates).

Up we trotted, and when once all I always knew that old Mor within my sanctum we were romantic, so his side of the ourselves gracefully on couch I did not surprise me at all. I bed for a long chat. My, how our tongues did fly, and a radical at heart? Men are think that I stood in awe of this slow to see, I find. maid! Why Laura is every bit as open-minded and curious about life as I am! What's more, she is very b me that Jack was a dear but loose some day or other as I would try to over-ride everyone. It's lots of fun discovering this own family. I was glad to be layers of ice we found that even tastes in many directions were of living in a studio and more. That made us feel more ch less in a free and easy way. It is than ever. Laura is an entire ferent sort of a girl when she of her own home. She is an eager and very sparkling and I was amazed.

I showed her my lingerie, already than she—and yet we are both favorites, the cold fluff poor girl, has no hope of ever able to select her own troussau she says she just knows that hates white underwear. He is he is so mad about color. I gathered we hatched up a scheme John J. Harrington has held this both are so fond of and help pick out a private troussau own, that is, if her mother let her buy any of the things wants.

That made Laura very happy. She told me that she was just to taste life and to be free as that she had had a hard time ing herself against the many encouraged to call on her onal convention. The Indiana de- lected her to fall in love witation will thus number 10.

will ask "where are these McAdoo votes you claim?" Then it is up to the McAdoo managers to produce. The anti-McAdoo men say they can not show more than an approximation of the two-thirds required for nomination, and are in a position to check each delegate claim the McAdoo men make.

Can Prove They Are Claims. The anti-McAdoo men are confident that they can disprove enough of the McAdoo figures to make it a certainty they are claims, not certainties, that must be decided by the event.

Assuming that the anti-McAdoo men have the goods, they assert, the question then paramount is "Who is the man?" The answer to that question is not yet decided. Canvasses are being made, conferences held, eligibles scrutinized and discussed, opinions exchanged, and examinations practiced.

All this is based on the inability of either Cox or Palmer to obtain the necessary two thirds of the votes required to nominate. Furthermore, there would be no surety to demonstrate in the convention. Both Cox and Palmer will be allowed to develop their full capacity in votes, and helped to make a showing, if necessary.

Marshall Is Strong. The men most in consideration for unified support after the preliminary trials sets, are Bainbridge Colby, of New York, secretary of state; John W. Davis, of West Virginia, ambassador to Great Britain; Homer Cummings, of Connecticut, chairman of the Democratic national committee, and Thomas R. Marshall, vice president of the United States.

Arguments against all these are sought in order that all weaknesses may be developed. The Davis hand-cap is that he is said to be corporational in his tendencies; not in favor with the radical Irish, because of his present position; and that West Virginia is not really for him, and would much prefer Governor John Cornwell of that state, who nominated Davis in the convention.

The Colby hurdle is that he is too recent a convert to Democracy; which argument has great weight with south ern and other old line delegates. There is doubt whether Cummings, although a remarkable orator, fits in other necessary ways.

Choice Is Limited. However, the choice is somewhat limited, and these are men under chief consideration by the anti-McAdoo managers and their affiliations, which

This Week's Beauty Help

It is not necessary to shampoo your hair so frequently if it is entirely and properly cleaned each time by the use of a really good shampoo. The easiest to use and quickest drying shampoo that we can recommend to our readers is one that brings out all the natural beauty of the hair, and may be enjoyed at very little expense, by dissolving a teaspoonful of canthrox, which can be obtained from any druggist's, in a cup of hot water. This makes a full cup of shampoo liquid, enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just to the top of the head. This, when rubbed into the scalp and onto every strand of hair, chemically dissolves all impurities. It is very soothing and cooling in its action, as well as beneficial to both scalp and hair. After rinsing out the lather so created, you will find the scalp is fresh, clean and free from dandruff, while the hair dries quickly and evenly, developing a bright luster and a soft fluffiness that makes it seem very heavy.

are more extensive than the figures given above may show.

None of these may be taken. One may be, but that is in no sense a prediction, for the anti-McAdoo movement may crumble. Other similar movements have, and some other man than either of these may prove the more available.

The fact that all efforts are centered against McAdoo shows how strong he is. What is written here is a record of the attempt in progress to overcome that strength and defeat him for the nomination.

Diamond Squeegee Tread TIRES

MORE than two million Diamond Tires are in use—now, almost one for every third car in the United States.

The reason that hundreds of thousands of motorists are buying Diamond Tires is because Diamonds are delivering the service.

Small wonder that motorists buy more Diamonds than any other tire not sold to car manufacturers for original equipment.
