Blue Sky Securities

The inventory of the estate of the late Roger C. Sullivan, Democratic leader of Chicago, filed in the probate court of Cook county, shows that a large portion of the state is composed of securities that are far from being as valuable as his friends believed they would be.

He probably took "fliers" in blue sky, as many other unlucky persons do, coming into possession of stocks that either have no value or have depreciated to the point of being virtually without market value.

The inventory of an estate filed here this week revealed a condition infinitely worse, but both instances should serve as fair and conclusive warning to persons who hanker after buying blue sky, fair in promises, but illusive as the air itself.

Wayne county has been for many years a fertile field for the operation of stock promoters. They have taken out of this community millions of dollars that might have been earning comfortable dividends if they had been invested conservatively and safely.

THE BOYS WORTH WATCHING

He's the one who—
—always tries to do his best, who never thinks or says: "O well, I can just do this any old way, for no one will notice it."

He's the one who—
—is always thoughtful and courteous to other people, especially to those with whom he daily works and plays, and to those whom age has wrapped its gentle mantle about.

He's the one who—
—cares more about learning than earning, and who saves a portion of all that he earns—no matter how little.

He's the one who—
—greatly values time and is therefore prompt to his work, and not afraid to work overtime. He is not a clock-watcher.

He's the one who—
—is neat and clean in his personal appearance and who takes pride in keeping things about him, with which he has concern in the same manner.

He's the one who—
—loves wholesome sports and is an athlete, and who is always game to the core. Such a man will glory in his body, when a man, because he will be strong. He will not fear to take chances or to take the lead when other step back.

He's the one who—
—has learned that to tell the truth is the only safe way to big goals. He will not cover up mistakes, but acknowledges them and goes right ahead—sorry, but determined to keep ahead of them.

He's the one who—
—wants to BE SOMEBODY in the world!

COULDN'T DOUBLE

Suffered great pains from rheumatism of the joints.
His muscles were sore and Claims great relief since taking Drexco, the great herbal remedy.

When the kidneys become weak or deranged it is impossible for them to separate the poisons from the blood as it passes through these organs; the kidneys are the filtering plant for the body; as the blood goes through, they strain out the poisons and pass them from the system. If these poisons stay in the blood, such troubles as rheumatism, catarrh, sallow skin, dizziness, headaches, etc., show up. The body requires a full supply of pure, rich red blood, free from poisons, to keep it in a healthy condition. Drexco acts on the kidneys, keeping them strong to purify our blood supply.

"The greatest relief I've known in years is since I took Drexco," said Mr. Lester S. Gayer, a highly respected employee of the Starr Piano Co., Richmond, Ind.

"I've been full of rheumatism, aching joints, and sore muscles for a long time."

"My hands were so sore I couldn't double up my fists; I couldn't bend over without having terrible pains in my back."

"I've taken so much medicine that my stomach was all out of order. My food didn't digest and I got nervous and weak, but I'm feeling great once more, for I've never seen anything take hold like Drexco did. It simply knocked out my troubles and put me on my feet again."

All good druggists now sell Drexco, and it is highly recommended in Richmond by Clem Thistleton's seven drug stores.—Advertisement.

A Richmond attorney recently made inquiry of a professional friend in Oklahoma regarding a prospective investment in oil stocks in that state. Here is the answer he received from a man who is on the ground and able to judge impartially and wisely: "If you have money to invest in oil stocks, spend it on your family, or buy Liberty bonds."

This advice may be applied with profit to any investment in an untried and highly speculative venture.

Economy

The prospect that increased valuations of corporations, coupled with increased assessments on personal property, will bring the total assessed valuation of property in Richmond far beyond the expected figure, thus enabling the city and the school city of Richmond to keep the rate where it is, does not remove the necessity of administering the city's affairs as economically as possible.

America is in an orgy of spending that seems to have no limitation. Money is squandered right and left, without any apparent concern of the future or of the day when times will be hard and money scarce. Richmond as a municipality has been trying to live within its income, but the first effort to indulge in an unnecessary expenditure should be blocked emphatically and decisively.

If the present prospect points to sufficient money for the city, without raising the tax rate, citizens should be glad that the burden of additional taxation has been obviated and not begin at once to suggest proposals to increase the city's expenditures.

Cut short in the midst of a tender good-night to his best boy by his horse running away, Verlin Poland, living north of Centerville, dashed wildly after the animal and followed it in a 50-foot plunge down the cliff on the western bank of Whitewater. Neither the horse nor man was injured, but the buggy was a heap of splinters.

INDIAN'S SECRET OF HAIR GROWTH

On legal affidavit, John Hart Brittain, business man, certified to this: "My head at the top and back was absolutely bald. The scalp was shiny. An expert said that he thought the hair roots were extinct and there was no hope of my ever having a new hair growth. I was never over as an age of 60, I have a luxuriant growth of soft, strong, lasting hair. The secret of baldness is to use KOTALKO. Here are from my photographs. Mr. Brittain certified further:

KOTALKO'S SECRET OF HAIR GROWTH

"At a time when I had become disengaged at trying various hair lotions, tonics, specialists' treatments, etc., I came across, in my travels, a Cherokee Indian 'medicine man' who had an elixir that he ascertained would grow my hair. Although I had no faith in it, I took it. After a few days of amazement a light fuzz soon appeared. It developed, day by day, into a healthy growth, and as long my hair was as profuse as in my youth."

That I was astonished and happy & expressing my state of mind mildly.

Obviously, the hair roots had not been dead, but were dormant in the scalp, awaiting the fertilizing potency of the mysterious pomade.

I purchased the pomade, and came into possession of the principles for preparing the mysterious elixir of KOTALKO, and later had the recipe put into practical form by a chemist.

That my own hair growth was permanent has been amply proved."

How YOU May GROW YOUR Hair

It has been proved in very many cases that hair roots did not die even when the hair fell out through dandruff, fever, or other disease or certain other causes.

A. D. Otto reports: "About 8 years ago my hair began to fall out until my scalp in spots was almost entirely bald, over which I had a terrible amazement a light fuzz soon appeared. It developed, day by day, into a healthy growth, and as long my hair was as profuse as in my youth."
