

SYSTEM OF INDUSTRY IS BLAMED FOR WORLD ILLS BY REV. JONES

"Despite the high wages paid some workers, generally, working men are still not receiving what they are entitled to get. Their needs are just as acute as ever and the pay is still inadequate," asserted Ex-Bishop Paul Jones, secretary of the Fellowship of Reconciliation, at an outdoor lecture and forum held at 10:45 Thursday, as a feature of the Young Friends' conference. His lecture might be titled "The Competitive System vs. the Cooperative System," as he compared the two to the disadvantage of the former. He said the present system of competition was what had caused the worker to lose his personality, that he had to be dependent upon the whims of the owner of his working place.

Errol Peckham will conduct the outdoor forum Friday morning, on "How Can Any Given Church Serve the Community Best?" William G. Simpson will speak Friday night on "The Price of the Kingdom."

"Love is the greatest power in the world, not money. Not until men realize this and the capitalist takes his Christianity into his business and makes the golden rule its cornerstone, will the proper relations be established between labor and capital," declared William G. Simpson, lecturer on economic and industrial affairs, at the Young Friends' conference at Earlham, Wednesday night.

WORKED AS LABORER TO LEARN

Mr. Simpson gave the conference many such assertions drawn from his experience as a day laborer, for about a year, working in numerous kinds of positions of manual toil.

"Capital has built up a tremendous power in this country and as a result we see about us a condition of industrial slavery, as bad in its moral effects and in many other ways as the slavery in which the negro was held. In view of the stand which the Society of Friends took against chattel slavery I do not see how we can do otherwise than condemn and oppose this slavery as we did the other. The issue today is against the power exerted by capital in crushing down the lives of men. We must ally ourselves with the underdog and must be absolutely uncompromising with the capitalist system."

CITY TO BUY 25,000 TONS OF EGG COAL

The board of works received the report of the appraisement committee as to the value of the direct current machinery stored at the light plant. This committee is composed of William Bailey, Howard Ridge and Lawrence Handley.

Sues Alfred Underhill To Recover Money Paid

Suit to recover $200 damages for fraud was filed in Wayne circuit court Thursday by Louie Ach against Ruth B. Underhill and Alfred C. Underhill. It is alleged that Alfred Underhill, acting as the agent of Ruth Underhill, represented that a lot in the Highland addition to Richmond belonged to Mrs. Underhill and that Ach agreed to purchase it for $500 and that he made a first payment of $100. It is stated in the complaint that after he made the initial payment on the property Ach discovered that Mrs. Underhill did not own the property. It is alleged that his demands for the return of the $100 he paid on the lot have been ignored.

Demands $400 Damages For Personal Injuries

As a result of an automobile accident which occurred on the National road between Dublin and Cambridge City, June 4, a suit for damages, in the amount of $400, has been filed by Merle Woolford by her father, Charles T. Woolford, against John Harvey Carr and his mother, Mrs. Sarah E. Carr.
