

THREE O'DELL BOYS FREE UNDER A BOND; LARCENY CHARGED

EATON, O., July 12.—Roy O'Dell, 21, charged with burglary and larceny, was released Monday from the county jail under $800 bond until the next grand jury convenes, which will be in October.

The bond was furnished by his father, F. W. O'Dell, local farmer. O'Dell had been in jail several days, following his arrest in Hamilton. While in jail he was arraigned in juvenile court on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of 14-year-old girl. He pleaded guilty. The delinquency case was of 18 months standing.

O'Dell's arrest on the burglary and larceny charge followed a burglary of the H. McNeal & Son grocery, here. His brother, Frank O'Dell, 18, arrested in connection with the burglary, was released under $500 bond signed by his father.

A cousin of the O'Dells, Walter O'Dell, 20, living near Camden, is also at liberty under $500 bond, following his arrest in connection with the burglary. His bond was signed by his father, John O'Dell.

Ask Partition of Land.
Partition of 100 acres of land in Gratis township and a lot in West Elkhart is sought in a suit filed in common pleas court by Grace G. Burd against her husband, Frank A. Burd, and others.

Party defendants to the suit are the Preble County National bank of Eaton, William Liebold, George Brumbaugh, George W. Smith and the Camden Loan and Building association, who, the plaintiff avers, claims some interest in the realty. The bank and Brumbaugh recently sued Burd on notes aggregating $1,700, the bank obtaining a writ of attachment. It is alleged Burd's whereabouts is unknown.

Married at 14; Divorced

MISS MARLATT SAYS SHE'S TO RETURN HERE NEXT YEAR
Miss Edna Marlatt will not accept a position offered her in Indianapolis by the school board of that city, as was announced Monday, but will return to Richmond to continue her work in the city schools.

KEEP UP TO THE MARK.
Good health is impossible when the kidneys are weak, overworked or diseased. When they fail to filter out of the blood the poisons and impurities that cause sore, swollen muscles and joints, backache or rheumatic pains, prompt steps should be taken to give the kidneys and bladder the help these symptoms indicate they need. James Carmichael, Mayfield, Ky., writes: "I am in good shape and can say I found Foley Kidney Pills certainly fine. I can't say enough for them." For sale by A. G. BEE STING HORSE TO DEATH; KEEP 12 WOMEN PRISONERS

LAFAYETTE, Ind., July 13. Thousands of angry bees attacked and stung a horse to death at the home of Nelson Carter, at Shawnee Mound, south of here.

A dozen women were kept prisoners in the Carter dwelling for three hours.

The women had assembled from miles around for a meeting of the home and foreign missionaries societies of the Shawnee Mound Methodist Episcopal church. Mrs. Jesse Hawthorne and Mrs. Ray Hawthorne made the trip to the Carter home in a buggy drawn by a valuable horse owned by the former. They hitched the horse to a tree near some bee hives, paying no attention to the few bees that were flying about.

Women Cry for Help.

Soon, however the number of bees about them increased. The horse was stung and attempted to bolt, but was held fast by the hitch strap. Then more bees appeared and the women cried for help. The animal was soon literally covered with the insects. Attempts were made to unhitch the horse, but the bees attacked every one who approached. The horse leaped into one of the bee hives, fell to the ground and tried to roll and stamp the bees away. But they swarmed about him more thickly than ever.

A veterinarian was called and he built bonfires in an effort to smoke the bees out. The horse died in a few minutes. The animal's body was nearly half again its normal size by the time he died.

Several of the women and men as well, who were called to assist them, were stung by the bees and required medical treatment. The Rev. J. W. Evers, pastor of the church, was badly stung. He was stung 12 times on the head and neck and was in bed several days.

After the bees had killed the horse, the women fled into the house. The bees swarmed about the place and covered the sides of the building. It was evening before the women could emerge with safety and return to their homes.
