

SANDCREEK FRIENDS TO HAVE CENTENARY; EDWARDS TO PREACH

COLUMBUS, Ind., July 16.—Special centenary services in celebration of the 100th anniversary of the founding of the Sandcreek Friends church near here will be held next Sunday.

David M. Edwards, president of Earlham college, will deliver the anniversary sermon.

Included in the program for the day is an historical pageant, in which the men and women members of the church will worship separately, as in the old Quaker days, with their hats on except when preaching or praying. Another feature of the pageant will be a Quaker wedding representing the time when no civil license was required, but instead the license was granted by the church.

The ceremony will be the same as was used for the wedding of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Hall, charter members of the church, and a young couple of the church will represent the principals at the wedding.

Old Scenes to Be Reproduced. The pageant will also include reproductions of scenes and incidents of the "underground railroad" on which a number of Quakers homes were stations and at which fugitive slaves were given seclusion, food and shelter and sent on their way farther north prior to and in the first years of the civil war.

A scene to be reproduced will be one enacted at the home of John Hall, when owners of runaway slaves came to the home, and explaining that they suspected some of their slaves were being harbored in the home, demanded permission to search. Hall replied: "I want thee to understand that these cannot search my home unless thou hast a warrant," whereupon the slave owners announced that they would get a warrant and went away.

Transferred During Interval. As it so happened runaway slaves were secreted in the home at the time, but while their owners were gone for a warrant they were transferred to another "station" and were never recaptured.

When the church was organized a log structure was built for the worshippers and at about the same time a log schoolhouse was built near the church. A seminary that later gained much educational prominence for those times was established.

The late Willis Newsom of Sand Creek township was one of the founders and charter members of the church, and his son, the Rev. David T. Newsom, who is 83 years old, still preaches at the church.

WASHINGTON.

Frequently when a scene on the screen is pictured where an actor takes hazardous chances, the wise ones will tell you a "dummy" or "double" is being used. As a matter of fact, the better actors never fake, and consider it a point of honor to go through the dangerous scenes themselves. This was illustrated forcibly during the screening of "In Mizzoura," the new Paramount-Artcraft picture, starring Robert Warwick, which is showing at the Washington Friday and Saturday.

Hugh Ford, the director went to Robert Cain, the "heavy," and told him a break-neck horse-back ride was scheduled, in which Cain was to be pursued by Major Warwick, and knocked headlong from the saddle. Mr. Ford offered to have an "extra" double for Cain in the scene.

"Not by a jug nill," said the actor. The ride was undertaken and came out successfully, except that Major Warwick gave the plucky Cain a beautiful black eye and knocked him into a clump of prickly shrub. But Cain was satisfied, if not exactly happy.

MURRETTE. Tom Mix, in all his daring career on and off the screen, has done few more dangerous things than the jump he made from a bridge to a window in filming one of the episodes of "Desert Love," the Fox picture, scheduled for the last half of the week at the Murrette theatre.

The story required Tom Mix to fall Careless Shampooing Spoils the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is Mut-sified coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mut-sified coconut oil shampoo at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.—Advertisement.

PERSHING GIVEN JEWELLED SWORD

General Pershing receiving the sword from Ambassador Geddes.

The British ambassador to the United States, Sir Auckland Geddes, recently presented to Gen. Pershing a magnificent sword, jeweled, chased and engraved in commemoration of the splendid services rendered during the war by General Pershing and the men who fought under him. The sword was a gift from the corporation and city of London, delayed until London's jewellers could be released from their military tasks long enough to fashion the gift with all possible care.

As a member of the Daly company Miss Prince became well known in England as well as this country, and is one of the few actresses who has had the distinction of having played in English on the French stage. Her permanent home, at Delaware Water Gap, Pa., contains the finest collection of Booth memorabilia extant. Miss Prince, who is now playing in "Adam and Eve" at the Longacre theatre, New York, says that she will probably will the Booth collection to the Actors' Fund of America.

Although Miss Prince is making her first screen appearance in "Captain Swift," she has been given an exceedingly important role. Her work as Lady Seabrook is of the highest order.

MURRAY VAUDEVILLE. Headlining the vaudeville bill at the Murray theatre the last half of the week is Marion Munsen and company, in the playlet, "The Ten Dollar Bill."

Miss Munsen is known as one of the best artists on the vaudeville stage in her ability to make quick changes of costumes and to portray characters of widely different types.

In "The Ten Dollar Bill," the 10 female parts are all taken by Miss Munsen, who appears as Mary Kelly, the secret service detective, a street wait, a French maid, a female crook

INDIANA REFORMATORY BECOMES SELF-SUSTAINING JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., July 16.—The steady increase of earnings at the Indiana reformatory under the direction of G. A. H. Shideler, general superintendent, has brought the institution to a self-sustaining basis for the first time in its history. For the month of June the net earnings will run more than $1,000, although the exact amount has not been determined. This means that receipts exceed all shop costs, maintenance, administration and repairs; everything, in fact, except cost of permanent improvements.

UNEARTH BIG SUPPLY OF ILLICIT LIQUOR LAFAYETTE, Ind., July 16.—The largest supply of illicit liquor ever found in Tippecanoe county, was unearthed in a search conducted today by Sheriff William W. Weinhardt and Superintendent of Police William G. Scherer. Hidden among the hills and ravines of Sugar creek, in the northeast part of the county, the officers found a still house containing reels of raisin mash and 27 cases of raisins used in the manufacture of moonshine. The barrels contained 52 gallons each, or 728 gallons in all.
