

LAKE VISITORS MUST HAVE FISHING PERMIT TO ESCAPE ARREST

At this season of the year thousands of persons from all parts of the state are visiting northern Indiana lakes on vacations and for recreation. Nearly all indulge in fishing. State laws require persons fishing outside their own or adjacent county to possess a resident hunting and fishing license.

That this law will be rigidly enforced is evidenced in an order to state wardens from Richard Lieber, director of conservation in Indiana and chief of the warden service, which reads: "Any person found hunting or fishing shall show his license to you or your men upon request or be arrested for failure."

George N. Mannfeld, chief of the division of fish and game advises persons contemplating fishing trips to procure license before leaving home.

The law reads that county clerks shall handle resident hunting and fishing licenses. Some clerks hesitate to "farm out" licenses because they are held responsible and must report all sales to the department each month. Frequently a lake visitor neglects to purchase a license and on arrival at the water resort is confronted with the alternative of writing home to the county clerk or writing or going to the clerk of the county wherein he wishes to fish. Often this entails delay and considerable expense, but is the only way to avoid unpleasant contact with wardens.

It is pointed out by Mr. Mannfeld that the Indiana fish and game laws make no distinction as to sex. Women 18 years old or older must have a license. However, the law permits a wife to hunt or fish on her husband's license. This is also true in case of children providing said children are not over 18 years old.

Harry M. Daugherty

Associated with Will Hays, chairman of the Republican national committee, in the management of the campaign of Senator Warren G. Harding, Republican candidate for president, is Harry M. Daugherty, who has been one of the leading Republicans in Ohio for many years.

HARRY DAUGHERTY

Mr. Daugherty was born at Washington Court House, Ohio, in January, 1860. He was educated in the public grammar and high schools there and later attended the University of Michigan, graduating from the law department of that institution. Until 1893 Mr. Daugherty practiced law in Washington Court House. Later, in Columbus, Ohio, in 1898, he organized the law firm of Daugherty, Todd & Raroy. From 1888 to 1893 he was a member of the Ohio general assembly and for two terms he served as chairman of the Republican state central committee. He was chairman of the Republican state executive committee from 1898 to 1912 and was a delegate to the Republican national conventions in 1904, 1908 and 1912. In the last two he was a member of the credentials committee.

Mr. Daugherty went to the convention in Chicago this year as manager for Senator Harding, and to him goes much credit for the fact that the Ohio senator was successful. He entered the primaries this year seeking election as a delegate to Chicago. He was beaten, although pledged to support Senator Harding, who was destined to

THE GOSSIP! The good old times, when a visitor sometimes related more than she knew; when life was full of gusto; when a cup o' tea was a cup o' cheer; when a bit of small talk seemed large, and a little part of the world seemed the universe.

Home cooking! It's hard to beat. Yet you know there are expert chefs today whose cooking excels at least some home cooking.

Home-baked bread used to be the best. The salvation of the baker depended on his improving on home baking. It requires years of application, but today the strictly up-to-date baker makes a bread which challenges comparison with the best home made loaf.

Betsy Ross Bread is the finest product of one of this country's most modern and up-to-date bakeries. It is processed by spotless machinery, practically without contact of hands, and is baked in huge and automatically regulated ovens by expert, white-clad bakers. Bread can't be made that's better than Betsy Ross.

Besides, it's a large loaf, and everybody knows that bread baked in large loaves is better than in small loaves.
