Cincinnati Official Has No News of Force Reduction

R. C. Barnard, superintendent of the Pennsylvania railroad at Cincinnati, said he has no official information indicating executive officials of the road contemplate laying off any employees on this part of the lines, as was done on the Pennsylvania lines east.

It generally is believed in railroad circles, however, the Pennsylvania's action is the first step in a general plan to reduce forces on all lines of the Pennsylvania system.

KEEP UP TO THE MARK

Good health is impossible when the kidneys are weak, overworked or diseased. When they fail to filter out of the blood the impurities and poisons that cause sore, swollen muscles and joints, backache, or rheumatic pains, prompt steps should be taken to give the kidneys and bladder the help these symptoms indicate. Dr. James G. Green, M. D., of Lexington, Ky., writes: "I am in good shape and can say I found Foley Kidney Pills certainly fine. I can't say enough for them." For sale by A. G. New Revelations Are Being Made

It is not an uncommon thing for a person to listen to a record reproduced on the Starr Phonograph and then remark, "What a difference there is between the tone of the Starr and that of other makes of machine I have heard." And following it up with this question, "Why is it that the Starr sounds so natural?" The answer is this: Fifty years of experience in the manufacture of musical instruments enabled us to design and construct a Phonograph from such materials as would make it a real musical instrument. When you buy a Phonograph you are apt to buy a cabinet less the tone. When you buy a Starr, you buy both.

Is it any wonder then, that we advise you in all sincerity to—

"You Must Be Satisfied"

THE COURTSHIP. The golden days of a generation ago, when the world was truly at the spring and life brimmed with health and happiness; when cupid tipped his arrow with a smile; when there was no sound but of music, no voice but of love.

Use bread in big loaves. It means economy for you, for the baker, for an impoverished world. The reasons are simple and easily understood:

First, large loaves in the making require less handling, less fuel, fewer pans, less wrapping paper. Second, they have less crust in proportion, and most bread wastage is crust wastage. Third, big loaves bake to a closer texture and thus hold moisture better and remain fresh a long time. You'll find Betsy Ross Bread, which we make only in the large size, highest quality and of finest flavor. It's good to the last crumb.
