Elisabeth Marbury

Besides acting as representative of many authors and playwrights of America and Europe, Miss Elisabeth Marbury has found time herself to contribute to various magazines, to become a successful producer, to win recognition as a war worker and to become an outstanding figure among women who are making themselves known in the field of politics. She is a native New Yorker and a Democrat.

She attended the recent national convention of her party in San Francisco as a delegate-at-large from New York state. Miss Marbury was twice decorated by the French government.

During the war she was an active worker in all of the Catholic charities. She also served as president of the women's national committee of the American Defence Society and chairman of the county committee of the League to Enforce Peace.

Despite some opposition by up-state women Democrats to the selection of Miss Marbury as delegate to the national convention, on the ground that she would be a Murphy delegate, Miss Marbury went to San Francisco, as she said, with an open mind.

"How's the delegate-at-large?" asked a newspaper man who came upon her lunching on pie and sausages in a San Francisco restaurant.

"The large delegate from New York," replied Miss Marbury, "is feeling like a two-year-old and is principally interested in making sure that her chair in the convention hall is on solid ground. The platform is infinitely more important than the man."

Miss Marbury added that she didn't mind telling anyone that she favored the restoration of light wines and beer, and that she wouldn't trade her "job as delegate-at-large" for $10,000.

CAMBRIDGE CITY, Ind.—The local chautauqua committee desires to announce July 28, 29, 30 as the dates upon which the Radcliffe chautauqua will be given at this place and every body is urged to make arrangements to attend as many of the sessions as possible. The chautauqua bureau at Washington has informed the committee that the programs this year will be of an unusually high grade, and that a number of splendid speakers and entertainers will be sent here. A small folder is being distributed over town bearing an explanation of the program to be given, and it has evidently been prepared to meet the needs of the present. Each of the lectures will deal with some phase of Americanization, and some good speakers have been promised us.

The chautauqua director will be G. F. Bassweiler of Pennsylvania, and in addition to his being in charge of the program, he will speak on the second day. The other lecturers and the entertainers expected here are: Prof. E. Marlon Rucker of South Carolina. Chair of constitutional law, University of South Carolina. Legislator and lecturer. Dr. Henry T. Colestock, of Pennsylv-vania. Chair of history, Bucknell university. Author and lecturer.

Lenzo's Neapolitan Orchestral Quartet. A singing and instrumental organization with violin, cornet, trombone and piano.

The Hazel Knox company. An organization with vocal and instrumental combination, featuring vocal, violin and piano solos, in addition to dramatic readings.

Americans All. A detachment from Camp Upton Recruit Educational Center, with an intensely interesting patriotic program.

Miss Jessie Southwick, Junior story teller and organizer of Young America club.

The price of an adult season ticket to the chautauqua is $1.50 and a child's season ticket $1. All money taken in from the sale of the tickets belongs to the local committee. Encourage and help make this chautauqua a success by buying tickets early.
