

CHAUTAUQUA IS NOT SURE FOR EATON NEXT YEAR; SALE IS SHORT

EATON, O., Aug. 2.—It has not been definitely determined whether or not Eaton will have a chautauqua next season, following the eighth annual meeting which closed Sunday evening. The necessary number of pledges for season tickets to insure a chautauqua next season was not secured, the local chautauqua committee states.

What action in the matter the committee will take has not been determined. In the drive to sell 700 season tickets at $2.50 each for next year about half the number was subscribed for, states the committee.

However, the committee has been enlarged and has reorganized by electing W. E. Reel, chairman, and Mrs. Mary Brooke, secretary and treasurer. Five women have been added to the committee, along with ten men. The old committee was made up of W. E. Reel, C. B. Coker, Prof. John O'Leary, J. E. Parker, L. L. Brown, Father J. M. Hyland, G. L. Hoover, W. O. Gross, A. J. Hiestand, C. C. Spring, George W. Longnecker.

Those added to the committee are: Rev. Charles F. Irwin, John M. Gale, Judge A. C. Risinger, Judge Elam Fisher, Dr. A. Lovett, Dr. G. W. Flory, Frank Mitchell, Ralph C. Wood, D. L. Watters, Charles Frech, Mrs. Mary Brooke, Mrs. E. E. Welsh, Mrs. L. R. Pryor, Mrs. J. E. Parker, Mrs. W. E. Highland.

Dr. Robert MacGowan lectured Sunday afternoon at the chautauqua and Ethel Hinton and her "College Gang" provided entertainment appropriate to the day. The evening program, which marked the close of the chautauqua, which opened the preceding Monday afternoon, included a union vesper service conducted by the several local churches, a lecture-sermon by Dr. Evans, noted minister of Pittsburgh, Pa., and a children's pageant.

At the vesper service Rev. Charles F. Irwin, Presbyterian church, preached and Rev. J. E. Yingling, United Brethren church, conducted the singing. Rev. A. J. Bussard, Methodist church, presided. Upward of 100 children participated in the pageant. They were members of the children's hour club of the chautauqua.

The week's meeting is regarded generally as having been quite successful in point of entertainment. The committee broke about even in a financial way, members state.

SENATORS PREDICT THRIFT CAMPAIGN

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, August 2.—Presidential campaigns this year are going to be run on a thrift basis, in the opinion of several members of the senate committee which has been investigating pre-convention expenditures of the various candidates who sought nomination by one or the other of the major parties.

Senators Kenyon (Republican), of Iowa, Reed (Democrat), of Missouri, and Spencer (Republican), of Missouri, all declare that the campaigns this year will be conducted with more care and consideration for the financial end than ever before.

The chairman of the senate investigating committee, Mr. Kenyon, said the pre-convention disclosures made through the committee and the fact that it was instructed by congress also to investigate presidential campaigns, will make the political managers careful of their expenditures, and no disbursement which might cause unfavorable comment, even from opponents, will be made. "I don't mean to say that anyone is afraid of the committee," said Senator Kenyon, "but the politicians realize that their expenditures are going to be scrutinized carefully, and consequently they are going to cut out many of the usual items."

Senator Reed said economy would be forced on the political directors because they would not have so many large subscriptions as heretofore. "Big business doesn't like to be publicly mixed in politics, and many of the customary large subscriptions will be cut down," he added.

Senator Spencer also expressed belief that there would be considerable thrift in the campaigns, but declared it would never go so far "as to eliminate the usual trumpet blare." "There is no question, however, that the campaigns this year are going to be handled on a very careful financial basis," he said.

QUAKERS ARRIVING FOR WORLD MEETING, WRITES MISS FETTA

By EMMA L. FETTA
CHERBOURG, France, July 19.—Quakers from all parts of the United States, Great Britain, and even remote missionary stations, are arriving in England preparatory to the opening session, Aug. 13, of the All World conference in London.

Delegates from Indiana landing from the S. S. Philadelphia at South Hampton this afternoon, were Dr. W. C. Woodward, of Richmond, editor of the American Friend; Professor Harlow Lindley of Richmond, head of the history department of Earlham college, and Mark Mills, of West Newton.

Miss Marcia Furnas, of Indianapolis, head of the circulation department of the Indianapolis public library; Miss Wilma Reeve of the children's department of the Indianapolis library; Miss Lilith Farlow, teacher of English in the Kokomo high school, and Miss Mary Baldwin, of Westfield, Ind., departed this morning at Cherbourg. They intend to visit the battle fields, Paris and other places of interest before crossing the channel.

Americans to Tour England.
Many of the American delegates who have so far arrived to represent the 14 Yearly Meetings of the United States will tour the British Isles before the conference convenes.

Following the conference, a large party of delegates will tour the battle fields and sites of late Quaker relief efforts, under direction of the American Friends' service committee.

Ancestral acres will be visited by numerous members of the Friends' delegation. Prof. Lindley will spend several days in Yorkshire, the county seat of his ancestors. Prof. Lindley will also do some special historical reference work in the University of London.

This privilege was gained through his friendship with Dr. Newton, of that institution, who addressed various Indiana educational institutions last winter on international questions. He spoke to a crowded auditorium at Earlham.

Dr. Woodward is preparing an address on the "American Commission" which he will deliver on the second day of the conference. Commissions on the needs of the present and future and means for caring for those needs adequately have been drawn up by both the British and American societies of Friends. They form the basis of discussion for the conference.
