

124TH INDIANA TO MAKE CENTERVILLE MECCA, SEPT. 28, 29

The 44th annual reunion of the 124th Indiana volunteer infantry will be held at Centerville, Sept. 28 and 29.

In his invitation to the veterans, President William Mathews, of Centerville, says:

"These dates have been set apart by the good citizens of Centerville for the boys of the 124th to hold their 44th reunion. Those who have attended our reunions held here in years past will need no urging to be present, but those who have disregarded orders in years past, in order to know the real pleasure they have missed should avail themselves of this opportunity of once more touching elbows with the comrades of the sixties.

Home of Oliver Morton.

"This the home of our War Governor, O. P. Morton, is always ready to welcome the boys and if you miss this opportunity you may never again be privileged to meet some of our comrades who may have come from quite a distance expecting to meet you there, do not disappoint them."

Field and staff officers are: Serg. Maj. C. W. Orr, of Piqua, Ohio, and Com. Serg. John F. Lancaster, of Richmond.

The reunion officers are: President, William Mathews and First vice president, Jacob Tibbets, of Centerville; Second Vice President, John Stephenson, of Richmond; Treasurer, Olynthus Cox, and Secretary George Coats, of Winchester; and Corresponding Secretary, J. M. Hamilton, of Lyan.

SAGE TEA DANDY TO DARKEN HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair.

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost overnight if you'll get a bottle of Wyeit's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old famous Sage Tea Recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, are sold annually, says a well-known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray or becoming faded have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeit's Sage and Sulphur Compound tonight and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.—Advertisement.

MISS HENKE TELLS STORY OF FRIENDS' LONDON CONFERENCE

By MARY HENKE

LONDON, Aug. 16.—The relation of Quaker principles to civic and international affairs was discussed by Dr. Walter Woodward, of Richmond, Ind., editor of The American Friend, at the world conference of Friends here. The conference called to consider the future attitude of the Friends toward peace opened at Devonshire house, the headquarters of the English Society of Friends, on Friday.

"The present form of government," said Dr. Woodward, "is as wrong as it is archaic." Change and reformation, however, he declared, should be accomplished by paths already laid and not by revolutionary action. He urged the Friends never to abandon their high principles, even though they might seem antagonistic to the prevailing views.

Dr. Rufus Jones of Haverford, delivered the Swarthmore lecture on Thursday night.

Russian War Causes Split.

An effort was made in the conference Friday to send a resolution of approval to the labor union convention called to express opposition to war with Russia. American Friends opposed the idea on the grounds that it would be interference with English political affairs and the resolution was finally lost in a committee.

The league of nations came up for discussion Saturday. Argument for and against support of the covenant came chiefly from the British Friends, who seemed equally divided in opinions. Dr. Nitobe of Japan, a secretary of the league of nations, spoke in defense of the plan, admitting that the covenant was full of defects but that it was an instrument through which world betterment might be effected.

The race problem also was brought before the conference as one of the difficulties confronting reconstruction. Friends from Japan, Jamaica, the United States and South Africa were among those who took part in the discussion.

No World Conference.

No definite statement has been effected so far regarding the Quaker attitude toward present international difficulties, and it is going to be hard to reconcile the socially radical element on the one side and the conservative and more purely religious element on the other. Among many Friends the feeling prevails that the church as a religious body should have no part in social and political questions, while another group, especially among the English Friends, would unite the society with organs of the reform movements.

Indiana has about 25 representatives at the conference, and Richmond has a good share of these. Among the Richmond people who have been attending the conference are Dr. Walter Woodward, Dr. Harlow Lindley, Dr. Alexander Purdy, Sylvester Jones, Clarence Pickett, Emma Fetta and Ralph Nicholson. Philip Furness, former instructor at Earlham college, who has just returned from a year's service with a Friends' unit in Serbia, is attending the conference and enjoying a reunion with his brother and sister, Paul and Marcia Furness of Indianapolis.

Our Most Efficient Industry

Earlham College Is Wayne County's Most Efficient Industry.

Last year 225 students living in Wayne County were enrolled in Earlham College.

It cost the college over $45,000 in cash to educate these 225 young people. They paid in fees and tuition only a little over $20,000.

Earlham College gave, therefore, to the young men and young women of Wayne County a cash gift of about $25,000, and has been doing this in proportion to attendance for more than 70 years.

During its history Earlham College has given in FREE EDUCATION over $500,000 to Wayne County young people—that is, it has given that much more than it has received in fees or tuition from them.

The $500,000 now asked for will be placed on interest so as to insure the continuation of these splendid opportunities to our own young people.

The College Cannot Continue to Operate at a Loss. No Enterprise Can.

If the $500,000 is not forthcoming the college will be obliged to cut its activities to the point where income will always be sufficient to meet expenses. In other words, some of the young people of Wayne County will be deprived of their chances to get a college education.

Your Opportunity is Here. Your Duty is Clear.

and Wayne County*
