

EIGHT FAMOUS ARTISTS PLEASE WITH MIRTH AND MELODY CONCERT

Melody, mirth, harmony, jazz! All of these were combined in the concert and entertainment given by the Eight Famous Artists at the Coliseum Monday evening. It was a happy idea of Walter B. Fulghum to bring to Richmond these celebrated lighters of care and annihilators of grouch and present them to the 2,500 people who packed the Coliseum to capacity.

All of the men appearing on the program were artists and each excelled in his particular line of music. No one could be said to have been the star or the headliner, as each number was met with tumultuous applause by the audience, necessitating an encore after each number.

Give Many Encores.
The artists were accommodating and good-natured, responding freely with encores which kept the enthusiasm of the audience high during the two hours of entertainment.

Billy Murray, considered the world's greatest comedian, tenor, was stage manager of the company and introduced them with characteristic phrases and jokes. His singing of the popular "jazz" pieces was one of the big features of the evening.

Frank Banta, pianist, and Fred Van Eps, banjoist, demonstrated their ability to charm an audience with their synchopating instruments. Both of these players executed many difficult movements with the ease characteristic of the true artist.

Henry Burr, possessed of a lyric tenor of exceptional sweetness, sang "Blue Diamonds" and some of the ballads made famous by John McCormack, in such style as to arouse storms of applause; John Meyers and Frank Croxon, baritone and bass, made delightful harmonies in duet; Albert Campbell, also a tenor, sang incredibly high tones with ease and clearness.

Monroe Silver, with his fund of Cohen stories and songs, furnished more than his share of fun and entertainment. With these there were combinations of duets, trios, quartets and ensemble which furnished every member of the audience a full evening of varied entertainment.

WEST MANCHESTER, O.—Mrs. J. B. Trone, 64 years old, died suddenly Friday, at her home in West Manchester, of apoplexy, after a short illness. She is survived by her husband. She was a faithful and devoted wife and a willing and untiring worker in the church and Sunday school and leaves many friends who will miss her presence there. Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at two o'clock at the Christian church by the Rev. H. C. Crampton of Mt. Sterling, O. Burial was made at Twin Chapel cemetery.

An interesting business meeting was held on Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Charles Brown by the Woman's Bible class of Christian church. It was decided that the class would serve chicken dinner and supper at the Big Booster celebration which takes place Friday, Oct. 29. No one can afford to miss this day. Aside from other amusements and entertainment, the Otterbein Home band of Lebanon, O., directed by Rev. O. F. Bilger of this place, consisting of 40 or more boys and girls will furnish the music for the occasion, and everything has been planned to make this day a memorable one for West Manchester. TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

Look Young! Bring Back Its Natural Color, Gloss and Attractiveness.

Common garden sage, brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.—Advertisement.

HIS NAME'S ON ALL U. S. PAPER MONEY, SO PEOPLE BLAME HIM FOR SHORTAGE

John Burke at his desk.

John Burke, treasurer of the United States, is one of the most advertised men in the country. Look on a dollar bill—if you have one left—and you'll see his name. His signature is on every piece of paper money issued by the U. S. As a result of this he is swamped with letters from persons who have lost their "rolls" asking advice as to how to recover them. One man, who had read the per capita wealth of the country, wrote to Burke asking for his share.

Josephine Fox and son Jack of Dayton, visited last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Miller. Mrs. O. M. Shelleberger of College Corner, was also a guest.

HENRY WAS "near."
IN OTHER words, tight.
HE CARRIED two packs,
OF CIGARETTES.
ONE FOR friend Henry,
FULL OF "Satisfy."
AND THE other containing
JUST ONE cigarette,
AND THAT lone cigarette,
WAS ALWAYS offered,
TO SMOKELESS friends,
WHO WERE all polite,
AND REFUSED to take it,
AND SOMEHOW Henry
WAS NOT popular.
TILL ONE day by mistake,
HE PULLED the full pack,
AND EVERYONE fell on it,
WITH LOUD cries of glee,
HIS STRONG constitution,
CARRIED HENRY, through,
AND DAY by day,
HE GREW more popular,
AND HENRY knew why.
FOR HE'S nobody's dummy.
AND NOWADAYS he not only,
CARRIES THE cigarettes,
THAT SATISFY,
BUT FORCES 'em on people.
GIVES AWAY packs of 'em,
AND, SHUCKS,
HENRY COULD run for Mayor.
AND GET away with it now.
