

PARIS PACT BETRAYAL OF NATION, HARDING SAYS AT LOUISVILLE

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 15.—Senator Warren G. Harding, Republican nominee for the Presidency, once more invaded Democratic Kentucky Thursday night, at the Armory here, he addressed an audience of more than 10,000 men and women.

From the time he left Chattanooga until he reached Louisville this afternoon, Senator Harding was greeted all along the route by cheering crowds.

In his addresses today, the Republican nominee answered several questions which Democratic nominees and Democratic leaders have asked him. At Somerset he gave his views regarding the attitude of the United States toward Mexico, and in his address here tonight he gave brief answer to the question recently propounded by Representative Frank E. Doremus, of Michigan, a member of the Democratic Campaign Committee, who wanted to know whether the Republican nominee really believed the nations that are members of the league would join an association such as Senator Harding repeatedly has suggested.

Assurance is Claimed.
Senator Harding, answering Mr. Doremus, asserted that he had assurance that other great nations would be willing parties to such an association as one step in a policy of upbuilding foreign trade.

"I believe our first duty, having rejected, as we have rejected, the impossible and dangerous betrayal of America as expressed in Article X of the League of Nations, is to set our faces toward an association with the other nations of the world under which each may be free to express and maintain its own nationalism, but in which the mutual commercial and trade problems may be worked out," he said.

"I regard such a policy as perhaps the greatest contribution that can be made to create bonds for the maintenance of the world's peace. I regard such an arrangement, to which I have assurance the other great nations be willing parties, as one step in a policy of upbuilding our foreign trade."

FOLLOWED ADVICE OF HIS FRIEND

Indigestion, dyspepsia, gas in the stomach, pains in the bowels, heartburn and dizzy spells bothered him. "Dreco has put an end to them and I feel fine again," he says.

"I've had stomach trouble for over two years and it seemed I could not obtain relief, but fortunately I read about Dreco, and now I am one of its strongest boosters," said Mr. Ezra M. Warfield, of 708 N. Bell street, Kokomo, Ind.

"While in the army these ailments annoyed me very much. I'd fill up with gas, which made me very uncomfortable. I often had griping pains and felt like I was choking, yet I could not swallow it down nor spit it out. My back often ached and I was nervous and couldn't sleep sound—would get dizzy and have spots before my eyes.

"One of my friends said Dreco would do me good and he was right, for I've taken two bottles and my troubles have passed away. The gas does not collect any more, my food seems to do me good, giving me strength; pains in my back, over my kidneys, are all gone. My bowels act regularly and I never have a dizzy spell. Dreco brought relief after other things had failed."

All druggists now sell Dreco and it is being especially introduced in Richmond by Clem Thistlethwaite's Seven Drug Stores.—Advertisement.
