

NATIONAL, AMERICAN CLUB OWNERS MEET; AVOID BASEBALL WAR

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—Club owners of the National and American Leagues were here today for a joint meeting to make a final effort to avoid a baseball war.

The meeting was agreed upon when the warring factions met in Kansas City to present their sides of the controversy before the minors. It was announced that at this session here today John A. Heydler and B. B. Johnson, presidents of the National and American Leagues respectively, lawyers, stenographers, and all others are barred and that only the men financially interested in the two leagues are to be present. The meeting is to be confidential and no record will be made of the proceedings.

Club owners today were expected to speak their opinions as to the best means for the reorganization of the game so as to bring about peace. The magnates were scheduled to convene at noon.

After the joint meeting adjournment will be taken, while each league deliberates on the proceedings for a final report. In the evening another joint meeting will be held and it was expected that some decisive action will be taken to make peace.

Owners Favor Landis.
The eleven club owners who favor the Lasker plan for the reorganization of the game, the National League club owners and Chicago, Boston and New York clubs of the American League who favored the proposition, have definitely decided upon federal Judge K. M. Landis, of Chicago, as chairman of the new governing board of baseball if he accepts the offer.

The five members of the American League, Detroit, Cleveland, St. Louis, Philadelphia and Washington, who have aligned themselves with Johnson, have signified their willingness to accept the jurist as chairman.

Three New York baseball officials, Colonel Jacob Ruppert, of the American League, and Charles A. Stoneham and John McGraw, of the Nationals, were expected in Chicago to attend today's session. H. H. Frazee, of the Boston Red Sox, was also expected in company with the trio.

Minors Are Neutral.
The minors will not come into the joint session until the major league owners have ironed out their difficulties. The minors are maintaining their attitude of strict neutrality.

On the program today was the reorganization of the national commission and abolition of the new twelve club National league formed last Monday when the American and National Leagues split. The new National League will insist that the old commission composed of Ban Johnson, president of the American League and John Heydler, president of the National with one vacancy, be abolished in favor of the jurist, as commission it was said in baseball circles.

After the joint session of the two league club owners, a committee of six representing the minors will enter the discussions. This committee is composed of Mike H. Sexton, of Rock Island, president of the National Association of Minor Leagues, chairman; Thomas J. Hickey, president of the American Association; John D. Martin, president of the Southern association; George H. Haines, president of the Michigan-Ontario league; William Walsh, president of the South Atlantic league; and J. W. Morris, president of the West Texas League.

Expect End to War.
Predictions were made today that the eleven club owners of the newly organized National League and the five clubs "loyal" to President Ban Johnson will agree to end hostilities. While no official announcement was made, every member of the two major leagues has come on record as being in favor of a reorganization baseball and of the appointment of a new board of control, and the selection of Judge Landis, of Chicago, as the chairman with a salary of $50,000 a year.

It was expected that when the six club owners go into session today the Lasker plan for baseball reorganization would be modified and altered to meet new situations. The minor leagues insist upon equal representation with the major leagues on the new governing board.

WABASH AND DEPAUW RIVALS, CLASH SOON

Wabash and DePauw meet in their annual football game in Indianapolis Saturday, Nov. 20.

Back as far as anyone can remember, these two schools have displayed the keenest sort of rivalry, which at times has led to a great deal of bitter feeling. But, according to the Wabash college men, the old yell of "So Boss DePauw" has been relegated to the past.

The fighting spirit of the two schools is taken out in the football game.

Coach Robert Vaughan, of the Crawfordsville school, says: "Judging from the DePauw and Centre game, DePauw has a faster team than they have had for many years, but there is no doubt in our minds that we will beat them."

Coach Buss, of the Greencastle school, says: "Watch out for the stories coming out of Wabash now."

The two schools have teams of about equal weight. DePauw's average weight on the backfield is 145 pounds, and in the line 168 pounds. Wabash is a little heavier in the line and about the same weight in the backfield.

Special trains will run from both Greencastle and Crawfordsville to bring the student body of these two colleges to Indianapolis.

DePauw having held Centre to a tie for the first quarter, is looking forward to beating their old rivals this year.

BILL BROWN, VETERAN BOXING REFEREE, RESIGNS

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—The resignation of Bill Brown, veteran boxing referee, who has officiated in many bouts throughout the United States from the list of available referees under the new state boxing law, was announced today. Brown's severance of connections with the boxing commission was said to have resulted from his objection to the commission's system of choosing referees by rotation instead of their fitness for each particular bout.

WOMAN'S HOBBY FOR RAISING CANARIES PROVES TO BE A VERITABLE GOLD MINE

Mrs. Emily Fowler Thompson and some of her feathered pets. When Mrs. Emily Fowler Thompson of Washington, D. C., started raising canary birds because she found the beautiful feathered songsters so interesting as a study and as pets, she never realized that some day they would mean a very profitable income for her. They have turned from earners of pin money into a veritable gold mine, according to Mrs. Thompson, who is shown here with several of her pets.

BASKETBALL LEAGUE IN LOCAL COMMUNITY MAY BE PERFECTED

Plans for a basketball league made up of independent organizations from towns in this community will be made at a meeting at the George Behm store Wednesday evening, Nov. 17, at 8 p. m. Letters have been sent to managers of several teams and the opinion of these men is that such an organization would be of great benefit to the game in each of the towns as well as the sport in general.

Every independent team in Wayne and nearby counties is asked to have a representative at the meeting at which time officers will probably be elected and plans made for the permanent formation of the league. Independent teams in Richmond are also invited to the meeting and at least two local squads will be taken in the league.

Interest in basketball is greater this season than ever before. Teams are being formed by all kinds of organizations and towns. The basketball public is going to demand that good basketball be given them and will not be content with pickup games with any organization which has no such ability. The formation of this league is contemplated as a means of guaranteeing net followers in every town good clean basketball.

High Class Teams.
Only teams of sufficiently high caliber will be admitted and in this way the advantages will be great to the teams as well as the public. The interest that is generally created by a league will put the teams on a better financial footing and do away with the scheduling of cheap teams as a money making proposition.

Basketball leagues have proved successful in the east, some progressing to a professional footing. The great interest in this locality insures the success of some form of a plan of this nature.

Letters received from managers of several teams state that they will have men at the meeting with power to act in taking a berth in the new loop.

Managers of teams in Eaton, Eldorado, New Madison, Whitewater, Hagerstown, Economy, Centerville, Cambridge City, Campbelltown and Richmond will take notice of the time and place of the meeting and try and have their representative present on time.

BENSON MAY TESTIFY IN SHIPPING INQUIRY

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Admiral W. S. Benson, chairman of the United States shipping board, probably will be asked to testify before the House of Representatives committee on shipping board operations when it adjourns its hearings to Washington. It was intimated by Representative Joseph Walsh, Massachusetts, chairman before the committee continued its investigation here today.

This was taken in part as the answer to Admiral Benson's telegram yesterday to Mr. Walsh offering the board and personnel of the board in furtherance of the committee's hearings. Mr. Walsh did not indicate whether any of the shipping board personnel would be called here or whether they would be summoned.

Princeton Varsity Ready For Yale Battle Saturday

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 12.—Only a light workout was ordered for the Princeton varsity football squad today in preparation for the annual gridiron battle with Yale tomorrow. The team was sent through its last hard signal drill of the season yesterday and at its conclusion Keene Fitzpatrick, the Princeton trainer, said every man was in excellent condition. Neither he nor any of the coaches were willing, however, to make predictions as to the outcome of the game.

The athletic authorities are making preparations for one of the greatest crowds ever attending a football game here. Seats have been provided for 52,000 spectators. The Yale squad was expected to arrive late today.

A meeting of K. of P. deputies from every lodge in the county will be held at the local temple Saturday, at 7:30 p. m. Each of the lodges are to send their deputy. The purpose is to make plans for organizing the county and to appoint a county deputy. Everett B. Bandler, district deputy, hopes to organize the Sixth district very thoroughly.

BEGIN TOURING FOR BILLIARD CHAMPIONSHIP
CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—The preliminary tournament for the national three-cushion billiard championship began here today with a field including five former holders of the world's three-cushion title. Two matches were scheduled: Augie Kleckhefer and Charley Morin, of Chicago; Jess Lean, of Denver, and Clarence Jackson, of Kansas City. The winners of the preliminary series will meet Bob Cane-fax, present holder of the title.

BLOCKED KICK GIVES RICHMOND VICTORY IN ARMISTICE GAME

A blocked kick which rolled behind the Indianapolis goal line and was captured by Roach, local left half, enabled the Richmond American Legion team to triumph over the Greenwood American Legion post of Indianapolis, 7 to 0, Thursday afternoon on Reid field. The game was a good exhibition of football and above the general class put up by independent teams. The rough playing that generally features an independent game was absent, and every run on the two teams played clean fast and hard.

Roach and Ashinger stood out prominently for the Richmond team. Ashinger got away for a pretty 35 yard end run at one time and hit the line fearlessly when given the ball. Roach had his eyes on the ball at all times and sifted through for consistent gains. His big play was the blocking of a drop kick on his 20 yard line, recovering the ball which had rolled to the Indianapolis 20 yard line.

Roach Captures Oval.
Webb, left end, blocked the Indianapolis punt four minutes before the close of the game, which rolled across the goal line after it had eluded a Richmond and Indianapolis player. Roach captured the piskin.

Straight football was played virtually all the first half by both teams, straight line plunges being used consistently. In the second half both opened up with an aerial attack which failed to give either a great advantage. Indianapolis completed two of their attempts, both for gains of 15 yards. The locals were unable to get their passes across, although they tried them continuously.

May Claim Championship.
Thursday's win gives the locals a chance to claim the state championship for legion teams. Kokomo and Portland both have teams that are still in the race and the locals probably will meet one of these within the next two weeks.

JAPAN IS DISCREET ON RACE EQUALITY

(By Associated Press)
TOKIO, Nov. 12.—Japanese delegates now in Geneva to attend the meeting of the assembly of the league of nations have been exhibiting discretion regarding race equality proposals, says the Asahi Shimbun of Osaka. The opinion of the cabinet is said to be divided between the conviction that the present time is inopportune for such proposals and the fear that objecting nations might take political advantage of the situation.

Three proposals have been drafted by the Japanese delegates. One is designed to secure assurances from the league against discrimination respecting tariffs and raw materials. The proposals probably will be presented if prospects are deemed favorable.

Erie Asks Revocation Of Highway Crossings Order

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—The suit brought by the Erie railroad to secure revocation of the order of the Federal public utility commission of Paterson, N. J., requiring the elimination of highway crossings within the city was on the calendar for argument before the supreme court today. Because of its sweeping character, the public service railway company of New Jersey and Western Union Telegraph company and other private organizations joined with the railroad in fighting the order.

Counsel for the Erie, in briefs filed with the court, contended that the commission's action was unconstitutional in that it violated the "due process" clause, and was arbitrary in requiring the railroad to make large expenditures which it was financially unable to undertake.

Maroons, Sadly Crippled Meet Wolverines Saturday

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—The university of Chicago football team, severely crippled, left this morning for Ann Arbor, Mich., to make a Spartan effort against the Wolverines Saturday. Crutches and plaster casts were numerous. Cole and Hanisch, two of the most valuable backfield men, are taken merely as spectators, as injuries have put them out of the game for the rest of the season.

Miller Huggins
By MORRIS E. BROWN
Peppery, diminutive Miller Huggins, panned, fried, turned over and done on the other side by the New York Yankees the past season because he failed to win a pennant, has volunteered to lead the Gotham ball tossers another season—knockers be hanged. Which shows that Huggins' tiny frame carries considerable sand.

Huggins has announced, however, that he will change his methods next year and will try to develop more speed on the bases, better catching and better pitching and not depend solely on the club's batting power to win games.

Huggins probably would not be in the big leagues today as a pilot might even be unknown to big league fans—but for his own sticktiveness as a player in the minors. He had won his way to Class AA and was playing with St. Paul when he decided that his size would bar him from becoming a major leaguer unless he could learn to bat left-handed and become a lead-off man. He figured he had to make his rep as a second baseman, too. He couldn't throw hard enough to get the ball across the diamond— which eliminated third and first from his grasp. He couldn't even work fast as the middleman in a double play. But he learned to play second brilliantly. He practiced hours, days and months until he could bat left-handed. Eventually he was "called" and his fame as second baseman for the Cardinals spread over the baseball world. Later he managed the club before joining the American league.

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Football drill before breakfast was a novelty introduced by the busy Stevens Tech team today in preparation for its game tomorrow with the eleven from the U. S. S. Arizona. Falling of darkness so soon after classes are dismissed in the afternoon was given as the reason for the innovation.

The Theatres

WASHINGTON.
All who have seen Roscoe Arbuckle, the genial comedian in Paramount, Fatty Arbuckle comedies during the past three years—who has not?—will find his characterization of fat "Slim" Hoover, the Sheriff whom nobody loves, in "The Round Up" which was shown at the Washington Theatre last night, a worth while treat. This at least, was the verdict of the audiences which greeted the portly comedian in his first Paramount feature picture produced by George Melford with exceptional splendor of appointments.

The scenes of "The Round Up" are laid in Arizone land and as might be expected, the dramatic element is not lacking. There are some scenes of unusually strong heart-appeal, while the thrills which accompany them hold one as by a magic spell.

One marvels at the photography of the outdoor scenes by Paul Perry as one admires the superiority of the cast. Mr. Arbuckle is no less interesting in the picture than was his namesake Macklin Arbuckle in the stellar role of Edmund Day's celebrated play of which this is a picturization. Mabel Jullienne Scott, who plays opposite him, evinces ability of a high order.

MURRAY.
"The Husband Hunter" is a brilliant comedy bordering at times on farce. The story is of a young girl who sets out to capture the love of a man she has never seen. The picture is a splendid adaptation from F. Scott Fitzgerald's story, "Myra Meets His Family."

Eileen Percy enacts the role of Myra Hastings, the young woman in question. When the story opens Myra's plan to win Ken Whitney is well under way. A storm forces Myra and Whitney into a deserted house in the woods and results in the couple being quarantined, they being informed that scarlet fever had existed in the shack. Rather than expose Myra to any possibilities of being compromised Ken proposes, and of course, is accepted. Miss Percy combines cleverness and beauty in a fine bit of acting. "The Husband Hunter" is one of the most enjoyable film comedies seen in some time. The star is admirably supported by Emory Johnson, as leading man.

MURRAY VAUDEVILLE.
"The Story of the Hunt" an artistic posing act, novel in detail and very beautiful holds down the stellar role at the Murray Theatre the last half of this week. A snow white horse, four white English setter dogs, a man and woman make up the personnel of the act. A motion picture shows the details of the hunt and the company then pose particulars. It is known as the fact beautiful and lives up to the reputation.

Foiber and Griffith put on a good singing and dancing act which had good harmony and mirth. It was among the best that have appeared here for some time and even though not met with the applause it deserved, was very well received. Foiber has a voice similar to Shank, of the famous Van and Shank team, and uses it effectively.

Frawley and Clark open the card with a comedy gymnast act which is good but similar to several seen here recently and hence did not score heavily. Gwen and Clark in "Fifty Nonsense" come second and work the audience into a good humor with their gift of gab, songs and jokes.

Thursday night's crowds were evidently tired from the strenuous activities of Armistice Day, as were the actors, two of whom had entertained at the South Tenth street park.
