Miss Edith Oelklaus and Miss Frieda Lohman entertained the N. N. C. club Thursday evening. Yellow and white ribbons forming the initials of the club and clusters of white and yellow chrysanthemums were attractively used for decoration. The guests were Miss Fern DeBeck, Miss Rhea Porter, Miss Thelma Campbell, Miss Alma Wickemeyer, Miss Bessie Wickersham, Miss Nellie Vorr, Miss Leona Hirschfield, Miss Rose Rabke, Miss Hazel Brumfield, Miss Ruth Horst, Miss Edith Wickemeyer, Miss Margaret Kessler, Miss Helen Cook, Miss Ruth Foulke, Miss Marjorie Edwards, Miss Margaret Schuman, Miss Corinne Schnieder, Miss Edith Oelklaus, and Miss Frieda Lohman.

Miss Ruth Campbell was hostess for a surprise party given for Mrs. Earl Mutchner, nee Miss Mary Clapper, at the home of Mrs. Mutchner on North Sixteenth street. During the evening a shower was given the bride by the guests and a dainty luncheon served. Those present were Miss Doris Shesler, Miss Elizabeth Hunt, Mrs. Jack McIntyre, Miss Esther Bowden, Miss Myra Cox, Miss Ida Binkley, Miss Catherine Ulrich, Miss Rhea Smith, Miss Grace White, Miss Helen Kessler, Miss Hazel Albin, Mrs. Campbell of Cambridge City, Mrs. Jessie Griffith, Miss Fay and Miss Dorothy Mutchner, Miss Winifred Clapper of Cambridge City, Miss Frances Roser, Miss Emma Shaffer, Miss Ruth Campbell and Mrs. Earl Mutchner.

Favors at the luncheon-bridge given by Mrs. W. O. Crawford at her home on North Tenth street Thursday went to Mrs. Ed Williams, Mrs. Huston Marlatt, and Mrs. Willard Z. Carr.

Mrs. Charlie Kolp's Saturday afternoon dancing school has been postponed this week. Instead the children are asked to meet at the coliseum at 3 p. m. to rehearse for the pageant. Mr. and Mrs. Homer Schepman entertained informally at their home on South Fourth street Wednesday evening in celebration of the fifteenth birthday of Miss Rhea Schepman. Games and music were features of the evening. Refreshments were served to the guests who were Miss Edith Darlin, Miss Gladys Huffman, Miss Juanita Sudhoff, Miss Helen Wenger, Miss Edith McClellan, Miss Grace Eggemeyer, Miss Mary Adelaide Knox, Miss Corinne Roberts, Miss Louise Pierce, Richard Coons, Leonard Cox, Wayne Reed, Walter (Continued on Page Sixteen)

Bread The Ideal Loaf Bread

No doubt you have been following the Educational advertisements on food elements and Bread—the Universal Food—which have been running on this page for the past week. It has been the aim of these advertisements to place before you food facts that are absolutely true. We have given hints in these advertisements that enable the reader to become familiar with the elements necessary for human nutrition and also what a loaf of real bread contains of these elements.

We call your attention now to the loaf of Bread that fulfills the requirements set forth in the above mentioned advertisements 100%

Golden Cream BREAD

This Ideal Loaf has the utmost of earnest care in making and its standards of excellence may be described as follows:

A 1½-pound golden brown split loaf with fine, silky texture inside, pure white solid filling that does not crumble, a sweet and suggestive nutty flavor of perfect wheat and of good keeping qualities that make it palatable several days; a loaf containing in its 1½ pounds of perfectness over half the necessary amounts of daily food elements necessary for the human body.

We offer, with pride, this wonderful achievement in bread, making it possible to serve just the kind of food necessary, and also more economical.

Your Grocer
Has this

Ideal Bread

Give it a trial, and you'll always serve GOLDEN CREAM.
