

EARLHAM ORATORS BEGIN ACTIVITIES FOR RECORD YEAR

Public speaking activities at Earlham will begin in earnest immediately following the Thanksgiving vacation. More interest is being manifested in this line of activity this year than ever before. Debating seems to take precedence over the old line of oratorical endeavor.

Tryouts for the debating teams will begin on Monday evening, Dec. 6. Class debates will be held the first two days of that week. Interclass wrangles will be held the latter part of that week and the final selection will be made on Monday night, Dec. 13 at a public debate.

Two teams of three men each will be selected, one to debate the negative and the other the affirmative in all the debates scheduled this winter. The coming debating season is probably the most interesting ever attempted in one season by Quaker wranglers. Earlham is a member of the Indiana College Debating League, in which 12 colleges and universities of the state are entered. The list includes Indiana, Purdue, Valparaiso, Notre Dame, DePauw, Franklin, Washburn, Butler, North Manchester, Goshen, Indiana Central and Earlham. The picking of the winner in the league will be done by a series of inter-collegiate debates, the teams receiving the highest scores debating each other until final elimination. Three rounds will be necessary to determine the winner. The final debate will be held March 11. The first debate for Earlham will be with North Manchester and Indiana Central.

Thirty Candidates.
Thirty candidates for the teams turned out last Wednesday to draw for the first tryouts. Among these men Julius Tietz, former Richmond high school debater, and Donald Snyder were the only men who had had previous debating team experience. Paul Gordon has done extension debating representing Earlham. Some of the most likely candidates seemed to be Cornell Hewston, Paul Lichtenfels, Koering, Gordon, Thompson, Hall and Teale.

The oratorical contest for Indiana colleges will be held at Notre Dame university on the last Friday in February. The final oratorical contest at Earlham will be held next Friday night. The primaries will be started Tuesday evening. Among the students trying out for representative of the college are Louis Willis, Stanley Prevost, Edwin Teale, Cornell Hewston and Fred Pickett. Several others will probably become known the day of the tryouts.

Earlham Ranks High.
Earlham's rank in public speaking has always been among the highest in the state. Only one college has won more of the state contests than Earlham. In debating only the strongest schools in this and surrounding states have been scheduled during the past few years. In these contests the local college has more than held its own.

Last year's debating team entered a triangular contest with Albion university of Michigan and DePauw university. Albion won the contest by one vote over Earlham. Mary Pennington represented Earlham in the state oratorical contest last year and scored second honor, being defeated by the Washburn representative who later won the interstate contest.

The success of Earlham in public speaking has been due largely to the untiring efforts of Prof. E. P. Trueblood, who has been head of the department since 1912. He has coached some of the strongest speakers turned out in Indiana.

People of Wayne Are Urged To Buy Christmas Seals

"Ten cents per capita for protection against tuberculosis in Indiana," is the appeal issued jointly by Dr. William Lowe Bryan, chairman of the Christmas Seals committee, and Mrs. Auerbach, executive secretary of the Indiana Tuberculosis association, in behalf of the state-wide Christmas Seal sale which opens next week.

"If every man, woman and child in Indiana will give a dime in support of the campaign against tuberculosis," they said in the most effective program in return the most effective program to check the spread of this disease that the state ever has had.

Continuing they stated "all but five per cent of the money contributed will be expended in Indiana, and most of it will be expended in the counties where it is contributed. Speaking of the purpose of the seal sale, they added: "This seal sale is in behalf of a work that must be done at home to protect the health, the very lives, of our own people."

The "ten cents per capita" does not mean that persons can buy the largest amounts. Purchases of from $5 to $500 worth of the little stickers have been made regularly in the past years by many persons.

Steady Increase.
Mr. Auerbach states that Indiana has shown a steady increase in purchases of Christmas seals but last year it was outdone by 22 states. At the same time, in proportion to the amounts contributed, the death rate from tuberculosis has been decreasing.

The Delta Theta Tau sorority will have complete charge of the Christmas Seal sale in Richmond this year. The sale will be opened next week with the placing of posters, stickers, and booths in downtown districts, and house to house canvasses will be started. The goal for Wayne county is $5,000 or "ten cents per capita." Miss S. Ethel Clark, secretary of the Wayne County Seal Sale committee, stated today that 75 per cent of the money from the seal sale would be retained for work here.

Every state in the union has been supplied with the penny stickers. Nine hundred million seals, which, if put in a single line, would extend 15,000 miles, have been distributed.

Window Dressing Should Be Fireproof Says Chief

The use of paper, cotton and other inflammable material for the decoration of show windows by merchants is contrary to a city ordinance, Building Inspector Pinnick announced today.

He called attention to the ordinance and asked merchants to refrain from using combustible material. He said the use of the material increased the fire hazard.

Twentieth-Century Proverbs by Claire Lane

Cultivate the habit of calling thy wife 'Dearie', 'Honey', 'Sweetheart', and 'Peach', for then if thou shouldst, in thy sleep or absentmindedness, address her in one of these endearing terms, it causeth not distrust.

DEFERRED NUPTIALS DEplete NURseries

1. Verily I say unto you, my Son, consider my words, which beareth much wisdom, for by some designing man, don't miff the catch, for knoweth thou that deferred matrimony maketh thee skeptical, analytical and cautious, and thou shalt become like unto a man who awaketh too late for the Resurrection, with no generation to follow. For knoweth thou that woman is made to be loved, not suspected, vivisectioned nor analyzed, and thou shouldst be thankful that she demandeth not of thee the chastity thou demandest of her, for like unto a life sentence, thou couldst never live to do it.

2. Therefore, my Son, be wise, and when thou art batted a perfectly good fly, by some designing man, don't miff the catch, for knoweth thou that deferred matrimony maketh thee skeptical, analytical and cautious, and thou shalt become like unto a man who awaketh too late for the Resurrection, with no generation to follow. For knoweth thou that woman is made to be loved, not suspected, vivisectioned nor analyzed, and thou shouldst be thankful that she demandeth not of thee the chastity thou demandest of her, for like unto a life sentence, thou couldst never live to do it.

3. And lo, my Son, and consider well, that Bachelorhood, like unto the plans of the I. W. W. may look inviting as a theory, but never are impossible to practice without poaching on some other man's property, and maketh thee like unto a graveyard which taketh everything it can get and giveth back nothing; and thou wilt be compelled to pursue thy ways with the caution of a reformer, who giveth not checks in a game of poker, lest there be documentary evidence that he has been trifling with chance.

4. But heed ye also, my Son, and aspire not to marry an angel, for they dwelleth not on the Earth in female form—for when woman is good enough for wings, God taketh her unto Himself; and when she is bad enough, God's competitor getteth his. Therefore I say, verily my Son, squander neither thy time nor energy in the futile seeking of that which is not, but contenteth thyself with a mere woman for better or for worse and let thy love veneer her faults, and then if she proveth for worst, spileth not thy tears all over the bar of regret, but consider that the lady may have some shedding to do herself.

5. Give ears, my Son, and heed these words: Early in thy married life, and even before, cultivate the habit of calling thy wife 'Dearie', 'Honey', 'Sweetheart', and 'Peach', for then if thou shouldst, in thy sleep or absentmindedness, address her in one of these endearing terms, it causeth not distrust and later preventeth the lady's real name from appearing in a petition for separation and alimony. For take heed that prudence preventeth distrust, and knoweth thou that one endearing misnomer is harder to explain satisfactorily to a suspicious wife than it is to persuade her that her last year's hat is more becoming than a new one.

6. Therefore, verily I say, my Son, be wise, and knoweth thou that marriage is like unto the measles—the older one gets, the harder it takes. And unless thou beginneth young and getteth used to it in thy youth, thou art liable in thy old age to get exposed and have it both ways, for be it known that Science hath not yet devised a vaccination which maketh a man immune against the desire to love and be loved by the ladies.

Henley Appointed Editor Of Friends' Quarterlies

David Henley, head of the book publishing department of the local Friends Central offices, was appointed editor of Friends Sunday School quarterlies, for study purposes, at a meeting of the American Friends' Bible School Board at the Central offices, Friday. Miss Evan White, also of the offices, was appointed editor of Penn Weekly, and primary literature, both Friends publications.

After a discussion of a probable budget, it was decided that $15,250 would be the amount needed to be raised in the Forward Movement campaign of 1921. The meeting Friday closed the second year of the Friends' book store at the local offices. Reports showed that more book business was transacted through the central offices, than in any other Friends book store in the country. It was also brought out in reports that Friends Sunday school literature is being used to a greater extent now, than ever in the history of the Society of Friends.

SIX PERSONS KILLED IN ITALIAN BLAST

LONDON, Nov. 27.—Six persons were killed and twenty injured in the explosion of a plant at Vergato, 35 miles from Milan, yesterday afternoon, says a despatch to the London Times. Great damage in Vergato and other villages in the neighborhood was done, roofs being blown off and buildings badly wrecked. The shock was felt over a circle the radius of which was about sixty miles. Street cars were overturned in Milan and panic reigned throughout the entire district. Detachments of soldiers have been sent to the scene of the disaster.

The plant where the explosion occurred was used as a shell factory during the war but since the close of hostilities was being used as a manufacturing of citric acid. A fire broke out in a hut near the factory at noon, spread to the main building and later jumped to a big dump of shells nearby. Nearly 250 men were employed at the plant, but most of them were absent for lunch when the explosion occurred.

CLEVELAND SPENDS MILLIONS FOR CANDY; HOOVER ASKS FUNDS

CLEVELAND, Nov. 27.—Cleveland's 796,856 inhabitants spent $7,600,000 for candy last year, according to Miss Florence E. Allen, judge-elect of the common pleas court. They spent $6,080,000 for cigarettes and as much more for chewing tobacco and snuff. Their cigar bill was $3,920,000. For perfumery and cosmetics, $5,600,000 was spent, and for ice cream and soft drinks, $4,600,000.

Miss Allen made the above statement in an appeal during a campaign here to raise $4,500,000 for a Community Chest with which to conduct next year's welfare work. One hundred and five welfare and charitable organizations—including the Red Cross, Salvation Army, Y. M. C. A., and Young Men's Hebrew Association—will receive their budgets from the chest fund. And balance will be sent to Europe to help the war orphans.

Herbert Hoover, former food administrator, delivered three addresses during the campaign.

"I am here not only to urge support for our home necessities over the coming winter but to plead also for some contribution from the people of Cleveland through their Community Chest to the support of American charity abroad," Mr. Hoover said. "I believe the sufferers of the war should today have the first call upon the American people after our home obligations are met."

"It has been rightly computed that there are more than 11,000,000 orphaned and desperately undernourished children from the war. Today 3,500,000 of these live by virtue of the 3,000 asylums, hospitals, clinics and canteens, whose doors would close out for the American charity. Europe cares for the remainder herself."

SIXTEEN DISAPPEAR WHEN PACIFIC COAST BOAT DRIFTS ASHORE

(By Associated Press)
SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 27.—All efforts to ascertain the fate of the 16 persons aboard the barge W. J. Pirrie, reported ashore 96 miles south of Cape Flattery on the Washington coast, had proved vain up to midnight, four hours after the vessel was reported to have struck on the rocky coast.

The last word concerning the Pirrie came at 11:30 p. m. in a message from the navy radio station at Northhead, Wash., which said it was believed the Pirrie was aground on the Rocky James Island off Quillayute, Wash. The station is keeping in communication with the master of the Santa Rita who wirelessed that he had heard nothing from the Pirrie since he cut loose from the barge at about noon today.

A wireless message from the master of the Santa Rita to her owners, W. R. Grace and company, said the vessel is standing four or five miles out to sea, from the point where the Pirrie is believed to have grounded.

The coast guard cutter Snobomish, is expected to reach the scene of the wreck about 8 o'clock tomorrow. Nothing further has been heard from the steamer Atlas which wirelessed she was on her way to render aid to the Pirrie.

COAL STRIKE ZONE WILL BE GOVERNED BY FEDERAL TROOPS

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 27.—Four hundred soldiers of the regular army were expected to arrive at Williamson, W. Va., today for duty in the Mingo coal strike zone, where numerous disorders have occurred during the past week. The troops left Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, O., early this morning and were sent by the government at the request of Governor John J. Cornwell, who announced that the Mingo situation was beyond control of the county and state authorities. State officials here awaited today for President Wilson's reply to the governor's request that the former declare the Mingo region under martial law. In asking that the zone will be placed under military law. The governor said that Mingo authorities believed the soldiers could control the situation without martial law, but that he did not concur in this view.

A strike of coal miners has been in progress in the Mingo territory for many months. Frequent disorders have occurred, and finally Governor Cornwell called for federal troops. While the soldiers had control of the region quiet prevailed, but when they were removed about six weeks ago disorders again became frequent. In the last week several persons, including a state trooper, were shot and killed. The soldiers could control the situation without martial law, but that he did not concur in this view.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Nov. 27.—If the request is made and it seems necessary for the federal troops to be sent to the Mingo county, W. Va., coal strike zone, the governor of Kentucky, Governor Morrow said today he would approve the arrangement as it existed when federal troops were on the border a few weeks ago. That arrangement, which Governor Cornwell of West Virginia and the governor of Kentucky had agreed to, permitted the federal troops to guard both sides of the state border.

(By Associated Press)

"We observe also" says the note, "that the Italian government has not such as 'the Kingdom of Serbs, Croats and Slovenes' or 'Jugo-Slavs.' We have not recognized the existence of such a state. A copy of the constitution of this state bearing the autograph of Captain D'Annunzio, was handed to General Cavallotti, with the note.

INDIANA TAX BURDEN SMALL IN INCREASE SAY STATE OFFICIALS

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 27.—Increased appropriations for state institutions and departments will not increase the taxation burdens of the state to as great an extent as the people have been led to believe, according to state officials.

It is pointed out that the total tax levy for state purposes made in 1919 was only 18 cents and that the state board of tax commissioners increased total state tax levy for 1921, as fixed by the tax board, is 20 cents.

The large taxation burdens, officials point out, come from the county, city and other local assessments. Total tax rates of from $1.60 to $2.40 on $100 of taxable property represent the taxation burdens imposed on the people to keep up the expense of local government. Of such totals, officials point out, only from 18 to 20 cents is now collected for state purposes.

Total Income $11,600,000.
In fixing the state tax rate for next year the state board of tax commissioners estimated that a levy of 1 cent will produce revenue amounting to approximately $580,000. The total levy of 20 cents, according to estimates, will bring in about $11,600,000 for state purposes. These estimates are based on a total state assessed valuation of $5,800,000,000.

Estimates have placed the total amount of increased appropriations which state institutions and departments will ask of the legislature at $10,000,000. These estimates are based on a total state assessed valuation of $5,800,000,000.

However, in the event the legislature should agree to all the requests of the institutions, the total increase in the tax levy would not reach 20 cents.
