

INTENSIVE PRACTICE IS STARTED BY MOWE FOR ANTILOCHE CONTEST

With the first game of the season drawing near Coach Mowe was forced to cut his basketball squad in half at the practice Tuesday evening in the Earlham gymnasium. One bunch will be under the direction of Mowe and the other under Higgins. The cut in the squad was necessary because of the game with Antioch college of Ohio on the Coliseum floor Friday night, Dec. 10.

Material is abundant for an extraordinary quintet to represent the Quakers through the coming season and Coach Mowe is anxious to give his men some hard scrimmages before their opening game.

The first squad which will work under the direction of Mowe is composed of 23 men all of them former high school or college players who look good for basketball jobs. The pace that will be set in the next few days will make this bunch grow smaller until a squad of about 15 men will continue throughout the season.

Expect Even Game

Antioch college has been holding net practice for the past month and will come to Richmond prepared to take a fall out of the locals. They are touted as having the best team in their history and with the short practice that the Quakers will have had an even game is expected.

DePauw and Earlham will mix in two contests this season, according to an announcement made by Mowe Wednesday. Wabash also will appear here. These two teams always put up some of the best basketball that come to the Coliseum and local followers look forward to these teams with great interest.

Advance dope on the Earlham lineup would put the men who composed last year's team on the floor for the opening game. Captain Lawler and Hall probably will work at the forward positions. These two men have paired together for several seasons both in college and high school. Carey is out for the pivot job and probably will hold the place. His playing should be better this season than last as he was handicapped last year by an injury received in football. Russ Hadley is making a strong bid for this job. He was injured at the opening of last season and kept from playing.

Johnson on Job

Ray Johnson will be in his old position at the back guard. He has held down this part of the floor for the past three seasons and has made a name for himself all over the state for his ability to keep the opposing forwards away from under the basket.

The floor guard position is an open one and several men are working to land this coveted place. Bob Hinshaw, Beck and Thomas probably will stage a bitter battle to land the place.

TOLEDO MAY DRAW DEMPSEY'S FIGHT

(By Associated Press)

TOLEDO, O., Dec. 1.—Negotiations were opened between Jack Kearns, manager of Jack Dempsey, world's champion heavyweight pugilist, and Ad. Thacher, Toledo promoter today with a view to staging the proposed Dempsey-Carpenter match in Toledo.

Thacher received a telegram from Kearns in New York city, asking the promoter "to look over the ground here and report to him by telephone."

The men were expected to confer later in the day.

According to Kearns it doesn't look probable that the bout can be staged in New York and that there does not seem to be a logical location elsewhere at present.

Thacher was Tex Rickard's assistant in promoting the Willard-Dempsey bout here a year ago last July, when Dempsey won his title.

Thacher said today that he would go before the commission for a permit for a decision bout if he can make a satisfactory deal with Kearns.

American Women Hockey Players Impress English

(By Associated Press)

LONDON, Dec. 1.—The American Women's Hockey team has been cordially received in England and the newspapers have devoted columns to its members, not because of their smartness in play, but what writers term their sportsmanship and pleasing personalities. When they arrived there they frankly stated that they had come to learn more of the game from the experienced Britishers, and they proved "good losers" in their early matches.

Much has been written about the American costumes. The English girls wear their playing skirts well above the knee and were surprised to see the Americans come onto the field in skirts far below the knee. The short skirts undoubtedly gave the Britishers an advantage in the early games.

The skirts, small sweaters and "permanent waves," the latter admitted by some of the Americans, came in for more comment from the newspapers than details of the play.

In the first game the Americans showed to disadvantage in "nursing" the ball, in which the English girls are so proficient, but they have tried to improve their game in that respect.
