

RELATION OF PAINTING, MUSIC, ARCHITECTURE SHOWN BY ART CLUB

"Something new" will be the program by the music and art departments of the Woman's club in the high school auditorium at 8 p. m. Thursday. In addition to being open to the public the entertainment will be free it was announced. The oneness of the arts will be illustrated by Mrs. M. F. Johnston in her talk on "The Relation of Music to Painting and Architecture." A poet, musician, and artist seeing and experiencing the same things will be shown by musical numbers and slides. They will interpret their reaction, the only difference being their mediums of expression.

There are people very fond of music who have no appreciation or interest in art or poetry. Again there are those with a love for color, pictures, and architecture while there are also those who experience the same reaction through the medium of poetry. The reaction on each is the same except that in the different persons is produced by that form of expression to which they are most sensitive—color, sound or words. Mrs. Johnston shows in her talk how these are related and how terms applied to music may apply to pictures as well and vice versa.

Show Sitation.

A painter, a musician and a poet will be shown standing in a field early in the morning just before sun-up, as the lark rises singing. From the painter there will be Jules Breton's "Song of the Skylark" which will be shown in a lovely colored slide. Then "Hark, Hark, the Lark," will be sung to the music of Schubert.

The color, the rhythm, and the power of the sea will be expressed in its effect on the arts. Pictures of seven marine artists will be shown and Miss Mildred Schalk will play MacDowell's "Song to the Sea" and "Nautilus."

A song will be given by Miss Ruth James, Mrs. George Bartel, Mrs. D. F. Dennis, Mrs. Ed. Hasemeier, Mrs. Charles Marvel and Mrs. J. P. Hill.

The brook will be another subject illustrated which has ever charmed and sought expression in the different mediums. The atmosphere of mystery and fascination which reflects in water will be shown. The slides for this phase of the program include beautiful pictures of buildings built by boats and slides of boats reflected in running and still water.

Express Desert Peace.

The peace and solitude of the desert produces a mood which each artist expresses in his way. One of the love-West pictures to be shown with the music and poetry of the desert is one "Sunrise in the Desert."

Norway and Spain have been selected to show racial qualities and their effect on music, art, and poetry.

In the seventh part of the program Mrs. Johnston will compare a symphony to a Gothic cathedral. Beethoven's "Fifth Symphony" will be played on two pianos and at the same time slides of Gothic cathedrals will be shown.

The closing numbers will be cathedral music accompanied by pictures of some of the most famous and most beautiful madonnas.

Operas in German To Open in New York

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—A season of grand and light opera in German will be opened on Christmas afternoon, in the Manhattan opera house, Mrs. Oscar Hammerstein, its manager, announced here today. This will be the first opera to be sung in the German language in this country since the United States entered the war. An attempt to give German opera in New York in the Lexington avenue opera house more than a year ago was abandoned after a demonstration in front of the theatre by a crowd of former service men.

TEN YEARS NEEDED TO STOP
TYPHUS IN POLAND, WEBSTER
WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Prediction that the present rate of progress it will take ten years to wipe out typhus in Poland, where there are 200,000 known cases, was made in a report to the American Red Cross headquarters here today from Dr. Charles E. Webster, who recently arrived in Warsaw to direct the organization's campaign against the disease. Dr. Webster declared that no immediate progress in combating the scourge could be made unless ample supplies of "disinfectants, soap, clean linen and clothing" were made available."

TINY BOAT OUTDOES COLUMBUS' FEAT: BESTS WAVES IN 8000-MILE OCEAN TRIP

The "Typhoon," tied up at Staten Island, N. Y., after completing its unique trip.

The 45-foot schooner Typhoon is safely moored at a Staten Island dock after completing an 8000-mile trip from Baddeck, N. S., to Cowes, Isle of Wight, and back to New York by way of the Bay of Biscay and the Azores. The trip to England was made in fifteen days. The return voyage was longer, due to terrific storms.

HENRY COUNTY PARK LAKE TO BE STOCKED WITH SUPPLY OF FISH

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 1.—When Henry county obtains its memorial park to be built as a lasting commemoration to the county's sons and daughters who participated in the world war, it is planned to stock the lake which will be one of the features of the park, with game fish and open the waters to piscatorial artists. This information was sent to George N. Mannfield, superintendent of the division of fish and game of the state department of conservation, who is asked by the Henry county association to assist in building the lake and also to stock the waters from the state hatcheries.

According to the association members, Henry county so far has given 64 acres to the park project. Efforts are now being made by the populace to acquire 30 acres adjoining, and an additional four acres, the latter the property of a traction company. The thirty acre tract is appraised at $8,000 and it is planned to raise this amount by popular subscription in a single day's drive. Mr. Mannfield has assured Henry county people that his division is ready at all times to assist in the laying out of the lake and the state will stock the waters when the proper time comes.

Protect Quail

At the annual banquet of the Henry county Fish and Game association, attended by more than 100 members, 97 voluntarily entered into an agreement not to shoot quail this season. This step is taken in order that the birds have a chance to propagate and multiply. Conservation officials believe the action of the Henry county men will have a good influence on other game protective associations in the state, and thus quail will be given further protection to reproduce in goodly numbers. Unless some such voluntary action is taken or the law is made more restrictive, quail will soon become sadly diminished in Indiana.

LEGISLATIVE PROGRAM FOR STATE EDUCATION OUTLINED SATURDAY

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 1.—The legislative program of the educational interests of Indiana will be outlined at a meeting of committees representing educational organizations of the state at the office of L. N. Hines, state superintendent of public instruction, Saturday morning.

Recommendations for important educational changes which will come before the approaching session of the legislature will be adopted by the conference. It is expected that all educational interests of the state will be united in support of matters passed by the conference and that a determined effort will be made to obtain favorable action by the legislature on the recommendations.

One of the most important questions to be considered will be the proposal to make the state the taxing unit for educational purposes. The pre-out system in Indiana provides that most of the revenue for school use shall be raised in local taxing units and school property depends largely on the amount of taxation in various communities according to officials. It is proposed that Indiana follow the lead of other states and make the state the educational taxing unit, thus providing a more equitable distribution of funds.

Change in Teachers' Fund.

Proposals for changes in the state teachers' retirement fund law will receive serious consideration. There is a general feeling of dissatisfaction among teachers with the present pension law, according to officials. One of the chief weaknesses of the law is the fact that it is not state wide. Acceptance of the provisions of the law is now voluntary with the various units which have been established in cities and counties of the state.

A number of other changes in the pension law are to be considered intended to clarify and strengthen the law.

Many other suggestions dealing with finances and administration of the state school system will come before the conference.

Organizations which will be represented in the meeting include the Indiana State Teachers' Association, Southwestern Indiana Teachers' Association, North-Central Indiana Teachers' Association, State Parent-Teachers' Association, State teachers retirement fund board, state child welfare commission, Federation of Teachers, Town and City Superintendents' Association, League of Women Voters and Township Trustees' Association.
