

MUSICAL NUMBERS, SLIDES, ILLUSTRATE RELATION OF ARTS

A large audience filled the Lindley hall auditorium at Earlham college Tuesday evening when the program on the relation of the arts by the Music and Art departments of the Woman's club, which was such a success last Thursday evening, was repeated. The program was composed of instrumental and vocal numbers, and slides, given in conjunction with a lecture by Mrs. Melville Johnston on "The Relation of Music to Painting and Architecture." Mrs. Johnston's talk was of much interest because she is not only considered an authority on matters of art, but has won recognition for her active interest in that field. In her talk Tuesday evening she showed the similarity of the arts emphasizing the fact that the difference in the art of music, architecture, painting and poetry lies only in the medium of expression.

In the eight parts into which the program was divided an artist, musician and poet interpret in their chosen language of expression their reaction to the various forms of the beauty and wonders of nature. In the first part the subject is early morning, the second the mysterious ever-changing restlessness of the sea; the third, the brook. Some beautiful slides were shown in the fourth part, "Reflections," and Debussy's scintillating and unconventional "Reflections in Water" was played by Miss Mildred Schalk.

Show Racial Qualities
The influence of racial qualities was illustrated by Norwegian and Spanish numbers. In discussing forms in art Mrs. Johnston simplified a Gothic cathedral to Beethoven's Fifth Symphony. Cathedral music was the subject of the eighth part. Pictures of madonnas, great cathedrals, naves, transepts and choirs were shown while a quartette sang church music. Gounod's "Ave Maria," the closing number on the program was sung by Mrs. Fred J. Bartel and the violin obligato played by Miss Ruth Scott.

Musicians taking part in the program were: Mrs. Fred Bartel, Miss Corinne Nussbaum, Ernest Renk, Bob Bartel, Miss Mildred Schalk, Miss Ed Hasemeier, Mrs. D. E. Dennis, Mrs. Ed Hasemeier, Mrs. George Bartel, Mrs. Charles Marvel, Mrs. J. P. Hill, Mrs. L. E. Harter, Miss Ruth Paltz, Mrs. George Eggemeier, Mrs. Fred Lewis, Mrs. Lewis Reynolds, Mrs. Ed Bartel, Mrs. Mabel Hasemeier and Miss Ruth Scott.

SEARCH CONTINUED FOR CLARA B. SMITH

(By Associated Press)
EL PASO, Tex., Dec. 8.—The sixteenth day search for Clara Barton Smith, wanted in connection with the death of Jake L. Hamon, at Ardmore, Okla., ended last night as far as local officers are concerned, they said, when Miss Smith was almost within their grasp at Juarez.

Sheriff Ordino learned the location of Miss Smith through a confidential telegram and declares the informant wanted a reward on return for disclosing her hiding place. The sheriff construed an answer to a telegram to Sheriff Garrett at Ardmore to mean that Miss Smith was not wanted and that there was no reward for her capture. He declared last night that he would not continue work on the case.

J. L. Smith, father of the missing woman, and his wife were found at a local address last night. Smith declared that he had been here for two weeks and that he had not seen his daughter in more than a year. He expressed confidence she was innocent of any wrong doing, and that her reported confession was untrue. Mrs. Smith wept as her husband talked with a reporter.

May Call Any Time at Margaret Smith Home
Managers of the Margaret Smith home have announced that through a mistake Tuesdays and Thursdays were announced as visiting days. The home has no visiting days. People are welcome to call at any time, any day. The home is always open to visitors and calls are not confined to any day or time.

STEAL ALCOHOL.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Many repairs to navy compasses have been made necessary during the past year by reason of the fact that the instruments have been broken open for the alcohol they contain, says the annual report of Rear Admiral J. A. Hooge-wert, superintendent of the naval observatory, to Secretary Daniels, made public today.

The Farm and Farmer

By WILLIAM R. SANBORN

County Agent Campbell, of Liberty, says that so far as he has learned, the hog population of Union county is enjoying good health. There may be sporadic cases of sickness, but nothing serious has been reported of late.

This column belongs to the farmer and he is invited to contribute to it. It also belongs to the farmer's wife and her letters relating to any matter of interest to farm women will be welcomed. Your experience with live stock, and the results of your poultry raising will often interest your neighbors, and may help solve some of their problems. The proper care of fruit and shade trees, the art of productive gardening and the profit from proper cultivation of your vines and berry patches, all of these are within your farming experience and its telling will interest both city and country readers. The city garden and the back lot poultry farm are here to stay.

Profitable Hog Sale
At the November sale of Chester White hogs by Frank E. Sherer, of Aledo, Illinois, twenty boars averaged $31.25 and fifteen gilts averaged $30. This does not indicate that good breeding stock are to be given away because hogs are down in price.

Among the Wayne county men who are in attendance at the Farm Bureau convention at Indianapolis, are: Theo. Davis, of Greensfork; Earl Crawford, of Milton, and J. L. DeLoe, Wayne county agent. Many representative farmers who are not delegates, are present from several states, so great is the interest in the proceedings.

Indiana Has Five Delegates
The "Johns" have it. Of the five Indiana delegates to the Farm Bureau convention, three are named "John" and two of them John Brown, at that. There is John G. Brown, of Monon; John J. Brown, of Rockport, and John N. Dyer, of Vincennes. The two remaining are J. W. Mertz, of Corunna, and B. F. Catherwood, of Mulberry.

Meeting Precedes Farm Drive
Shelby county farmers will meet in annual session at Shelbyville on Dec. 15. It will be an all-day affair and will be addressed by John N. Dyer, of Vincennes, the principal speaker of the occasion. The morning will be devoted to the election of officers and the preparation for a membership drive, and the afternoon to a program of entertainment.

Sow Lives 36 Years
The Breeders' Journal, of Des Moines, Iowa, is responsible for a story relating to Black Betty, a big-boned Berkshire sow that was purchased from a trader in 1885 and expired at the ripe old age of 36 years in 1920. She was owned by the same family all those years, as the letter from her owner attests.

The writer states that this sow was bought by his father, who died in 1890, and then became his property. A record was kept as to the number of her progeny, which totaled 850 pigs. Figuring these at 300 pounds at time of sale, and at an average price of four cents per pound, her earnings were $10,200.

Honored With Marker
Black Betty's owner writes that "she was buried on the home farm, and her resting place is honored with a marker, which reads: "Born 1884, Died 1920. In memory of Black Betty, aged 36 years, who brought into this pork-loving world during her strenuous life 850 children, aggregating 255,000 pounds of pork, valued in the markets of the world at $10,200, this memorial stone is erected."

The writer lived near Lynchburg, Tenn., at the time of writing, says the editor, whom, sad to relate, fails to give the name of his correspondent, who wrote him several years ago.

HOWARD HITZ TO TAKE COURSE AT ST. PAUL

Madame Schuman-Heink has recommended Howard Hitz, local baritone, to a professor in St. Paul, Minn., as a possessor of a rare voice and predicts a brilliant future for the young singer. Mr. Hitz will leave Richmond before the first of the year to begin his studies.

Mr. Hitz sang before the noted operatic star in Indianapolis recently, and she asked him to come to Chicago and sing again in order to become better acquainted with his voice. After singing in Chicago Madame Schuman-Heink recommended him to the noted instructor who has agreed to train him.

Professors Nell and Ernstenhoff, of Indianapolis, who heard Hitz sing, says that he is the possessor of one of the sweetest voices they have heard in recent years.

Mr. Hitz is proprietor of an electrical shop on North Ninth street. He has lived in Richmond for about two years, coming here from Madison, Ind. He will dispose of his business here before going to St. Paul.

Indiana Brevities

SOUTH BEND—Four conductors on local street cars have confessed, it is said, to having stolen money from the fares each day. It is said that they would drop pennies into the cash boxes instead of nickles, when making change. This method of embezzlement added about $50 a day to their regular daily wages.

ANDERSON—The local Chamber of Commerce and Rotary Club entertained 60 Indianapolis wholesalers, who were making a tour of this section of the state. Advertising as a solution to the present business depression was advocated by the principal speakers.

SOUTH BEND—A loss of $130,000 was caused the management of the Auditorium theater building at South Bend, when flames destroyed the amusement house. Insurance covers the loss.

ANDERSON—Carl E. Thomas, 22 years old, of Anderson, has filed habeas corpus proceedings against his mother-in-law, Mrs. Mae Helmie, seeking to recover his bride of two months. Mrs. Emma Helmie Thompson, 18 years old. It is alleged by Thompson that Mrs. Helmie is unlawfully restraining his wife from living with him. They were happy, he said, until his mother-in-law interfered.

FRANKLIN—Miss Helen Bailey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bailey, of Franklin, won first place in the prize essay contest conducted by the Institute of International Education. She competed with several hundred students. A check for $100 as the first prize was enclosed with the letter announcing her victory.

RELIQUISH CHARTER
LOUISVILLE, Ky., Dec. 8.—After living a corporation existence for 126 years, the city of Jeffersontown, in Jefferson county, Ky., has petitioned the Jefferson circuit court to revoke its charter, and asked that its government revert to county control.

CHILEAN MINERS MAY MAKE COAL FIELDS CLOSE ALL SALOONS

(By Associated Press)

SANTIAGO, Dec. 8.—Coal fields in southern Chile will become "dry" soon if a provision of an agreement just signed between the miners and operators is enacted into law, and the fields may even become "bone dry" if a measure now before parliament is adopted. The agreement apparently has settled a long standing controversy between the workers and their employers over questions of wages and hours of work, and says among other things:

"The representatives of the companies and workmen agree to ask the public authorities to declare the coal region completely dry, prohibiting the introduction and sale of alcoholic drinks. While this measure is being enacted, they ask the prohibition of sale of liquor during pay days."

The newspaper, Ultimas Noticias, commenting on the provision, says it is "worthy of note that the prohibition movement in Chile is supported with great strength by labor." The newspaper asks early enactment of a measure introduced some months ago by Deputy Adrien, of the Democratic party, to which a large element of labor belongs, which forbids "the introduction, manufacture, sale or consumption of any kind of distilled or fermented drinks" not only in the coal fields but in the nitrate regions as well.

The bill has not yet been debated in the chamber.

Many Stores To Be Open During Christmas Week

Although no concerted action is sure, heads of several of Richmond's largest retail stores have declared it their intention to keep open their stores each night of Christmas week.

"By doing this," said a local store head Wednesday, "it will give Richmond citizens six nights preceding Christmas, in which to do their shopping. Those nights will be Saturday, Dec. 18, Monday, Dec. 20, Tuesday, Dec. 21, Wednesday, Dec. 22, Thursday, Dec. 23, and Friday, Dec. 24th. This arrangement will be both adequate for the needs of the customer and generous to the clerks, it is believed."
