

ELECTION REFORM TO SHORTEN CHOICE CHILEAN PRESIDENT

(By Associated Press.)
SANTIAGO, Dec. 10.—A shortening of the process of electing a president of Chile which has been in use since 1833 is urged by many public men here. It now takes almost three months to elect a chief executive, the actual legal stages in the election just concluded, in which Arturo Alessandri triumphed, having consumed 13 weeks. Some of the leaders of Chilean opinion want to reduce the period in which the country is kept in political turmoil.

A special commission of the Chamber of Deputies has submitted a measure providing for the election of President by a special assembly composed of members of both branches of parliament and presidential electors. All questions arising from the election would be decided by a tribunal which would include seven justices of the higher courts.

Debate on the measure is expected to begin soon and if the bill is adopted it will have to be approved by the new congress which is elected March next.

El Mercurio advocating electoral reform considers the bill would be an improvement over the present system, but suggests an office of vice-president should be created.

La Nacion favors direct election by the people as being short and simple. It opposes perpetuation of a system of electing the president by a restricted body of men.

Under the present electoral system, after the electors are chosen they must meet five weeks later and vote for their respective candidates. Then congress must assemble in joint session a month later, decide any claims or contested electors and proclaim the successful candidates. This system was devised to satisfy conditions of communication in the early days of Chilean independence.
