Howard Leigh will arrive from New York Sunday to be present at the opening of his exhibition of lithographs at the Public Art gallery Sunday afternoon, according to a telegram received Friday. Mr. Leigh, who graduated from Earlham college and has spent much time in Richmond, has been heralded as one of the sensations of the art world in New York and Paris, where his exhibit has been shown, and the entire collection of 47 lithographs was purchased by the French Ministry of Fine Arts. The exhibition which comes from the Anderson galleries in New York City, attracted much attention there. The collection should be particularly interesting to ex-service men, especially those who were in France, as it includes views of Chateau Thierry, Soissons, Saint Quentin, Rheims, Verdun, Rouen and Paris. The exhibit will be open at 2 p. m. Sunday. The presence of the noted young artist will be an added interest to the opening.

GERMANS SURRENDER WEAPONS TO ALLIES

BERLIN, Dec. 10—Germany has never recognized any obligations to disarm defense organizations which have no military character, says a note presented by the government to General Nollet, president of the inter-allied military control commission here. These organizations, the note pointed out, are both temporary and necessary.

The surrender of weapons throughout Germany is almost complete, the note says with the exception of Bavaria and east Prussia, where the people are under the influence of the radical regime of 1919, and a prolongation of the period for the turning over of firearms in these districts cannot be avoided until conditions are changed, it is asserted.
