

OHIO GIRL SECURES EDUCATION BY WORK DURING ODD HOURS

(By Associated Press.)
COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 14.—Working eight hours a day as a bookkeeper in her home town of Mannington, W. Va., catering in the evenings and in the odd moments knitting salable articles and collecting bills for firms, is the way Miss Edna Baumann, of Mannington, secured enough money for a college education.

She came to Ohio State University as a freshman this year, with money earned for three years of school. As a caterer in Mannington, Miss Baumann built up quite a reputation for her crisp patties and fancy cakes, and her catering experience stood her in good stead when she was appointed as head of a committee of South Hall girls to devise ways and means of raising $1,700 pledged to the stadium fund by the dormitory. She helped make candy to sell on the campus.

Miss Baumann makes all her own clothes and hats, and making hats for co-eds supplies her with pin money.

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 14.—In the course of a few years, Ohio State University will have one of the best equipped medical departments in the country, if the Ohio legislature sanctions plans that have been drawn up by the University department of architecture.

Plans now are being made for the immediate erection of an animal research building just west of the Homeopathic Hospital. In addition to this building, others are to be added until the medical department of the University will take on the aspect of a horseshoe with a central court leading out. The different departments of the proposed college will include a recitation hall, the animal research bureau, nurses' homes, a general hospital and a dental clinic.

CINCINNATI, O., Dec. 14.—The percentage of deaths caused by automobiles in Cincinnati is 16.7 for every 100,000, according to Dr. O. M. Craven, chief medical examiner of the Cincinnati board of health, who conducted an investigation of automobile fatalities.

The average for other large cities is 14.1. Dr. Craven declared, putting Cincinnati first in the number of deaths from that cause.

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 14.—In the budget which the state bureau of markets will submit to the general assembly will be a request for an appropriation to cover the cost of furnishing a daily market news service to all newspapers of the state.

TOLEDO, Dec. 14.—An historic French 75-m field piece, that had been through the world war, was given to the city of Toledo nearly two years ago by the French high commission. Recently members of the American Legion wondered what had become of it; no one had seen it, although it had been intended to set it up as a permanent monument.

The Legion members started an investigation, which resulted, they asserted, in finding the cannon in a city shed, piled in with street rollers, and other street brooms. The Legion is trying to find a suitable place for the gift.

TOLEDO, O., Dec. 14.—Toledo has a soft drink oasis of remarkable proportions, according to a report filed by investigators in the employ of safety director George P. Greenhalgh.

The report shows that there are no less than 988 soft drink dispensaries in the city. The report further asserts that a great many proprietors of the soft drink parlors do not confine their activities to handing out pop and such mild drinks, but frequently do a little bootlegging on the side. Council is urged to take strict action.

LANCASTER, O., Dec. 14.—James Snyder moved to the Rush Creek Valley from Pomeroy last September, and neglected to bring with him the family cat, by name "Jumbo."

Jumbo was with the Snyder family last month, coming back thin and gaunt, and with his claws extended to the quick. Snyder is firmly convinced that the cat hiked the 90 miles over the frozen roads.

Consumers' Association is Organized in Germany
(By Associated Press.)

GERA, Germany, Dec. 14.—A great consumers' association has been formed at this manufacturing center of Thuringia to purchase the products of the Gera textile mills in an attempt to force down prices and relieve unemployment. The Thuringian government has arranged to place 15,000,000 marks at the disposal of the association at a low rate of interest.

Several million marks worth of material already has been bought by the association and it is planned to extend the buying campaign until all factories can resume full operations.

Nearly 7,000 of the 8,000 men formerly employed in 27 textile mills here have been idle.

NOBLEWOMAN IS JUSTICE OF PEACE

Lady Caroline Petre and her son, head of the house.

Lady Caroline Petre, member of one of the oldest families in England, has been sworn in as justice of the peace for the county of Essex. In 1863 the fourth baron of the family line died in the tower of London, where he had been incarcerated for his religion. Lady Petre's small son is now the head of the house, as his father was killed in the World war.

Indiana Brevities

SHELBYVILLE.—The robbery of the home of Dr. Orville Edwards is the latest episode in the crime wave, which has struck this county and city. While Dr. and Mrs. Edwards slept, the thieves entered the home by cutting a hole in a screen, and took $120 from under a pillow on the bed. A drug was given the couple as they slept.

EVANSVILLE.—Vanderburg county grand jury has been asked to make an investigation of the alleged shortage of a local bank, of which Carl A. Heidt was formerly cashier. The president of the bank said that Heidt's shortage would amount to $25,000 or $30,000. Heidt has never been arrested.

COLUMBUS.—A 25 cent piece lost more than 20 years ago by Louis J. Richard, of this city, has been recovered. Richard will keep the coin as a souvenir, he states. The silver piece was given as a tip to Richard when he was a bellboy in the St. Denis hotel here a score of years ago. He lost the coin behind a door casing. When repairs were being made recently he recovered the money through an employee who knew of the incident.

LAFAYETTE.—Dr. and Mrs. C. B. Kerns, 715 Kossuth street, this city, found a bed of blooming pansies in their yard. No similar incident of this kind can be recalled by the oldest residents. It is said that the blooming flowers give evidence of the remarkable climatic changes during the last few years.

VINCENNES.—Judge W. H. Bridwell has granted Mrs. Anna M. Brunner a divorce from Andrew Brunner, millionaire operator, and given her $100,000 alimony. Cruel and inhuman treatment was alleged by Mrs. Brunner. The court also ordered the defendant to pay Mrs. Brunner's attorneys $10,000.

Body of "Highland Mary" Placed in New Grave
(By Associated Press.)

GREENOCK, Scotland, Dec. 14.—With great solemnity, the remains of Mary Campbell, Robert Burns' "Highland Mary," were transferred today from the Old West Kirkyard here to a new grave in Greenock cemetery. The removal had been necessitated by an extension of a local shipyard.

From the spot where Mary was buried 134 years ago, the coffin was borne reverently on the shoulders of representatives of Burns Clubs from all over the country to its new resting place, and a large crowd of Burns admirers attended an impressive funeral service.

Mary Campbell, a beautiful Argyle-shire girl, plighted her troth to the poet after a romantic courtship, but died of fever. By her Burns was inspired to some of his most famous Scottish love songs.

The monument which Burns admirers erected on Mary's grave in 1842 now covers the new tomb.

FIVE CROP FAILURES FOR DAKOTA FARMERS

FARGO, N. D., Dec. 14.—Farmers of western North Dakota who have passed through five successive crop failures are making a brave fight against adversity. Mrs. Myrtle G. Cole, home demonstration leader of the state agricultural college here, reports. Their ill fortune has been emphasized by the prosperity which farmers the rest of the country over experienced through the war years.

"Houses neatly papered with newspapers and provided with grocery box furniture," Mrs. Cole said, "often attest to the expedients to which many of these farmers have been forced. Their spirit is wonderful. They are for the most part fine cultured people."

"They came from miles about, mostly in wagons, to our home demonstration meetings. Automobiles are outnumbered five to one. At one place I was holding a demonstration on making clothing and when I asked the women what they wanted to take up they said they wanted to learn to 'make something of nothing.' The way in which they were dressed bore out their statement of the situation. One woman, in particular, had on clothes which were old and worn. She had an air of being dressed up, too, a pink ribbon about her neck."

"There is one helpful factor about the situation. There are lignite beds throughout the most of that country so many of the farmers are able to secure a plentiful supply of fuel."

"They are hopeful of a good crop next year because the winter thus far has been a mild one and they say that heretofore mild winters have been followed by bumper crops."

American Toys Replace Those from Foreign Lands
(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—Some idea of the extent to which foreign-made toys have been replaced in America by the home made article is given by the estimate of the American Forestry association that close to 30,000,000 feet of lumber was used this year by American toy makers.

By adding the millions of toys made from this wood to the enormous quantity made of other material, the Forestry association says some idea of the immensity of the industry will be gained. If the buying public will "look for the label" it adds, the foreign toys will be eliminated.

"The main consideration which holds wood in its place as toy material is not cheapness," says the association, "though that has something to do with it. Articles of large size would be too heavy if made of metal, but many articles are made of wood because it is the best, irrespective of cost or weight. Sleds are a good example."

HALF VAST COMMERCE CARRIED IN U. S. SHIPS

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—Nearly one-half of the nation's record-breaking overseas commerce in the past fiscal year was carried in American ships, Secretary Alexander shows in his annual report made public today. The overseas trade reached the unprecedented total of $1,875,434,000 and $5,071,905,000 of it was carried in American-owned vessels as against $368,359,000 carried in American bottoms the year before the war.

The total volume of imports and exports by land and sea was $13,349,681,000, nearly $3,000,000,000 above the previous record established in the fiscal year ended June 30, 1919. Imports for the last year amounted to $5,238,621,000 as compared with $3,095,720,000 for the previous year and almost $3,000,000,000 for the fiscal year of 1918. The value of exports for the last fiscal year aggregated $7,550,429,000, an increase of approximately $90,000,000 over the previous year and $2,000,000,000 over 1918.

Mr. Alexander also shows that during the last fiscal year the American merchant fleet was increased by 670 vessels of 3,516,000 gross tons and that on last June 30, American shipping comprised 28,183 vessels of 16,324,023 gross tons. This compared with 7,928,688 in 1914.

"Growth of American shipping has been wholly in the foreign trade," the secretary said, "much more than half of that growth having taken place since the armistice of Nov. 11, 1918, and the increase of the past fiscal year being double that of any year before the armistice. This increase in tonnage would mean little unless it stood also for an increase in trade."

Latvian Girls Seek Husbuds in America

LIAU, Latvia, Dec. 14.—Latvian girls are looking longingly at the American matrimonial market. The war has left Latvia with a surplus of women and husbands are scarce and expensive. Under the Lettish customs a bride must bring to her husband a dowry in keeping with the social position of her own family, and that of her husband.

A Lettish merchant consulted the Associated Press correspondent in all seriousness about the prospect of finding husbands for his daughters in America.

"One of my daughters is in New York in school. She is only 15 and I am not worrying about her," he said. "I know she will learn English perfectly and find a good husband who will not demand any money settlement. But I have two older daughters here in Latvia. An men that I would have for sons-in-law demand unreasonable dowries. They want a hundred thousand rubles at least (equivalent to about $750). Some of them demand 200,000. That's a lot of money to us, under present conditions, and I want to send the girls to America. They are studying English now, but I can't get permission for them to go to the United States."

REVISE BRAZIL TARIFF.
RIO DE JANEIRO, Dec. 14.—An important revision of the Brazilian customs tariff has been completed by the tax revision committee. It is expected, to be debated in the chamber, preparatory to becoming law. Before preparing the draft of the proposed law, the committee consulted producers, consumers and commercial associations.

The government, it is stated, wants the revised tariff passed into law before the end of the year.

HOW HE ENDED KIDNEY TROUBLE
"I had a severe attack of kidney trouble and for three weeks could not get out of doors and scarcely out of bed," writes C. E. Brower, Village Springs, Ala. "Could not bend over at all without the most excruciating pains. I purchased a bottle of Foley Kidney Pills. Was relieved after first few doses and continued their use until completely cured. I consider Foley Kidney Pills the best kidney remedy in the world. No recurrence of my trouble." A. G. Luken & Co., 606 Main.

The Theatres

MURRETTE
The Murette Theatre will have as its feature attraction Wednesday, Constance Talmadge in "Dangerous Business," adapted by John Emerson and Anita Loos from Madeline Sharp Buchanan's story, "The Chessboard." It is directed by William Neill.

According to advance reports this drama is different from the usual run. It does not follow the conventional lines of the persecuted heroine, the villain and the rescuing hero. Nancy Flavel, the madcap society girl who is always falling in and out of love is about to marry one man when at the very altar in order to escape a disastrous marriage she declares she is already a married woman and the wedding is off.

But out of the frying pan into the fire of rueful trouble. The alleged "bridegroom" turns up and the pair are conducted to the bridal chamber by his mother. Here he orders Nancy to undress and get into bed. She is afraid to tell her family of her predicament and complies. The "bridegroom" sits on the side of the bed and begins to disrobe. Now always heretofore, someone has arrived on the scene and rescued the girl. But the night passes. The acting of Miss Talmadge portraying the terrible mental torture Nancy Flavel undergoes in this unique situation is declared to be unequalled for its sincerity.

MURRAY
Many thousands of dollars were added to the cost of producing "West is West," starring Harry Carey now showing at the Murray Theatre, which Universal must charge up to the account of pioneering. About 12,000 feet of film were "shot" a quarter of a mile and more below the earth's surface, and there atmospheric conditions hitherto unknown were met with. As a result, when the company of forty people returned to Universal City after a three weeks' stay in Jerome, Arizona, it was discovered that part of the company had to return to the mining district to retake many of the underground scenes. Owing to static conditions in the mine the negative when developed, showed quite a number of "star spots" and "rain stripes."

"Which is all very well if you're filming a patriotic story—these stars and stripes—" said Harry Carey, "but darn if they'll do in this stuff." Only a dozen of the company made the return trip to Jerome, however, as the film spoiled happened to be just that taken underground and only part of the company worked in the actual mine.

The first time that motion picture cameras and lights had ever been permitted below the surface in the United Verde mine and in its extension, the Daisy, was when Harry Carey by special arrangement with the owners, filmed scenes there for "West is West." The story is by Eugene Manlove Rhodes, scenarized by George Hull and directed by Val Paul.

MURRAY VAUDEVILLE.
Not bad, but just a little below the standard and pace set in several of the bills given at the Murray theatre in the past few weeks, is the vaudeville the first half of this week. We are afraid that manager Holland has spoiled us with those exceptionally fine vaudeville revues.

An ankle which is called the "Ten Thousand Dollar Ankle," proves the attraction of the headliner, by Will Armstrong and Maudie. The girl, a French maid, finds many convenient ways and styles of showing that much talked-of ankle, much to the evident delight of all concerned, including young and old. Her hose, by the way, is of the abbreviated model, and we might add that the $10,000 ankle is—just what it is said to be. Enough for that. The act was highly entertaining and humorous. The work of the team was good, but man against heavy odds.

The "Three Alexs," equilibrists, deserve a hearty mention for their expert and difficult balancing feats. It is, in the writer's estimation, one of the best of aerial or balancing acts given in the local play house.

Miller and Capman, in "Just a Little Different," won a good hand from the fans by their exhibit of fancy dancing. One chap, a blonde, could twist himself into inconceivable shapes, both face and figure, and not miss a step.

Talk of High Cost of Medicine
"Although I paid only $2.00 for 2 bottles of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy I wouldn't take $100 for what 2 doses have done for me. My partner also has taken a dose with wonderful results. He was threatened with an operation for stomach and bowel trouble and is sure he will be all right now. We both suffered from indigestion and bloating with gas." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.
