

BOOK BY CHIPPENDALE PUBLISHED IN 1754 NOW IN MUSEUM HERE

(By Associated Press)
PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 16.—A recent addition to the Pennsylvania Museum, Memorial hall, Fairmount park, of interest to cabinet makers is that of a huge quarto volume of "The Gentleman and Cabinet Makers' Director," by Thomas Chippendale, master cabinet maker of the eighteenth century.

The book, which is very rare, was published in London in 1754 and put under the protection of Hugh, Earl of Northumberland. Attached to the venerable tome is a list of the subscribers, among which figure the names of noblemen, cabinet makers and even that of a bricklayer. There are 160 copper plate engravings and the work is "a large collection of the most elegant and useful designs of household furniture in the Gothic, Chinese and modern taste."

Resents Criticism.
In a communication addressed to the public of his time, Chippendale resented the harsh criticism that his drawings were specious and impossible to be worked out by any mechanics whatsoever, and said that on the whole he has given to design in "The Gentleman and Cabinet Makers' Director" what may be executed with advantage by the hands of a skilled workman. He further claimed that the designs were ably calculated to assist gentlemen in the choice of their furniture and cabinet-makers in the execution of their designs.

This book of Chippendale, which is about to be put on exhibition for the first time, was made thirty years before the embassy from George III to the Emperor Kien Lung of China brought back more accurate information concerning the costumes and manners of the Chinese, but they mark the height of the fashion for "Chinoiserie" so far as England was concerned.

On the delicate copper plate drawings in the Chippendale book are to be found proofs that only a few were actually constructed. But as a guide to the style of period and a model of the working drawings from the master's workshop they are invaluable. Of late the book has been difficult to obtain in Europe and so far as is known there is but one copy in Philadelphia.

Spanish Newspapers Plead For Free Trade

(By Associated Press)
MADRID, Dec. 16.—A Chinese wall is being built around Spain by Premier Dato's cabinet and its supporters in pursuing the policy of raising the customs tariffs in order to prevent imports of foreign merchandise, says an editorial in La Libertad. The newspaper makes a strong plea for free trade, arguing that only by such means can the nation develop.

It argues that Bismarck's idea of shutting out imports and subsidizing exports brought about the enrichment of a few nabobs and the general impoverishment of the population of Germany.

Premier Dato, by following a like policy, it concludes, is playing into the hands of the wealthy and simultaneously creating discontent among the poor.
