

FIRST NIGHT SCHOOL CERTIFICATES GIVEN OUT MONDAY NIGHT

The materialization of a new idea will go into effect Monday evening, when about 100 night school students are awarded certificates for excellent work and for attending classes at least 16 out of the 26 nights of the term. These will be the first night school students to whom certificates have ever been issued at the Richmond school. The 100 to whom they will be awarded represent less than one-sixth of the students who enrolled this term and less than one-third of those who have been fairly regular in attendance.

"These certificates are awarded for a high standard of class work," N. F. Fultz, vocational supervisor stated, in commenting on the issuance of certificates. "We aim to make them representative of a high standard to be sought after" he said in explaining that the certificates were not to be too easy to get.

The first term of night school closes Monday evening, it was announced at the vocational office Monday. The second term begins Jan. 10. Enrollments for the second semester will be taken on Thursday and Friday, Jan. 6 and 7.

Seven Millinery Pupils.

Night school students who will be awarded the certificates for the semester just ended are: in millinery, Mildred Nicholson, Viola Stegall, Mabel Arnold, Mae Adams, Nelle Warren, Clara Brinker and Marcella Isen.

Mechanical drawing: Clyde L. Cluxton, Kenneth Hamilton, Karl Haltzman, Ray F. Steinbrink, Roy Plummer, John Fertig, Selby L. Williams and Jesse W. Mathews.

Business English students are Rose Taube, Joe Schultz, William Scheler, Leona Oesting, Pierson Naanes, William Kanke, Ruth Bosworth and Lulu Bartlett.

Certificates in penmanship will be awarded to Russell Hunt, Morris Collector, Ruth Bosworth, Lulu Bartlett, Mabel Miller, Leona Oesting, Rose Taube, P. L. Wall and Joe Schultz.

Bookkeeping students: M. Hatt, Mark J. Meagan, Maud Miller, Florence Osborne, Cecil Robinson, Martin Schroeder, John Starr, Ruth Stevens, Raymond Wall, Caroline Williams, William Kanke, William Scheler, Oran Hirschfeld, Ida Maag, and Pierson Naanes.

Many in Commercial Work.

Commercial work: Crescentia Asfalg, Caroline Williams, Ruth Stevens, Florence Osborn, Margaret Jester, Pauline Schenck, Mabel Phillips, Anna McDonald, Stella Koogle, Stella Harmon, Lila Terrell, Naomi Lane, Joyce Snapp, Ralph Price, Eva Hatt, Mabel Fisherback, Luella Schenck, Fred Sturtevant, Willard Morgan.

Cooking: Bessie Cluse, Marie Parish, Aline Brokamp, Minnie Hall, Katherine Stanton, Helen Owens, and Alice Heck. Sewing: Alice Jones, Marie Heironimus, Margaret Holsting, Mrs. Garnet Oesting, Mary Bonkowska, Elma Heironimus, Pearl Warner.

Dressmaking: Blanch Doran, Harriet Rickenson, Mildred Starr, Sadie B. Dille, Millinery: Lois Uhte and Olga Turner. Physical education: Claudia Brannon and Josephine Bandowski.

Auto mechanics: I. G. Smith, Harry

VANDERLIP, BACK, DENIES ATROCITIES, TELLS REDS' HOPES

KEYSTONE

Ohio Students Form Coop Book Store

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 20.—The high cost of text books will not mean anything in the lives of students at Ohio State University here, if a plan to organize a co-operative text book store, to sell texts at cost, goes through.

The Men's Student Council, and R. M. Royer, purchasing agent at the university are working on the plan, and soon a stock campaign will be launched on the campus.

Students, faculty members and alumni will be solicited to buy stock, which will sell at $5 a share, and the holdings will be limited to five shares a person.

J. P. Geiger, student chairman of the committee in charge of the undertaking, is responsible for the statement that the books will be sold at absolute cost.

"The store is to be co-operative in every sense of the word," he said.

The appointment of a manager from outside the university. This will prevent any friction, it is felt. Students, however, will be employed to assist in the store.

—P. Geiger, student chairman of the committee in charge of the undertaking, is responsible for the statement that the books will be sold at absolute cost.

"The store is to be co-operative in every sense of the word," he said.

The appointment of a manager from outside the university. This will prevent any friction, it is felt. Students, however, will be employed to assist in the store.

—P. Geiger, student chairman of the committee in charge of the undertaking, is responsible for the statement that the books will be sold at absolute cost.

"The store is to be co-operative in every sense of the word," he said.

The appointment of a manager from outside the university. This will prevent any friction, it is felt. Students, however, will be employed to assist in the store.

—P. Geiger, student chairman of the committee in charge of the undertaking, is responsible for the statement that the books will be sold at absolute cost.

"The store is to be co-operative in every sense of the word," he said.

The appointment of a manager from outside the university. This will prevent any friction, it is felt. Students, however, will be employed to assist in the store.

—P. Geiger, student chairman of the committee in charge of the undertaking, is responsible for the statement that the books will be sold at absolute cost.

"The store is to be co-operative in every sense of the word," he said.

The appointment of a manager from outside the university. This will prevent any friction, it is felt. Students, however, will be employed to assist in the store.

—P. Geiger, student chairman of the committee in charge of the undertaking, is responsible for the statement that the books will be sold at absolute cost.

"The store is to be co-operative in every sense of the word," he said.

The appointment of a manager from outside the university. This will prevent any friction, it is felt. Students, however, will be employed to assist in the store.

—P. Geiger, student chairman of the committee in charge of the undertaking, is responsible for the statement that the books will be sold at absolute cost.

"The store is to be co-operative in every sense of the word," he said.

The appointment of a manager from outside the university. This will prevent any friction, it is felt. Students, however, will be employed to assist in the store.

—P. Geiger, student chairman of the committee in charge of the undertaking, is responsible for the statement that the books will be sold at absolute cost.

"The store is to be co-operative in every sense of the word," he said.

The appointment of a manager from outside the university. This will prevent any friction, it is felt. Students, however, will be employed to assist in the store.

—P. Geiger, student chairman of the committee in charge of the undertaking, is responsible for the statement that the books will be sold at absolute cost.

"The store is to be co-operative in every sense of the word," he said.

The appointment of a manager from outside the university. This will prevent any friction, it is felt. Students, however, will be employed to assist in the store.

—P. Geiger, student chairman of the committee in charge of the undertaking, is responsible for the statement that the books will be sold at absolute cost.

"The store is to be co-operative in every sense of the word," he said.

The appointment of a manager from outside the university. This will prevent any friction, it is felt. Students, however, will be employed to assist in the store.

—P. Geiger, student chairman of the committee in charge of the undertaking, is responsible for the statement that the books will be sold at absolute cost.

"The store is to be co-operative in every sense of the word," he said.

The appointment of a manager from outside the university. This will prevent any friction, it is felt. Students, however, will be employed to assist in the store.

—P. Geiger, student chairman of the committee in charge of the undertaking, is responsible for the statement that the books will be sold at absolute cost.

"The store is to be co-operative in every sense of the word," he said.

The appointment of a manager from outside the university. This will prevent any friction, it is felt. Students, however, will be employed to assist in the store.

—P. Geiger, student chairman of the committee in charge of the undertaking, is responsible for the statement that the books will be sold at absolute cost.

"The store is to be co-operative in every sense of the word," he said.

The appointment of a manager from outside the university. This will prevent any friction, it is felt. Students, however, will be employed to assist in the store.

—P. Geiger, student chairman of the committee in charge of the undertaking, is responsible for the statement that the books will be sold at absolute cost.

"The store is to be co-operative in every sense of the word," he said.

The appointment of a manager from outside the university. This will prevent any friction, it is felt. Students, however, will be employed to assist in the store.

—P. Geiger, student chairman of the committee in charge of the undertaking, is responsible for the statement that the books will be sold at absolute cost.

"The store is to be co-operative in every sense of the word," he said.

The appointment of a manager from outside the university. This will prevent any friction, it is felt. Students, however, will be employed to assist in the store.

—P. Geiger, student chairman of the committee in charge of the undertaking, is responsible for the statement that the books will be sold at absolute cost.

"The store is to be co-operative in every sense of the word," he said.

The appointment of a manager from outside the university. This will prevent any friction, it is felt. Students, however, will be employed to assist in the store.

—P. Geiger, student chairman of the committee in charge of the undertaking, is responsible for the statement that the books will be sold at absolute cost.

"The store is to be co-operative in every sense of the word," he said.

The appointment of a manager from outside the university. This will prevent any friction, it is felt. Students, however, will be employed to assist in the store.

—P. Geiger, student chairman of the committee in charge of the undertaking, is responsible for the statement that the books will be sold at absolute cost.

"The store is to be co-operative in every sense of the word," he said.

The appointment of a manager from outside the university. This will prevent any friction, it is felt. Students, however, will be employed to assist in the store.

—P. Geiger, student chairman of the committee in charge of the undertaking, is responsible for the statement that the books will be sold at absolute cost.

"The store is to be co-operative in every sense of the word," he said.

The appointment of a manager from outside the university. This will prevent any friction, it is felt. Students, however, will be employed to assist in the store.

—P. Geiger, student chairman of the committee in charge of the undertaking, is responsible for the statement that the books will be sold at absolute cost.

"The store is to be co-operative in every sense of the word," he said.

The appointment of a manager from outside the university. This will prevent any friction, it is felt. Students, however, will be employed to assist in the store.

—P. Geiger, student chairman of the committee in charge of the undertaking, is responsible for the statement that the books will be sold at absolute cost.

"The store is to be co-operative in every sense of the word," he said.

The appointment of a manager from outside the university. This will prevent any friction, it is felt. Students, however, will be employed to assist in the store.

—P. Geiger, student chairman of the committee in charge of the undertaking, is responsible for the statement that the books will be sold at absolute cost.

"The store is to be co-operative in every sense of the word," he said.

The appointment of a manager from outside the university. This will prevent any friction, it is felt. Students, however, will be employed to assist in the store.

—P. Geiger, student chairman of the committee in charge of the undertaking, is responsible for the statement that the books will be sold at absolute cost.

"The store is to be co-operative in every sense of the word," he said.

The appointment of a manager from outside the university. This will prevent any friction, it is felt. Students, however, will be employed to assist in the store.

—P. Geiger, student chairman of the committee in charge of the undertaking, is responsible for the statement that the books will be sold at absolute cost.

"The store is to be co-operative in every sense of the word," he said.

The appointment of a manager from outside the university. This will prevent any friction, it is felt. Students, however, will be employed to assist in the store.

—P. Geiger, student chairman of the committee in charge of the undertaking, is responsible for the statement that the books will be sold at absolute cost.

"The store is to be co-operative in every sense of the word," he said.

The appointment of a manager from outside the university. This will prevent any friction, it is felt. Students, however, will be employed to assist in the store.

—P. Geiger, student chairman of the committee in charge of the undertaking, is responsible for the statement that the books will be sold at absolute cost.

"The store is to be co-operative in every sense of the word," he said.

The appointment of a manager from outside the university. This will prevent any friction, it is felt. Students, however, will be employed to assist in the store.

—P. Geiger, student chairman of the committee in charge of the undertaking, is responsible for the statement that the books will be sold at absolute cost.

"The store is to be co-operative in every sense of the word," he said.

The appointment of a manager from outside the university. This will prevent any friction, it is felt. Students, however, will be employed to assist in the store.

—P. Geiger, student chairman of the committee in charge of the undertaking, is responsible for the statement that the books will be sold at absolute cost.

"The store is to be co-operative in every sense of the word," he said.

The appointment of a manager from outside the university. This will prevent any friction, it is felt. Students, however, will be employed to assist in the store.

—P. Geiger, student chairman of the committee in charge of the undertaking, is responsible for the statement that the books will be sold at absolute cost.

"The store is to be co-operative in every sense of the word," he said.

The appointment of a manager from outside the university. This will prevent any friction, it is felt. Students, however, will be employed to assist in the store.

—P. Geiger, student chairman of the committee in charge of the undertaking, is responsible for the statement that the books will be sold at absolute cost.

"The store is to be co-operative in every sense of the word," he said.

The appointment of a manager from outside the university. This will prevent any friction, it is felt. Students, however, will be employed to assist in the store.

—P. Geiger, student chairman of the committee in charge of the undertaking, is responsible for the statement that the books will be sold at absolute cost.

"The store is to be co-operative in every sense of the word," he said.

The appointment of a manager from outside the university. This will prevent any friction, it is felt. Students, however, will be employed to assist in the store.

—P. Geiger, student chairman of the committee in charge of the undertaking, is responsible for the statement that the books will be sold at absolute cost.

"The store is to be co-operative in every sense of the word," he said.

The appointment of a manager from outside the university. This will prevent any friction, it is felt. Students, however, will be employed to assist in the store.

—P. Geiger, student chairman of the committee in charge of the undertaking, is responsible for the statement that the books will be sold at absolute cost.

"The store is to be co-operative in every sense of the word," he said.

The appointment of a manager from outside the university. This will prevent any friction, it is felt. Students, however, will be employed to assist in the store.

—P. Geiger, student chairman of the committee in charge of the undertaking, is responsible for the statement that the books will be sold at absolute cost.

"The store is to be co-operative in every sense of the word," he said.

The appointment of a manager from outside