

CUBA URGED TO IMPROVE ITS FINANCE

Adoption of as Much of Federal Reserve Banking System as is Legally Possible Recommended.

NEW LAW IS DRAFTED

(By Associated Press)
HAVANA, Cuba, Dec. 24.—Adoption by the Cuban government of as much of the United States federal reserve banking system as is legally possible has been recommended to President Menocal by Jose Manuel Tarafa, a prominent Cuban financier. Signor Tarafa, who recently made an unsuccessful trip to the United States for the purpose of negotiating a Cuban loan of $100,000,000 with American bankers, has submitted to the president a number of suggestions which he believes will straighten out the financial situation in the island.

In case there are legal obstacles to Cuba being admitted to the United States federal reserve system, Signor Tarafa declares, the United States government should be invited to operate with Cuba in establishing in this city a bank of emission. Another plan suggested is that invitations, be extended American banks enjoying the confidence of the federal reserve board to establish here, in agreement with the Cuban government, a bank of emission under the same regulations that govern the United States federal reserve bank.

Other recommendations. The Washington government also should be asked to set up a branch in this city to take up dirty and unsanitary American bank notes and replace them with new bills.

Other recommendations include the issuance of two series of bonds to secure bank loans; governmental guarantee of savings deposits of workers; inspection of banking institutions by a proposal national treasury commission which would be given the power to suspend government loans to banks for guilty of violating regulations.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24.—A draft of a law designed to clear the way for an improvement of finances in Cuba has been prepared for submission at a special session of the Cuban congress called for next Monday, according to advices received today by the state department. Unofficial information has indicated, however, the improbability of a quorum since the group which has been opposing the plan for financial reform is expected to continue tactics which have heretofore blocked passage of any reform measure.

Albert Rathbone, New York, formerly a treasury department official, who was sent to Cuba as a financial adviser, has given to the state department a report embodying the suggestions made by him to President Menocal, and it is believed the president will incorporate in his message to congress Monday many of the suggestions by Mr. Rathbone.

ART GALLERY OPEN SUNDAY AFTERNOON

The Public Art gallery now exhibiting the collection of 47 lithographs by Howard Leigh will be open Sunday afternoon from 2 until 5. It is being opened Sunday for the benefit of the many persons who desire to see the exhibit and have not had an opportunity.

Over 100 persons attended the opening held last Wednesday when Mr. Leigh was present. Richmond is the only place in the United States besides New York, where the collection has been shown. In January it will be on exhibit in a Cleveland gallery.

The entire collection consists of pictures made in France, many of them of the war devastated regions with which many ex-servicemen are familiar. The French press paid many tributes to the young artist when his exhibit was shown there and the French government purchased the entire collection for galleries in France.

Pig Used as Bird Dog By Champion Hunter

(By Associated Press)
NATCHEZ, Miss., Dec. 24.—Tucker Gibson, known as the champion big game hunter of Texas parish, Louisiana, claims he owns a pig which he uses in the capacity of a bird dog, and asserts the pig makes perfect stands and never flushes a covey of birds.

Mr. Gibson said that soon after the birth of the pig, on the death of its mother, it was adopted by a pointer dog with a litter of pups and that the pig continued to associate with its foster brothers and sisters after it became well grown. He declared that the hunting proclivities of the pig were accidentally discovered the first time the young dogs were taken to the field, the pig accompanying the party and taking an animated part in the hunt.

Believe Crime Wave Crest Passed in N. Y.

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Dec. 24.—The absence of reports of crimes of outstanding importance within the last two days led police today to express the belief that the crest of New York's crime wave has passed. Although 51 arrests were made during the night most of them were for minor charges.

Police commissioner Enright, however, said the intense campaign against lawlessness would be continued relentlessly. He issued orders recalling to active patrol duty several hundred police who are on special duty. The order is effective Jan. 1.

GERMANS STILL HAVE MANY MACHINE GUNS SAYS ANDRE LEFEVRE

(By Associated Press)
PARIS, Dec. 24.—Andre Lefevre, former minister of war, in explaining to the chamber of deputies last night his controversy with his colleagues in the cabinet which lead to his retirement from the war ministry, said: "I believe Germany still has 200,000 machine guns."

He affirmed also that the Krupp works had continued working under intense pressure, turning out field guns after the armistice and until the cease fire's commission of control was installed.

"What kind of a gun is this?" exclaimed M. Lefevre.

Works on New Gun
"We know from documents found on battlefields that the German 77 of the new model of 1918 was not satisfactory. Is it logical to suppose that Krupp, after the armistice, continued to make unsatisfactory pieces?"

"No, Krupp was working on a new gun, one that would use the new projectile which we found left behind when the Germans were abandoning the last bank of the Rhine. They were much more carefully made than the ordinary 77 shells. The cases were marked for the experimental battery."

BEVERIDGE TO SPEAK TO 2 AUDIENCES IN CITY NEXT JANUARY

Albert J. Beveridge will deliver two addresses in Richmond, one on Jan. 27 and one on Jan. 28. It was announced Friday. The first lecture will be under the auspices of the First English Lutheran Bible school. Subject will be "The Bible As Literature." The address will be given in the auditorium of the church.

The second address on the following evening will be sponsored by the Wayne County Bar association. Subject of the second address will be "Development of the constitution under John Marshall." The John Marshall lecture also will be delivered in the high school auditorium.

Mr. Beveridge has been accorded wide recognition for his work in writing "The Life of John Marshall." He has been in constant demand for addresses touching upon the life of the great justice. Mr. Beveridge was invited to address the last meeting of the National Bar association as a tribute to his work in compiling the biography of the eminent lawyer.

Lecture Delivered Elsewhere.
The speech to be delivered in Richmond will be the same address that has been delivered before the law students of the University of Michigan and similar institutions. The address is to be delivered before the University of Pennsylvania and before the New York Bar association at Philadelphia, Jan. 7.

The popularity of Senator Beveridge's addresses has been such that it has been difficult for local organizations to arrange a speaking date for him in this city. It was found that he would be able to come here late in January and arrangements have been completed for his appearance here.

Definite plans have not been completed for Mr. Beveridge's entertainment while in the city but the popularity of the eminent orator among his following in Wayne county will no doubt result in many social affairs during his two day stay here.

TAFT'S ADVICE SOUGHT BY HARDING TODAY

MARION, O., Dec. 24.—President-elect Harding turned to former President Taft today for counsel on the world peace problem and on practical details of organizing the next administration.

The conference was arranged at Mr. Harding's request and is understood to have concerned particularly the proposal for a new international court in which the former president has been interested for many years. Mr. Taft was a supporter of the Versailles league but has taken the attitude that some different agency must be organized to stabilize world conditions.

Another subject on which the president-elect wanted information and advice was the proposed reorganization of the executive branch of the government. In the closing days of his administration Mr. Taft made a study of the problem and appointed an efficiency commission to undertake the work of reorganization.

The coming of Mr. Taft revived speculation about his possible appointment to some high post under the coming administration. He has been mentioned most frequently for a place on the supreme court bench but his name also has been heard many times in cabinet gossip.

DOMINICAN PEOPLES GET RESPONSIBILITY

The proclamation was in the nature of a Christmas gift to the Dominican people and presaged the withdrawal of American control over the affairs of the West Indian republic which began more than four years ago.

Admiral Snowden announced that a committee of representative Dominican citizens would soon be appointed with a technical adviser to be named by President Wilson to formulate amendments to the constitution, revise the laws of the republic and draft a new election law.

WILLIAM GREGG SAYS HOLD-UP PREVENTED DIVISION OF MONEY

One of the best hauls recorded in the hold-up history of the county was revealed in circuit court Friday morning when William C. Gregg was called into court to tell the judge why orders given at the time of granting a divorce had not been carried out.

Mamie Gregg was granted divorce from William C. Gregg on Dec. 6, according to evidence produced. A division of personal property was ordered. At that time Gregg was in possession of $700 in cash. When Frank Strayer, who was appointed receiver to divide the property, tried to make a division, this money was missing.

Gregg testified that the money had been spent for living necessities but on further examination revealed the fact that he had been held up and relieved of a sum which was estimated at about $500.

Tells of Robbery

"Where is the rest of the money?" Attorney Robbins questioned after Gregg had accounted for about $200. "I was held up and robbed," Gregg stated.

"Where and when," he was asked. "Oh, eight or ten days ago," he replied complacently. "I was going from the National road to my home north of Louisville when two masked men stopped me near the railroad and relieved me of my money. They then went north on the railroad. It developed that the railroad runs east and west at this point.

"Did you make any noise or inform any one that you had been robbed?" Robbins asked.

"No," he said. "I didn't see that it made any difference."

"Your Honor, I don't believe a word this man says about this hold-up," Attorney Reller concluded. The case was continued while further evidence of an agreement for settlement was to be produced.

Legion Head Sends Xmas Message to Disabled World War Veterans

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 24.—A Christmas message has been sent by F. W. Galbraith, Jr., national commander of the American Legion, to 20,000 sick and disabled veterans of the world war in 1,400 hospitals. It will be read or posted on the bulletin board in every hospital. The American Legion is making a special effort to provide Christmas cheer and entertainment to disabled comrades. The message follows: "To Our Disabled Comrades: It is with emotions more deeply felt than it is possible for me to express that I greet you this Christmas Day—you men to whom this nation owes a debt it can never repay; you whose fortunes it shall ever be the first proud privilege and duty of the American Legion to espouse—you who are still in hospitals because of wounds and infirmities suffered in your country's service.

Years Have Been Busy.
"More than two years have passed since the echo of the last shot died away. To those of us who by good luck came through and whose sacrifices should not be mentioned in the same breath with yours, they have been busy years. They have gone swiftly by while we have been re-establishing ourselves in the callings of peace, insuring futures to ourselves and our families. So much has intervened that the war seems very far away at times.

"I know some of you men feel that many of us seem to have forgotten there ever was a war. These same two years have not passed so swiftly for you who remain in hospitals. Twenty thousand of you still are there—silver tubes in your sides, lungs burned out by gas, perhaps one leg here, one in the Argonne. The war is still very near and very real to you who are the living and virtually forgotten examples of the terrible price that was paid for the victory. We

FOOD COMMISSIONER SAYS MILK QUALITY MUST BE IMPROVED

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 24.—Several Richmond lunch rooms and restaurants are selling a quality of milk that is below the standard required by the state, L. L. Miller, state food and drug commissioner, announced Friday.

Violators have been warned to conform with the standard required by the state. Notices have been sent to each offender. Mr. Miller said Friday, that unless he complies with the clean-up ruling he will be prosecuted.

Legion Head Sends Xmas Message to Disabled World War Veterans

enjoy the fruits of that victory. You, who did most to gain it, only pay the price. It seemed.

"Shortly after I was elected national commander of the American Legion I was shocked at the reports that came to me concerning conditions which surround our comrades in hospitals. I do not refer now to the conditions in the hospitals themselves or the nature of the professional care and treatment which as patients you receive. There have been reports of grave shortcomings in these particulars but as a whole the situation has improved. The legion, I am proud to say, has had a good deal to do with that improvement and will continue to have. What I speak of here is a charge which I make against myself as well as against the rest of the general public here on the outside.

The charge is that of neglect. True, the nation has given liberally to see that you are properly housed, clothed and cared for professionally. Millions have been voted at a mere nod for these purposes—and then we have virtuously turned away and said, 'Well, that job's done—these boys can't have too much care.'

Hard Battle to Come.
"But the job hasn't been done. You men know where are the visitors who once thronged the hospitals bearing flowers, gifts and entertainment? Where are the folks with their automobiles who used to vie with each other for the honor of taking their wounded heroes out for a spin? Where are the thousands and one little human attentions from the world outside that mean as much more than medicine and with which the public showered our disabled in war days? Those are the questions you might ask but don't because you are men—fighting men, and

JAMES S. ZOLLER DIES AT GREENSBURG HOME

James S. Zoller, 48 years old, formerly a well-known business man of Richmond, died at Greensburg Thursday night, according to a telegram received by Nimrod H. Johnson, Friday.

Mr. Zoller had been in failing health for a year past, but his condition did not become serious until four weeks ago, when he was stricken with paralysis. Besides his wife and son Miles, he is survived by a brother, Albert, of Indianapolis; and a sister, Mrs. Thomas P. Davidson, of Greensburg.

A little more than 10 years ago Mr. Zoller left Richmond to become identified with a hardwood lumber and veneer concern in Cincinnati. He prospered in this new line, but broken health caused him to sever his connection with the Cincinnati firm and he returned to his old home at Greensburg.

Mr. Zoller was prominent in the affairs of Masons and Elks' lodges during his residence in Richmond.

The funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Sunday at Greensburg. A number of Richmond persons will be in attendance.

STARVATION IS EXPECTED TO END WAR

Italian Government Troops Settle Down to Wait for Hunger to Defeat D'Annunzio's Opposition to Treaty.

HOSTILITIES ABSENT

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, Dec. 24.—Starvation is expected soon to bring to an end the "state of war" now existing between the regency of Quarperno at Fiume and the kingdom of Italy. The 48-hour time limit given civilians to leave the city expired at six o'clock last night and it appears the Italian government troops have settled down to wait for hunger to defeat D'Annunzio's plan to combat the enforcement of the treaty of Rapallo.

One government soldier is reported to have been killed by a bomb thrown by one of the D'Annunzio legionaries, and shots are said to have been fired at an Italian destroyer, but thus far the war has not been marked by any notable hostilities.

Many Proclamations
A barrage of proclamations has been hurled into the rival camps by D'Annunzio and General Cavigli, commander of the government troops forming the cordon about Fiume. Those pronouncements have kept public interest centered for the time being at least in the strange situation that has developed on the eastern shore of the Adriatic.

D'Annunzio's latest proclamation invites the people to Fiume to sacrifice lives and fortunes in opposition to carrying out of the Rapallo pact. The people, however, did not seem to be very anxious to follow his advice. In spite of orders from the post-soldier forbidding any one leaving Fiume, several hundred persons are said to have fled, not wishing to share, even by their presence, in responsibility for any rash act committed by D'Annunzio or his officers.

Russian Troops Land
The fact that some Russian troops, formerly a part of General Wrangel's army, have been landed in Dalmatia has caused apprehension in some quarters that they might be used to oust D'Annunzio from Fiume. It is asserted, however, that there is no intention of using the Russians for this purpose.
