The home of Mrs. Edgar Henley on South Seventeenth street, was the scene of one of the prettiest Yuletide weddings Tuesday evening, when her daughter, Miss Electa A. Henley, was united in marriage to Albert Harry Wilson of Beaver Falls, Pa. Over the entrance to the front room, where the ceremony took place, was a lovely arch of greens with a large bell suspended from the center of the arch. Columbia roses, California pepperberries latticing the windows and arranged on the mantle amid the gleam of tall white candles made a beautiful setting for the quiet wedding witnessed by members of the immediate family only. The bride coming down the stairway to the strains of the Lohengrin wedding march, played by Mrs. Charles L. Bourne, cousin of the bride, came down an aisle made by ropes of cedar, which were held by Miss Elizabeth Allen and Edward Wilson, to the front room where she was met by the groom. According to the Quaker custom the couple married themselves, the Rev. John R. Webb officiating.

The bride's gown of pearl gray silk poplin was her mother's wedding-dress. In her hair she wore a chased silver comb, the gift of her great grandfather to her great grandmother. Her flowers were a corsage of Ophelia roses, violets and strelitzia. Following the service a wedding supper was served. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson left Tuesday evening for Pittsburgh, Pa., from where they will go to their new home in Beaver Falls, Pa., where Mr. Wilson is a member of the faculty at Geneva college. The bride travelled in a suit of tan valdecone trimmed in seal fur and a hat of taupe duchess and fur. The out-of-town guests were Mrs. A. E. Dunn of Indianapolis, and Walter Henry of Pittsburgh, Pa.

Mrs. Charlie Kolp was hostess for one of the loveliest of children's Yuletide parties Tuesday afternoon, when she entertained one of her dancing classes in the ballroom of the Eagles club. Miss Betty Taylor, four years old, won much applause with a recitation and dance, "Comin' Through the Rye." No less pleasing was the performance of Miss Lucile Steers, a very light and graceful dancer, who gave two numbers; one, a "Hungarian Czardas," the other, "Rose and Butterfly." Miss Mary Louise Bunnell, not only a promising exponent of the terpsichorean art, but an accomplished toe dancer, appeared in a ballet dance, "Vanity." She is also a pupil of Miss Elizabeth Kolp. Cottolins, with exchange of favors, and dancing games were features of the afternoon. Japanese Population Slackens in Growth

(By Associated Press)

TOKIO, Dec. 29.—Japan's population during 1919 was increased by only 300,000 as against a usual rate of 628,000, according to an official report of the recent census. During 1919 births numbered 1,823,481 and deaths 1,513,687, the net gain, therefore, being 308,794. Reduced number of marriages in consequence of higher cost of living is one reason given by the authorities for the falling off. But it is probable that the principal cause was an abnormally heavy infant mortality due to the influenza epidemic.

The divorce rate in 1918 is officially returned at 112 per thousand marriages. This compares with a German divorce rate of 21.6 which is the highest in Europe. It should be remembered that these unofficial statistics are subject to correction.
