

HOME SEARCH BILL
SPONSORED BY DRYS
PASSES OHIO HOUSE

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Feb. 3.—When the Anti-Saloon League's bill for "home search" by a state prohibition commissioner and numerous deputies had passed the house of representatives Wednesday by a vote of 111 to 8 and an emergency clause forbidding a popular referendum election had been adopted by a vote of 16 to 15, or 11 more than the constitutional two-thirds, there became public several interesting facts concerning the course of this measure.

It is recognized as the first of the trinity of propositions submitted by Governor Harry L. Davis which he took the oath of office, the others being reorganization and taxation. The first of important facts is said to be that Governor Davis himself is solely responsible for the "home search" provision. After the vote had been taken turning down a safeguarding amendment, the text of the original amendment acceptable to James A. White, superintendent of the Ohio Anti-Saloon League, was revealed, but not for publication at present.

Lipp Amendment Swamped. It is practically the same as the amendment offered today on the floor of the house by representative Samuel L. Lipp, of Hamilton county, rejected by a vote of 102 to 16. The Lipp amendment provided: "That no bona fide private residence may be entered unless it is being used for the unlawful sale, manufacture or possession of intoxicating liquors, and then only under a search warrant issued under the provisions of Sections 13482 to 13488, inclusive of the general code."

Governor to Appoint. Quickly following the charge that the head of the league was prevented yielding to an amendment, practically similar, by the governor of Ohio, there came a report that the governor was to name a "reasonable man" to be head of the state enforcement machinery. He may do this as soon as he has signed the Miller bill, the technical steps of enactment and enrollment being due for early completion, as there are no amendments to be ratified by the senate.

It was said to be with this thought in mind that Superintendent White immediately issued a statement in which he said that the Miller bill "if properly managed, with honest, intelligent, courageous officials" could be of great help toward making prohibition a success.

Economy Measure. The house committee on cities today recommended for passage the Robinson house bill to permit the combining of the office of service safety directors. It is the sole measure looking to economy now pending on the legislative calendar.

Another referendum was threatened today by women of Cincinnati and Cleveland, who protest the passage of the non-partisan judicial repealer, because they do not wish Ohio courts to be returned to political control. Representative Miles S. Kuhns, of Monticromy county, author of the bill, was the only one who appeared for it before the house elections committee. The political leaders are said to have sent word to have it passed, but they feared to face the women today, and are not expected to come into the open to back the measure.

out of the blood, the long, drawn face and haunted expression will remain. But put Reolo into your blood, let the nerve centers come in contact with it, and then you have started upward. There is one component of Reolo that actually provokes an increase of flesh. In combination with this element there are ingredients that increase red corpuscles enormously in certain anemic conditions. In a day or two the appetite improves in a way that is a revelation to those who found it hard work to eat, and soon the bluish pallor of the skin is replaced with the pinkish hue of health. You now not only feel well, you look it, such is the remarkable influence of Reolo in but a few short days. But this is not all. Reolo has intensified the activity of the vital processes to such an extent that the old feeling of exhaustion after effort is completely gone. It is certainly a most comfortable and satisfactory feeling of reassurance, and there is no other condition to be compared with it. Ask any of the clerks at A. G. Luken Drug Co., and any other leading drug store about Reolo. They are selling it and recommending it upon the strength of what they see every day, men and women the very picture of health who six weeks before were nervous and bloodless dependents. Life

O Lord, let me thank Thee for life! It hath compassed more pleasure than pain; I have had my full portion of strife, Yet I would gladly try it again. Every pain has its value to man, And strife often brings out his strength: Then why should I question Thy plan, When Thy equity runs its full length? For sympathy deepens with sorrow, And friendship is watered with tears; So, live that each passing tomorrow Will ripen the heart with the years. There are children yet on the old earth, With sunshine and garden and flowers; Nature dies but to have a new birth, And its infinite treasures are ours. Then don't grow sad-hearted with old age— Just refuse to be soured by time; Let sorrow of thee make a kind sage— Unhappiness thy life make sublime. Benjamin Bates.
