

GENERAL SENTIMENT THROUGHOUT IRELAND FAVORS SETTLEMENT

(By Associated Press)
DUBLIN, Feb. 9.—There is a great weight of general sentiment throughout the country in favor of any settlement which will end the present chaos. Irish Catholic bishops are foremost among those who are encouraging this sentiment.

Between the most moderate and the most extreme Nationalists there is this one point of agreement, that the decision of the Irish people themselves must be supreme. Submission of their attitude to the electors and the endorsement of that attitude by the country's voters, is the basis on which Sinn Féin rest their case. They say that endorsement must stand.

New Election Favored.
There is a considerable section of the populace, however, which believes the time has arrived for a fresh consultation of the people—that a new opportunity should be given for expression of the popular will. The suggestion is made that a formal referendum should be taken as to whether the people still adhere to the uncompromising Republican policy, or are willing to give the new Home Rule act a trial.

Sir Edward Carson, for Ulster, has accepted, but Sinn Féin has refused the act. In neither case have the people themselves been consulted as to what they think of it.

Would Make Fresh Start.
There is even among Sinn Féin a number who believe that it would be good tactics to accept the act as far as it goes, secure the election of Sinn Féin to the Southern parliament and obtain as much control of the Irish government as possible in the same way as they have obtained control of most of the local authorities. They would then use their new position as the basis for a fresh advance.

The argument is heard that de Valera and Arthur Griffith could do more for the cause in executive office than in jail, but that is not the dominant Sinn Féin view—at any rate among the "responsible" leaders of the movement. Hence the suggestion to consult the rank and file.

NEW YORK USING WIRELESS TO RUN DOWN CRIMINALS

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—Wireless apparatus has been installed by the New York police department as a means of notifying police of other cities concerning the movements of suspected criminals, it was announced today. Radio messages covering a radius of about 300 miles are flashed from the top of police headquarters every evening from 6 o'clock until midnight. These messages are picked up by amateur receiving stations within the sending zone, and their contents reported to the police in the town receiving them.

OPPOSE NEW POWER RATES.
LAFORTE, Ind., Feb. 9.—The city council has appropriated $1,000 toward the fight of the Chamber of Commerce against the LaPorte Gas and Electric Company on the question of new power rates recently granted by the public service commission.

MURRAY

Alice Calhoun, Vitagraph's newest star, was first seen in a film drama scarcely more than a year ago. She gained popularity rapidly, and her promotion is largely the result of pleas in letters from motion picture patrons to Vitagraph.

Alice Calhoun appears in the stellar role of "Princess Jones," a stirring romantic comedy drama by Joseph Franklin Poland, visualized as a Vitagraph production, which will be shown at the Murray theater Thursday.

Alice Calhoun is eighteen years old. She is a descendant of John C. Calhoun, Oliver Cromwell and Victor Hugo, but by her own statement she depends upon her own energy and determination, rather than her ancestry, to carry her through.

Miss Calhoun's tastes and pleasures cover a wide range. She loves music, drama and the arts. She devotes much time to reading and names Longfellow, Riley, Poe and Serviss as her favorite poets and Dickens, Hugo and George Eliot as her favorite authors. She rides, swims, plays tennis, golf; she dances, drives her own car and her own motor boat. Also she cooks, designs and makes some of her own dresses and is adept in other domestic arts.

MURRETTE

Elaine Hammerstein, one of the screen's most charming exponents of genuine simplicity, will be the headline attraction at the Murrette theatre Wednesday.

The beautiful Selznick star will be seen this time in her latest production entitled "Pleasure Seekers," an original story by John Lynch, and the scenario by Edward Montagne, a writing combination that has been responsible for many recent photoplay successes.

The story of "Pleasure Seekers" concerns the career of a young girl who lives with her grandfather, an aged minister, in the small town of South Paradise. One day she chanced to meet the son of a wealthy New York business man who has been sent out into the world to make his own way. The man is an idler and spendthrift, but the girl finds in him something that appeals to her sense of companionship. Shortly after the death of her grandfather they marry and return to the city. It is then that their life together really begins and the girl finds that she has taken a great task upon her slim young shoulders.

The role of Mary Murdock is a typical Hammerstein part, and the feelings of the observer will be divided between sympathy and admiration for the courageous girl who quietly but firmly wins her way to happiness.

George Archinbaud directed, and his artistic guidance is responsible for an intelligent and interesting presentation.
