18721—ROSIE (Medley Fox Trot)

HONOLULU EYES (Medley Waltz)

—Paul Whiteman and His Orchestra

10-Inch.....List Price 85c

"ROSIE" is apparently a Jewish Rosie, for she is introduced with a familiar "Good-Luck" Jewish phrase and there is a general spirit of "Mazzeltov" all through the number. It is full of characteristic dry Jewish humor, and it develops in the middle to a sort of patriarchal desert-dance. There are one or two remarkable modulations, some fine muted cornet effects and an occasional utterance from a spiritual bass clarinet, which seems to go off in a corner and growl by itself. "ROSIE" will give up with a curious "doubling-up" of the beat which will commend itself to the less serious sort of fox trotters. "ROSIE" introduces "Tired of Me."

"HONOLULU EYES" introduces "I'm in Heaven When I'm in My Mother's Arms," and furthermore it introduces special whistling effects by Miss Margaret McKee, whose thrilling sounds as if a whole forestful of birds surrounded the waiters. For "HONOLULU EYES" is a waltz, and it is well named.
