

SPARK PLUG COMPANY TO OPEN BUSINESS IN GREENVILLE PLANT

GREENVILLE, Feb. 21.—A deal was consummated recently in Dayton whereby the American Spark Plug Company, of that city, becomes the property of the Consumers Supply Company of Ohio, a Greenville concern, and will be moved here in the near future. The Dayton plant manufactures "Wasp" spark plugs.

The factory will be located in the new steel factory building recently erected on Marvath avenue.

Officers of the company state that several other plants are being negotiated for, and if successful, will be moved to this city. The Spark Plug company is the second to be moved here by this company. The Daisy Fence Post company, having been moved here and located in a new building on the Pennsylvania railway.

Editor Seriously Ill.
A message concerning the serious illness of D. W. K. Martin, veteran newspaper man of Versailles, reached this city last night. Mr. Martin is said to be suffering from heart and kidney trouble, and little or no hopes are entertained for his recovery. He was for thirty-seven years managing editor of the Versailles Policy, which was recently consolidated with the leader at that place. Mr. Martin is 72 years of age, and before entering the newspaper business was a school teacher.

Architect Sues Lodge.
Suit against the Masonic lodge of Bradford, was brought in common pleas court here yesterday by Philip Pfeiffer, local architect, in the sum of $285, which he claims is due him for drawing plans and specifications for a new temple in Bradford.

After the disastrous fire in Bradford last year, in which the Masonic Temple was destroyed, the lodge employed Mr. Pfeiffer to draw up plans and specifications for a new temple to cost $20,000, for which he was to receive 8 per cent of the cost. He states that he has been paid $150 on the contract, which was made on September 10, 1920, and that the sum for which he asks judgment is still due him, with interest from that date.

To Open Hospital.
Saturday noon, March 12, is the date set for the opening of bids for the remodeling of the two story brick building purchased by the Greenville Hospital Company, into a modern hospital. The need for a hospital in this city is very great, as has been demonstrated on numerous occasions, notably the flu epidemic, the cyclone, and more recently, the wreck on the Pennsylvania, when victims had to be sent to the Richmond hospital on account of inadequate facilities for taking care of them here. It is ardently hoped by all citizens that the contract will be let on that date and that work will be soon started.

Addington Sued for Taxes.
Legal proceedings were instituted late yesterday by County Treasurer Dan Brown against Arthur Addington, residing in the south part of the county. Addington was on the delinquent tax list, and according to information reaching Treasurer Brown, had decided to move to Indiana without bothering to pay.

His household goods and automobile were attached, and unless the taxes together with a fine are paid within 10 days, the goods will be sold.

Union City, northwest of here, is hard hit by the unemployment problem, according to advices from that place. While the village has numerous manufacturing plants, they are maintaining but skeleton organizations, having hardly any orders.

A number of employees of the Union City Body Works were laid off Thursday, adding to the already great list of unemployed. The odd-job idea has been suggested as a means of affording temporary relief to at least some of the unfortunate men with families, who are in some instances in dire need of food and fuel. People who have odd jobs to do have been asked to secure one of these unemployed men to do the work whenever possible.

The Home Garden

In growing strawberries two systems are in general use, the hill system and the matted-row system.

In the hill system all the runners are removed from the plants as they appear, so that at the fruiting season there are no plants than were set at first. By this means plants are larger and will produce more fruit than when runners are allowed to grow. In a home garden the rows need not be more than eighteen inches apart; sometimes two or three rows are set about six inches apart and then a wider space left and then other rows set as before.

In the matted-row system the runners are allowed to remain and produce new plants in the row. By the end of the growing season a well matted row of the desired width will be formed. A width of about twelve or fifteen inches will be found very convenient.

In setting the plants the crowns should be kept near the surface of the ground. If placed too deep they will smother, and if too shallow they will dry out. The soil should be firm about the roots so as to prevent too much drying of the soil.

Strawberry plants will begin to bloom soon after planting. The growing of the fruit should not be allowed and the flowers should be removed in order that the plant may make a good growth. This should be done during the first season and will insure a much better crop the second season.

Tillage must be thorough in order that moisture shall be maintained in the soil. Weeds and grass must be kept out from the start. Cultivate once a week and in times of drought every three or four days. Cultivate shallow so as not to loosen the plants nor disturb nor cut the roots. Keep up the tillage until frost as many weeds grow till late in the fall. If all weeds are kept out the first season, little trouble will be had until after the crop is picked.

TOWERS MAY BE USED TO ANCHOR DRIGIBLES

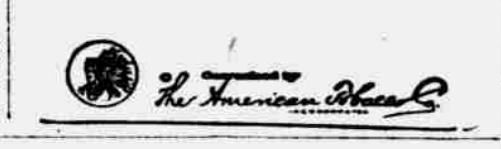

(By Associated Press)
PULHAM, Eng., Feb. 21.—Experiments are shortly to be carried out at the aerodrome here with the object of establishing the stability of otherwise of steel towers as moorings for big airships.

An attempt is to be made to moor the giant airship R-33, the sister dirigible to the trans-Atlantic flyer R-34, to a steel tower 150 feet in height.

The experiments are successful it will have a marked effect on the position of the airship.

Washington --- The President

As the first president of this country, when America was but a struggling republic, his greatest service was the establishment of those solid, permanent foundations upon which we have built a great and powerful nation. A man of vision, who, with rare judgment and wisdom, so shaped the policies of this country that today we celebrate with reverence the anniversary of his birth. All honor to the "Father of His Country."

"Pompeian"

Reed & Barton's Newest Silver Design

The name "Pompeian" is suggestive of the art and culture of a by-gone age when the business of life seems to have been achievement along those lines. The silver known as "Pompeian" reflects in its grace of line and purity of ornamentation something of the perfection realized so abundantly in that classic period.

tion of this class of aircraft as commerce carriers, for it will mean that the steel tower is likely to be the usual form of station headquarters for the airship of the future.

The steel tower here, however, is only an experimental one and not the highly developed tubular construction which the towers of the future are expected to be. A shaft runs up the tower and through this by means of pipes, the R-33 can be re-fueled and re-gassed.

The R-34 recently was destroyed by a storm. The disaster was attributed by some aviation experts to lack of a tower to which to moor the airship.

Soldiers or Missionaries.
Dr. Mary Alma Sawyer, for 33 years dean of the Western College for Women, now sojourning in the Orient, writes concerning her impressions of Japan:

"Japan is a nation that must be reckoned with. The Japanese are a bright, keen people, and they have many things of which they are proud. What they lack is the Christian religion; without it they may become a menace to the world. It would be better to send missionaries now than soldiers later. That it will be one or the other, I truly believe."

George Washington tells the Truth about Savings--so do these other great men

February 22 is George Washington's Birthday
Washington said: "Economy makes happy homes and sound nations. Instill it deep."

Another great man's birthday also occurred this month—that of Abraham Lincoln
Lincoln said: "Teach economy. That is the first and highest virtue. It begins with saving money."

So say two former president of the United States. Listen to the advice of another:

Andrew Jackson said: "Save your money and thrive; or pay the price in poverty and disgrace."

William McKinley said: "The little savings bank in the home means more for the future of the children of a family, almost, than all of the advice in the world. It gives them the right start."
