

SCIENTISTS TO VISIT
CENTRAL ASIA; WOULD FIND MISSING LINK

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—A group of scientists left here today on a mission that will keep them in the vast untrodden areas of Asia for five years. When they return to America they hope to have evidence that the "missing link" between man and beast actually existed. Also they expect to bring back thousands of animal and botanical specimens to fill the proposed Hall of Asiatic Life in New York.

Roy Chapman Andrews, leader of two former scientific parties into China, will head the new groups, to be known as the Third Asiatic Expedition of the American Museum of Natural History. Supporting it financially are more than a score of New York's wealthiest men and women, the museum and other organizations. The party will sail from San Francisco on March 19.

Joined in Asia by scores of native guides, hunters, cooks and helpers, the scientists expect to introduce American automobiles, moving picture cameras and other modern machines on the Gobi Desert, Central Asian plateau, Tibetan steppes and other little known lands.

Gasoline trucks will constitute mobile bases for various branches of the expedition—paleontologists, archaeologists and anthropologists—while speedier cars are used in explorations and hunting. Dr. Andrews has found a 50-mile-an-hour too slow to keep up with frightened antelopes in Central Asia, and is taking a speedier race to use in hunting these mile-a-minute runners.

The first base of the party will be established in Mongolia, where the scientists expect to remain twenty-four months before penetrating Western China. After the vanguard has spent a year in Mongolia, a second group of scientists will leave New York to join them.

Northeastern and Central Asia will be thoroughly gone over in a study of the origin and migration of man, to prove or disprove the popular scientific belief that Asia was the center of dispersal of the human race as well as for many of the mammals, the descendants of which now are scattered over the earth.

There were five persons in the party leaving New York today under the leadership of Mr. Andrews. His wife will go along as the color photographer. The others are Walter Granger and George Olsen, paleontologists, and Clifford Pope, geologist; all from the museum here.

Next year the museum will send out geologists and a motion picture photographer, and in 1923 archaeologists and anthropologists will follow. Then the entire expedition will devote three more years to intensive work.

More than 2,000 persons have sought in vain to accompany the scientists, Mr. Andrews said.

Lady Grateful for Help Received

"For 15 years I suffered increasing pain with stomach and liver trouble. Bloating with gas distressed me very much and caused serious heart fluttering. All medicine only relieved temporarily. I gave up hope of ever being cured. My druggist advised me one day to try Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. I am feeling like a new woman since and can now eat anything with no ill results. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. FOUNDATIONS

WHEN our cherished George Washington laid firmly the foundations of this nation he gave vitality to a land that was to build nobly on the ideals of Liberty and Opportunity.

Today we are proud of the long step in progress made. From a group of Colonies has evolved a powerful nation, mighty no less in war than in peace—still the land of ideals, the citadel of freedom. On the foundation of Washington has been reared a superstructure of Justice and Equality.

Foundations of integrity are no less necessary to a successful business than to a successful nation. We, as makers of your daily bread, recognize our responsibility to our Community, building on ideals of Purity and Quality.
