

YOUNG BUSINESS MEN SEEK CO-OPERATION WITH WAYNE FARMERS

Promotion of good feeling and a better understanding between Richmond and the immediate rural population is to be the main aim of the Young Men's Business Club during the ensuing year, according to a statement by Eugene Quigg, president of the club, at a meeting Tuesday night. "We want to help the farmers," he declared, "and we wish to create a better feeling between the city and country residents." Announcement of this policy resulted from conferences held by the newly elected officers during the past few weeks. Several committees to forward this program will be a committee "to further the work among the farmers"; one to establish "community relations" by holding the meetings for farmers and local citizens; and the committee to arrange for a "stock pavilion."

Band Concerts.

Dell Davis, city engineer, was chosen chairman of a committee to be in charge of securing band concerts for Glen Miller parks this summer. As the city council has appropriated only $250 for this feature, and as it will cost $1,000 for 12 Sunday afternoon concerts, the Young Men's Business Club voted to raise the remaining $750. It is believed the money will be raised by having a basketball game between the Y. M. C. A. and the Wilson Cleaners, in the Coliseum, a week from Friday night.

The club voted against supporting or aiding the organization of a national guard company in Richmond.

Upon appeal from Walker E. Land, president of the Richmond Chamber of Commerce, the club voted to supply two teams of six men each, to assist in the membership campaign to be conducted next week. The chamber has 16 organized men's teams, but finds that 18 teams will be needed to cover the territory included in the canvass.

Action toward encouraging the daylight savings plan for Richmond, was postponed.

Retain Committee.

A committee which co-operated with other city organizations when a trip to Indianapolis was made in the interest of the home rule bill some weeks ago, was retained to assist in bringing it into favor in Richmond, providing the bill is signed by Governor McCray.

Club meetings will be held on Tuesday every three weeks, instead of every two weeks, according to a decision reached.

Committees appointed by the president include, band concert committee, Dell Davis, Howard Hunt, John Crawford and Carl Myers; community relations, Myron Malsby, Paul James, L. M. Feerer, A. J. Kortoweg, and C. E. Kehlenbrink; stock breeders' building committee, Joseph Hill, Harry Meuler, George Tarkleson, W. E. Kleffoth, and John Clements.

FEATURES OF ENGLISH DRAMA ILLUSTRATED

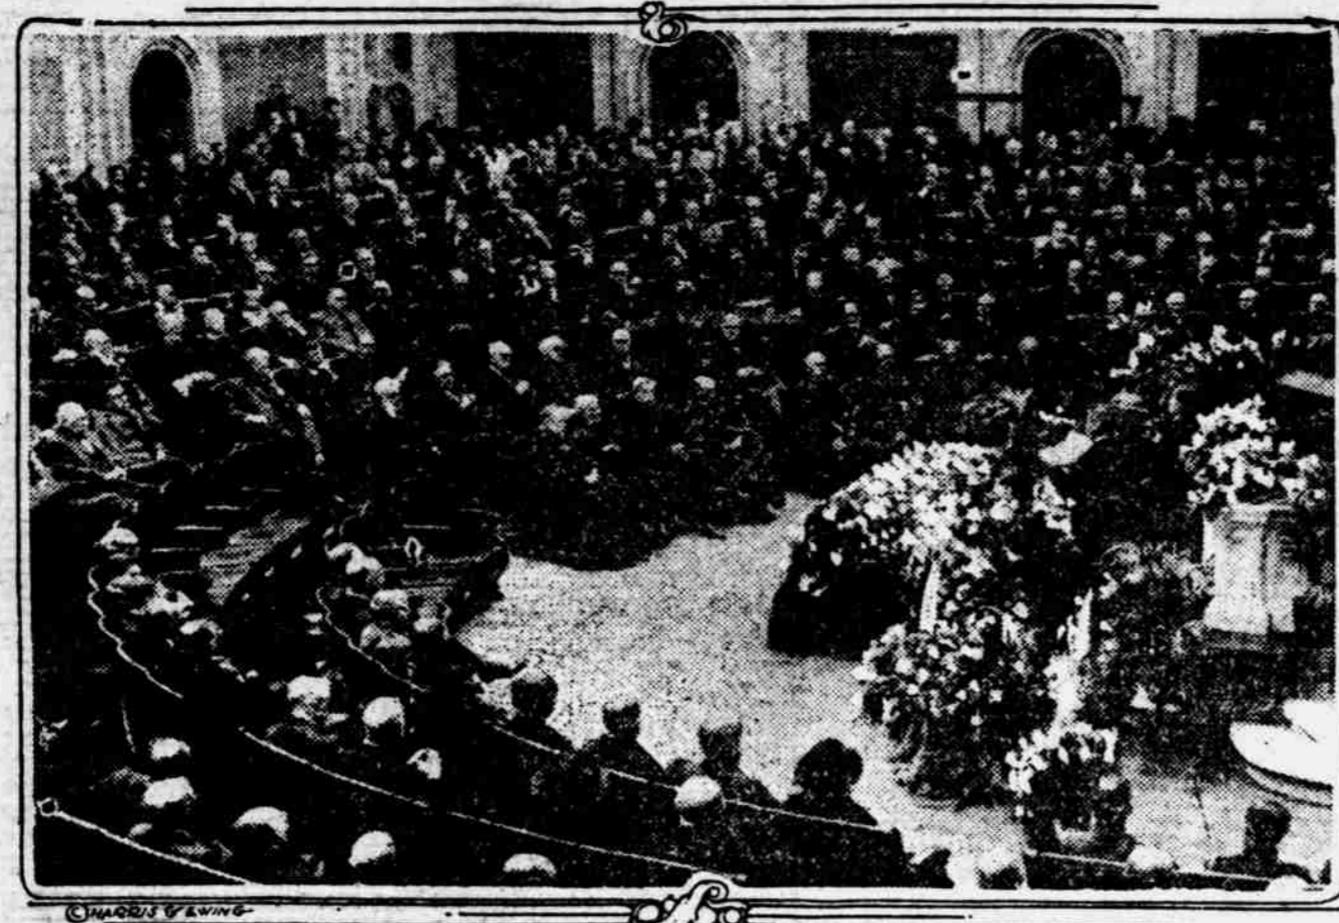

Illustrations of the dramatic features of English drama written during the period from the middle of the 17th century to the beginning of the 18th century, were given by Prof. William N. Trueblood, of Earlham college, before the literary department of the Woman's club, Tuesday afternoon, at the Morrisson-Reeves library. The various designations under which the English drama of that period is known were enumerated by Prof. Trueblood—English drama, English romance drama, Elizabethan drama and Shakespearean.

Characteristic features of the English type of drama to the time when the type faded off under the influence of French classicism, were pointed out by the lecturer. The two great steps taken by the English, according to Prof. Trueblood, were the adaptation of the drama "to visualize their own motives," and "the evolution of a plan for a national English theatre."

That in a half century, half a hundred playwrights came to the front, producing an average of half a dozen plays apiece, and that the productions of a number of those playwrights is classed among the finest literature of the world, was a significant fact which Prof. Trueblood pointed out.

Following his discussion of groundings and motives, the speaker read passages from Hamlet, Richard III and

WHEN NATION PAID TRIBUTE TO CHAMP CLARK

Funeral services being held in house of representatives.

While honoring the new president with fitting ceremonies, the nation also paid just tribute to Champ Clark, eight years speaker of the house of representatives, who died two days before his term ended—two days before the change in administrations at the capitol. The statesman's body lay in state before the speaker's stand in the house March 4 and until the funeral March 5. The funeral services, held in the house, were attended by the justices of the supreme court in court robes, Vice President Coolidge, ex-Vice President Marshall, General Pershing, fellow congressmen and many other notables. The photo of the services shows the quartet singing at the services. In the front row of seats, before the casket, are the supreme court justices. General Pershing, in uniform and wearing Sam Brown belt, is sitting with his back to the camera. Clark's remains were accompanied to St. Louis by a delegation of congressmen. After his body had lain in state there over the Sabbath it was taken to Bowling Green, his native city, for interment.

PROGRAM OF WORK FOR CHAMBER OF COMMERCE BUILT

Instructions will be given to 18 men's teams and 10 women's teams, who are to canvas for chamber of commerce members next week, at a meeting to be held in the Chamber of Commerce assembly room Wednesday night. Practically all teams have been enlisted to full strength, and with the meeting Wednesday night, everything will be set for the solicitation.

Work by the teams will be accomplished for the main part between 9:30 o'clock and noon of each day next week, except Saturday. Noon luncheon will be served in the banquet hall of the K. of P. building each of the first three days. Whether the forces will gather at noon on Thursday and Friday is yet to be decided.

To all members of the Chamber of Commerce enlisting before and after the drive, there will be sent a referendum asking the following three questions:

"What, in your opinion, is the thing of first importance that should be undertaken by the Chamber of Commerce to improve trade conditions and opportunities in your own line of business?"

"What, as a citizen, do you believe the Chamber of commerce should first undertake for the good of the city at large, and what help in time or thought, will you render towards that end?"

"In what department would you be preferred to be assigned for committee work?"

From the answers received there will be built up a program of work for the 10 or 12 definite things the Chamber of Commerce will try to do this year. This program will then be submitted for adoption at the first general meeting of the members, to be called immediately following the present membership campaign.
