

RAINMAKER HATFIELD EMPLOYED BY CANADA AT $4,000 PER INCH

(By Associated Press)

MEDICINE HAT, Alta., March 16.—"Rainmaker" Charles M. Hatfield, who has a contract with the United Agricultural association to produce rain has come to this district from Los Angeles, Cal., and according to arrangements made by the Agricultural association, is about to begin work on his new project.

Hatfield, according to the terms of this contract, agrees to construct and build a rain precipitation and attraction plant at a favorable site to be chosen by him for his operations.

Has Number of Offers.

In outlining plans to a meeting of the United Agricultural association, F. S. Rathff, secretary, announced that the "rainmaker" has been offered inducements to visit the district of Noford, in southern Alberta, and Foremost, Saskatchewan. Farmers in general, are highly enthusiastic over the prospects.

The main rain precipitation plant, according to the plan announced, will be located at Chappie Lake, about 20 miles from this city. The matter of financing the project was referred to the executive committee as was also the selection of locations for the rain gauges, which Hatfield is expected to bring with him. What methods the rainmaker intends to pursue in producing the rain has not been disclosed.

Territory is Laid Out.

Under contract between the United Agricultural association and Hatfield, it is agreed that his "plant" is to be kept in constant operation from the first day of May, 1921, to the first day of August, 1921, in the endeavor to bring about the largest possible increased precipitation over and about that portion of Alberta, Canada, and a section of territory at least one hundred miles radius with the City of Medicine Hat, Alberta, as a center.

"And it is hereby understood and agreed," the contract read, "that of all rain falling from the first day of May, 1921, to the first day of August, 1921, in the above described district, said Hatfield, through the efforts of his operations upon the atmosphere, shall be given credit for one-half of the precipitation that falls at the uniform rate of $4,000 per inch up to four inches or fraction thereof. The maximum consideration of the contract being $5,000, for a four-inch rainfall.

"All rainfall in excess of four inches no extra charge whatsoever."

Nervy 'Squarehead' Writes Letter Seeking to Join American Legion

INDIANAPOLIS, March 16.—Adjt. Lemuel Bolles and other officials at national headquarters of the American Legion Tuesday unanimously voted one Johannes Nedlich of Dresden, Germany, the distinction of the "nerviest squarehead emerging from the world war". Nedlich, it appears, after more than two years' service in the German army, has suddenly become possessed of a passion to leave his fatherland, desert the army, come to America and join the American Legion. He blandly asks the legion to send him information regarding the organization and pay his transportation to a place designated for him to report and join its ranks.

A letter addressed to national headquarters here arrived yesterday from Nedlich, making application for membership and giving a description of himself and his military service. He was apparently oblivious to the fact that the United States is still officially at war with Germany, it was said, and that American Legion membership is open only to those who served with honor against his country before the armistice was signed.

Speculate on Motive
Much speculation as to the motives of the German soldier in making application was aroused by the letter at headquarters. It was generally agreed that Nedlich's chief desire was to get to America, a desire that is said to be frequently expressed by young Germans in the territory occupied by American troops. The fact that Nedlich gave his height and age were thought to indicate that he considered the legion a part of the American army and that he perhaps thought it similar to the French Foreign Legion, a military service department.

The letter of "the nerviest squarehead" was written in a neat German script, correct to the last detail in form, and was dated Feb. 20, 1921, from 35 Dordnithustrasse, Dresden, Free State of Saxony.

Nedlich's Letter
Translated, it reads as follows:

American Legion

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 16.—The American Legion of Indiana has sent its greetings and its endorsement of the all-American mass meeting to be held under the leadership of the Legion at Madison Square Garden, New York, on March 18, as an answer and a national demonstration against the revival of German propaganda activities in the United States, it was announced today by L. Russell Newgent, state adjutant of the Legion.

Colonel F. W. Galbraith, Jr., national commander of the Legion, has been placed in charge of arrangements for the meeting by a committee representing fifty patriotic, civic, fraternal, professional and labor organizations. Colonel Galbraith has sent word to Mr. Newgent that the meeting will be the "mightiest patriotic demonstration America has witnessed since the Armistice." Telegrams will be read from every state in the union. On behalf of ex-service men of Indiana, L. R. Gignilliat, state commander of the Legion, has wired Colonel Galbraith as follows:

"American Legion Indiana absolutely behind you in support of your movement to combat such dastardly German propaganda and treasonable utterances and actions as characterized recent disloyalists meeting Madison Square Garden."

In his response to the Indiana greetings Colonel Galbraith asserted that he was being deluged with telegrams from all parts of the country. He writes:

"There has been nothing like it since the wave of patriotic ardor enveloped the nation following our declaration of war against Germany. It marks the spontaneous beginning of a great All-American counter-offensive against enemy propaganda which is sweeping America. It is the natural reaction from the national wave of resentment which swept the country in the wake of the exposure by the American Legion of the projected re-organization of German propaganda efforts in this country, the insidious objects of which were to estrange the United States and those nations which were our comrades in arms in war, and the restoration to its place of former power and influence in our national affairs of the powerful pro-German political machine of Herr von Bernstorff and others made such good use in the imperial cause before we entered the war. The cards are on the table. The disloyalists have stated their case and America has made its answer."

"Respectfully,

"JOHANNES NEDLICH."

Lemuel Bolles, national adjutant of the legion, said that the application would be ignored, except for notification of the Amaroc post No. 4 of the legion at Coblenz, Germany, of the desire expressed by Nedlich. The Amaroc post is the only unit organized in Germany and is composed of members of the American Expeditionary Forces stationed in that district. It was suggested that the letter might reflect a working desire of many Saxon soldiers who had chafed under the Prussian military regime.
