

USE OF EXPLOSIVES FOR ILLEGAL ACTS IS MADE EASY, REPORT

WASHINGTON, March 18.—With drawing of supervision over the manufacture and sale of explosives with the repeal by congress of war legislation has made it easy for anarchists, saboteurs and others to obtain explosives for illegal purposes, said a statement issued Thursday by the bureau of mines.

In urging legislation to control the handling as well as the manufacture and sale of explosives the bureau asserted that the United States is practically the only civilized government in the world that fails to exercise a national supervision over explosives and declared it is easier to obtain explosives in this country than in any other.

Large stores of explosive, the statement said, have been found within the limits of cities and towns where an explosion might cause loss of life and property and state convicts have been known to hide dynamite which they had for road work to be used for safe blowing when their terms expired.

The dynamiting of fish, bomb outrages and loss of life from miners and others taking explosives into their homes were pointed to as some of the results of lack of supervision.

News of the Counties

HANNA'S CREEK, Ind.—Members of the farmers' federation here will stage a social and entertainment Friday night, March 18. All members have been invited to attend the affair. A special committee has charge of the program and entertainment.

LYNN, Ind.—About 100 persons were present at a banquet and smoker extended the subordinates by members of the Odd Fellows lodge here recently. Rev. Scott of this place, was the chief speaker. Music was furnished by members of the order, who played the banjo, violin, guitar and piano. Martin Eckerle, oldest member of the lodge was present, having been a member since 1866. He entertained the members with reminiscences of his experiences during that time.

DUBLIN, Ind.—Tag day for the benefit of the local library, held here recently, was a decided success. Collections amounting to over 150 were realized from the affair.

DUBLIN, Ind.—Funeral services for Mrs. William Shrawder were held at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Myers, here, Thursday afternoon. Rev. W. H. Ziegler officiated. Mrs. Shrawder was well known in this vicinity.

Gives Rotary Address by Wireless Telephone

(By Associated Press)
PITTSBURGH, March 18.—S. C. McFarland of the Pittsburgh Rotary club, yesterday employed the wireless telephone to address a session of Rotarians at Charlotte, N. C. Mr. McFarland, who was at the time attending the meeting in the south, found it impossible to leave Pittsburgh, so he arranged to have a receiving set installed at Charlotte. A Pittsburgh concern which manufactures wireless telephone equipment, made the necessary arrangements here and Mr. McFarland delivered his address over the wireless telephone.

The Home Garden

The farmer who has not been having a good, vegetable garden does not know what a great convenience and economy it is to have all his vegetables and small fruits fresh from the garden whenever he or his family wish them. It is not at all a matter of money saved but you have the best, have it handy and have the pleasure and satisfaction of raising it yourself.

Like for any crop the soil should be well prepared before any planting is done as the plants get a better start and will be much easier cultivated. Where one has raspberries, blackberries, strawberries or asparagus in the garden it would be well to put these over on one side so they will not need to be disturbed when the remainder of the garden is plowed every year.

A row of asparagus in the garden will furnish a great amount of good cheap food in the spring when there is not much else in the garden to eat. It can be grown from seed in two or three years or one can buy the roots cheap from most any seed house. We like the Palmetto variety the best as it seems to do the best of all on the different kinds of soil.

STRIKERS REJECT TERMS. SIOUX FALLS, N. D., March 18.—An effort to bring about settlement of the strike of 700 employees at the John Morrell Packing Company here failed when strikers at a mass meeting voted unanimously not to accept terms offered by the company.

taken up early during the extra session of congress and predictions are being made that it will be passed and signed by President Harding. The measure limits the number of immigrants to be admitted to the United States annually.

Wallis, who is an expert on immigration, urges that the diseased and undesirable be screened out by American agents at foreign ports of embarkation. He asks for an increase in the examination force in American ports, declaring the present force is entirely inadequate. He advises a closer physical examination of every adult and child asking admission to the country, and he emphasizes the need of some system of distribution for immigrants, a defect which Commissioner Husband has placed his finger upon.

Wallis points to the fact that there are some communities in this country which are asking for satisfactory immigrants, while other communities are frantically protesting against any more coming to their section. He says the government must send immigrants to places where they are needed and prevent them from going to places where the labor market is glutted.

Cities Are Crowded. Commissioner Husband joins with Wallis in the assertion that the economic situation arising from the flow of foreign population to the large cities. "There is land enough in this country for millions of small farms," Commissioner Husband said. "Our plan is not to replace American farmers with foreigners but to create new farms and make new farmers, thereby increasing the resources of the nation."

"The majority of our immigrants are peasants and essentially farmers. Our plan is not to scatter these people out in sparsely settled sections and put them up against the problems that our pioneers went through. Neither do we plan to start foreign settlements, which has been shot at so often, but which the congress saw fit to continue, can be made to be a great aid to the immigration service."

Warren Lucas who, until a few months ago, was employed in the war department this city, has returned to Washington from his home in Richmond, Ind., to accept a position in the office of the collector of internal revenue. While in Richmond Mr. Lucas was employed as a clerk in the Pennsylvania railroad offices.
