

HARDING ASKS PROBE OF GOVERNMENT CARE OF DISABLED VETS

WASHINGTON, March 28.—President Harding has decided to have an exhaustive investigation made of the manner in which the government is caring for disabled war veterans. Within a few days, it was announced at the White House, he will select a special committee to conduct the inquiry.

The president, it was said, is determined to lay the whole situation frankly before congress and the country for the purpose of correcting any abuses that may have developed. The investigators will be instructed to recommend legislation that in their opinion may be necessary to remedy the situation.

Five Attend Conference.
Decision to start an inquiry was reached by the president after he had conferred with Charles G. Dawes, of Chicago, who served in France as a brigadier general in charge of the division of the procurement of supplies. National Commander Galbraith of the American Legion; Thomas W. Miller, alien property custodian and ex-overseas officer; Assistant Secretary Roosevelt, of the navy department, and Mr. Harding's personal physician, Brigadier Commander C. E. Sawyer, who is conducting a survey of the government's public welfare agencies; all five had luncheon at the White House and discussed in detail with the president the soldier relief problem. Later they went over the situation with General Pershing at his home here.

No announcement was made as to the probable size or personnel of the committee, but it was indicated that no time will be lost in getting the inquiry under way.

The grounds for numerous complaints that disabled men have been denied government aid or have been improperly cared for after entering government hospitals will be determined by the investigation.

$2,200 Maximum to Stand.

Through the investigation of the entire system of vocational training allowances to disabled war veterans is to be made by the vocational training board. Secretary Wallace of the department of agriculture, a member of the board, in a statement tonight indicated that the board's ruling, fixing a minimum of $2,200 annually on payments to men receiving vocational training, would stand. This ruling is under fire from the American Legion and other veterans' organizations. Secretary Wallace explained that the $2,200 limit ruling affects about 100 or more men in government departments, who, with vocational training allowances receive up to $4,000 per year from the government. It is this situation that the board dealt with in its order, made effective April 1.

That there are now 71,147 receiving vocational allowances as against 46,897 six months ago, was stated by Secretary Wallace.

CONSTANTINOPLE HAS MANY QUEER SIGHTS SAYS NAVY PAPER

(By Associated Press)
CONSTANTINOPLE, March 28.—There are many curious things in this ancient city of the Turk which are unknown to most people. It has remained for a sailor aboard the United States warship Scorpion to classify some of the oddities for the readers of the Far East, the paper published by American bluejackets in near eastern waters.

"Just imagine," he writes, "lying up traffic on the main thoroughfare of the city during the busiest hours of the day by driving a flock of sheep slowly down the street. But they do it over here."

Street Car Fares Vary.
Some other alleged strange things are done by the Constantinopolitans he cites as follows:

A street car passenger often bargains with the conductor about the price he will pay for a ride.

If a youth takes a girl to the movies once or twice her parents expect him to marry her.

Turkish saleswomen, even in the smaller shops, are required to understand or speak seven or eight languages.

Native men are accustomed to "rent" a pipe to smoke while they slip their afternoon tea.

A policeman, if he finds a pickpocket at work, may beat him almost insensibly and then let him prisoner go.

Some Constantinople stores have signs in as many as eight languages over their doors.

A tourist may engage a boatman to row him for two miles for two or three cents.

American Money Valuable.
As American paper money in Turkey is worth 15 to 20 cents more than Turkish gold, it is possible for one to buy a $20 gold piece for 17 paper dollars.

Christmas is celebrated four times a year, once for each of the different religious calendars.

A man walking along the street often may be followed, five or ten paces in the rear, by a few of his wives.

A bootblack will give you a good shine for a cigarette.

There is no limit to automobile speeding in any part of Constantinople, but it is a case of "all you can make."

A Turkish barber is courteous but when he shaves you he never washes off the lather, but covers your face with powder.

A suit of pajamas, or its equivalent, is enough "evening dress" at a grand ball.

RUSH FOR OPTIONS ON LAND OVER SUPPOSED OIL LAKE

DANVILLE, Ind., March 28.—Options of 8,000 more acres of land north of Danville, under which is supposed to lie a huge lake of oil, have been filed since last Thursday, when the first filing of 2,000 acres was made. Oil men of experience declare the prospects of striking oil are excellent, but the natives are skeptical.

The Chemical Warfare Service of the United States army has discovered a liquid poison so strong that three drops will kill anyone whose skin it touches.

Bird of Paradise

Florence Rockwell

The many adherents of the drama will rejoice to learn that the ever popular favorite, "The Bird of Paradise," will be seen at the Murray theater on Friday, April 8, matinee and night.

Richard Walton Tully's fascinating story of the Hawaiian islands seems to have an everlasting appeal with theatergoers, the same people attending its presentation year after year. This will be its third visit to Richmond and its 10th road tour. Florence Rockwell, who has enacted the role of the Hawaiian princess for the past two years, will again play the title role. The same supporting company includes Robert Brister, Brandon Evans, Gertrude Walthers, Leo Curley, Rose Watson and the native singers and players.

The Theatres

WASHINGTON
Does a man love a girl merely for her exterior beauty, her paint and powder, her silks and satins, or does he care for the soul beneath all this? This is one of the interesting questions discussed in Mae Murray's newest Paramount picture, "The Gilded Lily," which is the attraction at the Washington theatre. One man takes one attitude and another takes the other, over Lilian Drake (Mae Murray), a dancer, and the scenario writer has given her decision interestingly. Lowell Sherman heads a clever supporting cast.

MURRETTE
Manager Holland, of the Murrette theatre announced that he has secured as the weeks attraction "Prairie Trails," the latest Tom Mix picture in which the famous cowboy star again is seen in the role of Tex Benton, the hero of James B. Hendryx's popular western novels. It is said to be the best William Fox production of the season.

Dashing, gallant Tom Mix, more at home on the back of a horse than in a chair, roping champion of many states, sheriff of a western county, crack shot and renowned actor, is well fitted to the part of Tex Benton, hero of "The Texan" and now of "Prairie Trails." Indeed, the filming of this second Hendryx novel is due largely to the great success scored by Mix in the first.

MURRAY.
Gathered at the picturesque estate of Alfred Herter, where Mrs. Enrico Caruso, summer tenant, suffered the loss of $400,000 worth of jewels by robbery, Corinne Griffith and her supporting company had some strange and interesting experiences.

The site was selected by Vitaphone scouts because of the Oriental scenes and setting on the estate. These served admirably as locations for scenes in "It Isn't Being Done This Season," a new Corinne Griffith production, which is now showing at the Murray theatre, in which much of the action takes place on the estate of a wealthy Turk in Smyrna. Some of the scenes were taken in the room where the $400,000 robbery was committed.

RICHMOND.
Although he made most of "The Last of the Mohicans" in the great mountain and lake country of the west, Maurice Tourneur, producer of Cooper's famous story, firmly believes in filming as much as possible of a story in its studio.

"Of course," says the French director, "we love to get all the beautiful exteriors we can, but when ever possible, I like to build sets on the studio stage, because it is far easier to secure effective work from the players when scenes are filmed under the lights."

This explains why such elaborate sets, representing portions of the caves, forts, cabins, wigwags, and many other forest retreats, were set up in the studio during the filming of "The Last of the Mohicans."

Nevertheless, the grandeur of the big hills plays its part in the picture, and nature, in its varying moods of storm and calm, lends the usual Tourneur atmosphere of beauty and artistry.

END BONUS SYSTEM, IS LATEST PROPOSAL OF GOVERNOR DAVIS

COLUMBUS, March 28.—Discontinuance of salary bonuses to state employees was advocated by Governor Davis Saturday.

As a substitute for the salary bonus, the governor favors the setting aside by the state emergency board of a fund to be reserved for special cases where salary adjustments "are demanded by fairness and justice."

Abandonment of the bonus plan, he believes, should be accompanied by elimination of unessential positions in the various state departments.

During the 18 months' period, ending June 30, next, the bonus system will have cost Ohio taxpayers nearly $1,100,000, the governor pointed out. This bonus has been paid state employees at the rate of $20 per month each. The governor recalled that this plan was authorized by the last state legislature under emergency conditions, arising from the recent world war, which no longer exists.

Governor Davis expressed the conviction that there are many state employees whose services can be dispensed with, and that many others are not entitled to the $20 monthly bonus in excess of their regular salaries.

"Of course, there are those whose salaries, with the bonus cut off, would be insufficient for supporting their families, and would inadequately compensate them for the services they render the state," the governor said. "Special provisions, necessarily, must be made for them."

GERMANS PASSIVE IN CITIES OCCUPIED BY ALLIES

German residents watching British troopers in square at Duisburg, Germany.

GEORGIA OFFICIALS WILL INVESTIGATE CHARGES OF PEONAGE

(By Associated Press)
MONTICELLO, Ga., March 28.—State authorities were planning today to push their investigation of alleged peonage practices in Jasper and Newton counties following the recovery of two more bodies of negroes from the Alcovy river here, making a total of eleven bodies found since the authorities began an investigation of peonage and murder charges against John Williams, a Jasper county farmer. The last two bodies found yesterday were chained together and weighted down with rocks and iron precisely as were the first three previously recovered from the river.

Appointment of Attorney-General Denney to take charge of peonage investigations in the two counties was being considered today by Governor Dorey at the request of Solicitor Campbell, of Newton county. Following a coroner's verdict yesterday, an inquest over eight of the bodies, declaring the slain negroes met death at the hands of Clyde Manning, a negro employed by Williams, and naming Williams as an accessory, Judge Park of the Cumulgee circuit, was awaiting orders from the governor today to call a special term of the Jasper county superior court and bring the two men before a grand jury.

Manning, who led the authorities to where the bodies were recovered, declared in a confession that the eleven negroes, five of whose bodies were found buried on the Williams plantation Saturday and three previously in the Alcovy river, were slain, five at his own hand with an axe, in order to prevent them from testifying in the peonage charges against Williams.

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F.M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep them fit, 15c and 30c.—Advertisement
