

CENTURY OLD HABITS REMAIN IN MOUNTAINS; PEOPLE ARE PIONEERS

(By Associated Press)
CHILLICOTHE, O., April 4.—Sixteen miles back in the Kentucky mountains from the nearest railroad, and you are in another country," said Miss Dora Carruthers, Red Cross nurse, attached to the Lake Division of the Red Cross, who recently returned from the hill districts of Kentucky, where she did public health service work for several months.

"Habits and customs that prevailed in America in pioneer days are common, and to a lawbreaker everything is queer. Religion, schools, homes, and even the people themselves smack of American life a hundred years ago, when wilderness was king in truth and every aim was bent towards the preservation of life from animals.

Cabins are Quarters.
"The homes invariably are rough hewn log cabins of pioneer days, containing only one room, with a great open fireplace at one end. In the corner of each a bed, where may be seen the one unexecuted luxury of the mountaineer. Every bed is covered with the cleanest of white sheets. The interior of the cabins usually is very clean, the walls being papered with pages from magazines, catalogues and other scraps. Wallpaper is an unknown, or a too expensive luxury.

"The mountain women work in the fields by the side of their husbands and brothers, and where there is a small baby in the family, it usually is left in the care of another youngster, too small to perform the hard work of its elders, but too large to idle time away.

"There are no old maids in the mountains, nor are there any bachelors as far as I was able to find out. It is looked upon as a duty to marry, after one reaches a certain age. A man of marrying age who remains single, the mountaineers told me, is looked upon with more scorn than a woman.

Schools Are Old Fashioned.
"The mountain schools are the same as the homes, made of rough hewn logs. There are no playgrounds for the children, the school grounds consisting merely of the land on which the school house stands, with a few larches on each side.

"In all her work among the mountain people, Miss Carruthers said, the largest piece of level ground she saw was a patch about 12 acres square.

"The religion of the mountains is the old, old Baptist faith practiced in this country when Ohio and Kentucky were the Western frontier," she continued.

"All the old customs are adhered to. The minister is simply a neighbor, who works six days a week the same as everyone else. He has no special qualifications, usually, and his only recommendation is that he desires to spread the word of the Master."

HOSPITAL

G. Rear Admiral Stott, surgeon general U. S. Navy, Maj. Gen. Irwin, surgeon general U. S. Army, J. P. Cumming, surgeon general U. S. Public Health Service, Col. R. G. Olmeyer-Jones, director Bureau of War Risk Insurance, Dr. G. J. Hatfield, president National Tuberculosis Association, Dr. Thomas W. Salmon, National Association of Mental Hygiene, Rev. Monahan, chief of Catholic Hospital Association, and Major A. A. Sprague, American Legion.

After ascertaining hospitalization requirements the location board next held conferences with construction engineers and several of the leading hospital architects to secure advice on the best types of institutions to construct.

Last Wednesday and Thursday the board gave hearings to representatives of civic organizations of various cities throughout the country which desire to have the new hospitals located in their communities. The board made it plain that in such localities where the government did not own land suitable as a site for a hospital the treasury department would expect such communities to offer the donation of such realty as the government would require. The Richmond Chamber of Commerce offered to donate a desirable site, including any acreage required.

The March report of the Federal Reserve Board is very conservative, but government officials regard it as encouraging. It shows that certain industries, particularly automobiles, textiles and footwear, experienced increased activities during the month. However, business generally remained about as it was in February. The report shows an improvement in the employment situation during March.

"An attitude of greater hopefulness on the part of the business community," is referred to by the board and it mentions "an expression of opinion on the part of commercial leaders that

Combing Won't Rid Hair Of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single grain and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

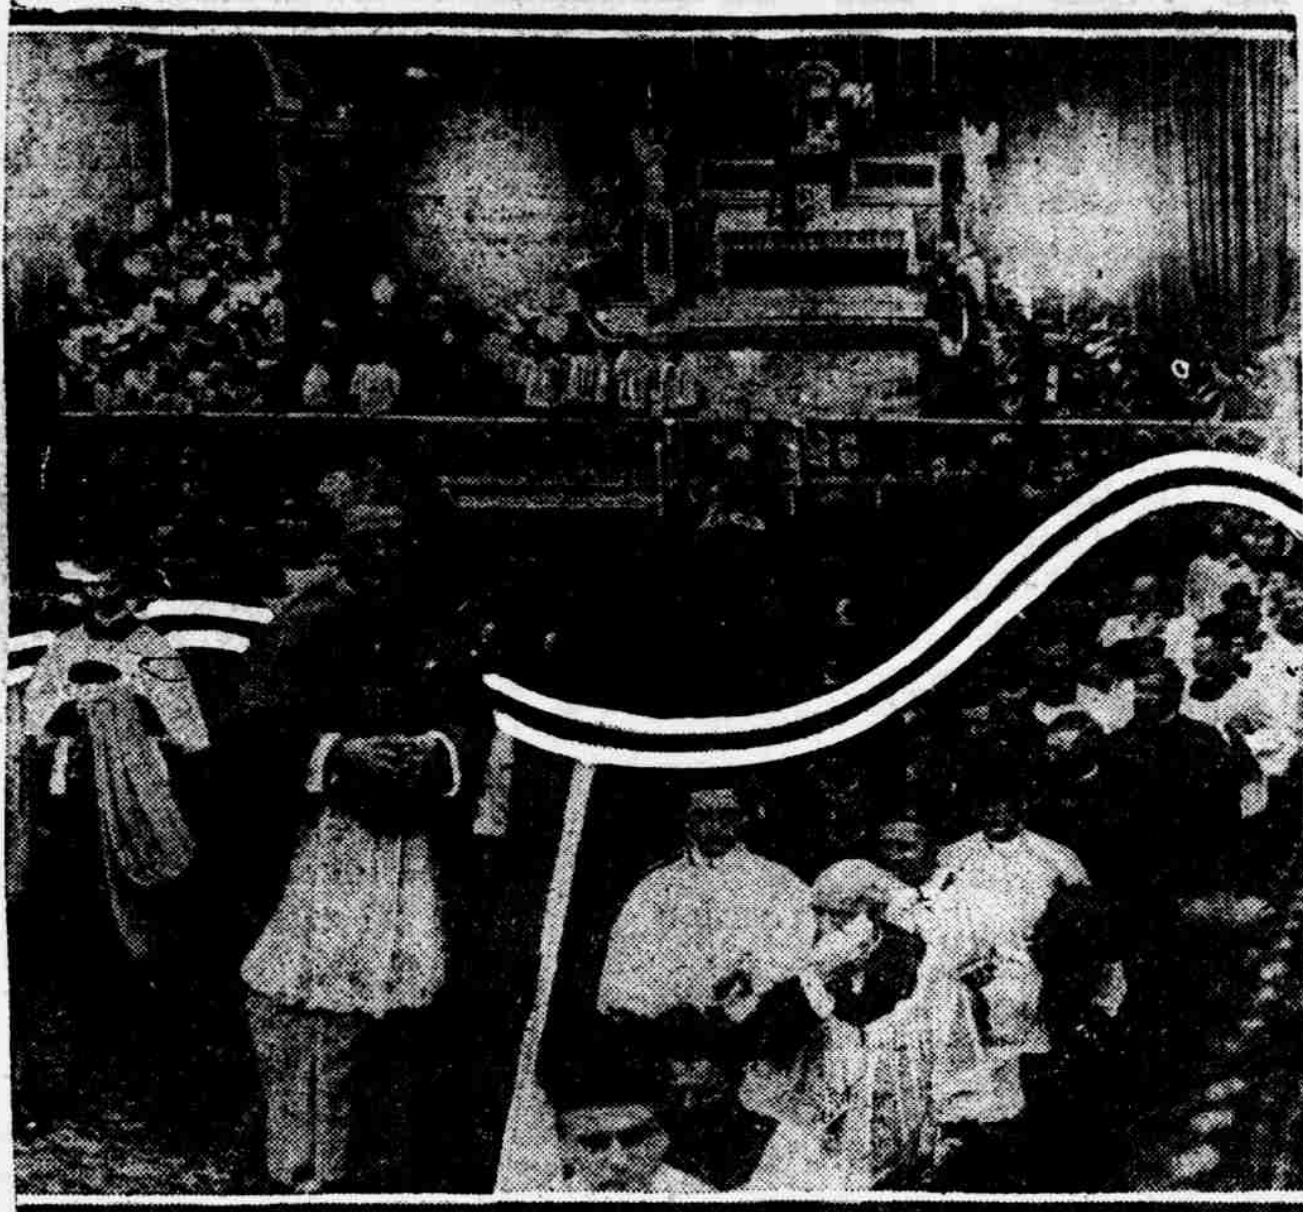

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.—Advertisement.

WHEN CARDINAL GIBBONS' BODY WAS LAID TO REST

While Archbishop John J. Glennon of St. Louis delivered the funeral sermon for the prince of the church, the late Cardinal Gibbons of Baltimore, and Archbishop John Bonzano, apostolic delegate at Washington, cele brated the solemn requiem mass, distinct improvements in domestic conditions is in sight. The board adds that the extent to which these conditions warranted cannot now be determined.

See Resumption.
Government officials believe that it is this optimistic feeling, which the reserve board now discerns, pervading the whole business world, which is bringing about activities which result in a material resumption of business and industry throughout the spring and summer.

One industry which has been relied upon to take the lead in the spring drive toward normalcy is building, and the season for the start of its operations is now being ushered in. Much interest will center in reports from the various sections of the country as an indication of what may be expected in other lines.

Over 500,000 Auto Tags Sold in Ohio So Far

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, O., April 4.—More than 500,000 automobile tags have been sold so far this year, according to a report of State Automobile Registrar Snow. This is within 34,000 of the entire number issued last year.

If the same ratio is kept up during the remaining nine months of the year, more than 600,000 tags will be issued in 1921, Snow said.

Rural counties of the state showed the greatest percentage of gain in new automobiles, the figures show, although the increase, which is better almost ten thousand people stood outside the church in a freezing rain, in respect. Never before in the history of the country had there been such a gathering of church dignitaries. The Georgian music, hanted by organists had never been heard outside the Sistine chapel in Rome. A proclamation of the mayor of Baltimore requested that every citizen drop activity for one minute at ten o'clock, as a tribute to the lost prelate. Following the service the interment of the body was made in the church crypt, attended by the cardinal's intimate friends.

This meeting was the result of a full subscription of stock in the new com-

YOUNG GIRL FINDS RELIEF

Wants to Tell Other Girls
All About It

Evansville, Ind.—"I am eighteen years old and have been bothered for several months with irregular periods. Every month my back would ache and I always had a cold and felt drowsy and sleepy. I work in a millinery shop and I went to work every day, but felt stupid and would have such cramps. I had seen Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised and had heard several women talk of it, so mother got me some. This Vegetable Compound is wonderful and it helped me very much, so that during my periods I am not now sick or drowsy. I have told many girls about your medicine and would be glad to help anyone who is troubled with similar ailments. You may use my testimonial as you like."—STELLA LINXWILER, 6 Second St., Evansville, Indiana.

Some girls lead lives of luxury, while others toil for their livelihood, but all are subject to the same physical laws and suffer in proportion to their violation. When such symptoms develop as irregularities, headaches, backaches, bearing-down sensations and "the blues," girls should profit by Miss Linxwiler's experience and give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

German Capitalist Seeks Control of Austrian Press

(By Associated Press)
VIENNA, April 4.—According to reports current in newspaper circles, Hugo Stinnes, the great German capitalist, is buying up the Austrian press on a big scale. It is said that he has acquired three papers in Vienna (The Tageblatt, Mittags Zeitung and the Oct Uhr Blatt), one in Linz and one in Graz, and has started a new paper in Klagenfurt.

Southern Europeans Leaving for Homes

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, O., April 4.—Southern Europeans in Columbus are leaving for their homes in numbers. War between Greece and Turkey and industrial depression here, are the reasons, said Edward Crawford, of the Columbus internal revenue collector's office, who issues clearance papers to every alien leaving for a foreign country. Some Greeks are going back to fight, and other foreigners, dismayed at the spectacle of no work and no big wages, either are leaving to visit friends, or to take up old time vocations in their home countries, officials said. Irish, Germans and Russians are showing little disposition to return to their native countries, it was said.

PLANS AVIATOR SCHOOL

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, O., April 4.—A school of aviation and airplane passenger service station soon may be located in Columbus, if plans of Russel Sage Haines, reserve army pilot, are carried out. Haines is seeking a suitable field. He plans to locate here permanently, he said, and develop commercial aviation.

Fine Furniture

at Reasonable Prices

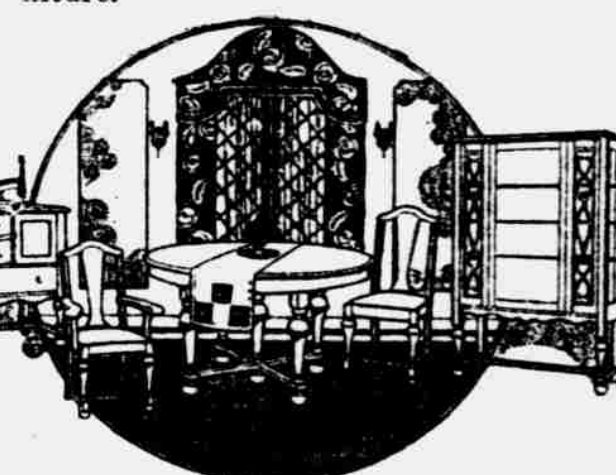

Why not furnish your home with fine furniture? Figured on any basis, good furniture will cost you less than the other kind, and give you far more satisfaction besides.

Our stocks are replete with furniture of the highest grade. In them you will find bed room, dining room and living room suites, as well as individual pieces that represent the selection of America's finest factories.

Don't be satisfied with furniture of just the "pretty good" kind. Come in and see our low priced stocks of GOOD furniture.

LET US HELP YOU
We realize that to furnish a home all at once requires considerable money. It is not always possible for young people to put the kind of furniture in their home that they would like to because of this reason. It is very poor policy to buy furniture now that will have to be replaced in a year or two, and we are, therefore, willing to help you furnish your home on a small capital with the furniture that should be in it. Come in and talk it over.

Massive Cane Living Room Suite.....$189

This massive suite is one of the finest we have on display. It is designed for beauty and yet comfort has not been overlooked. Witness the deep seats, broad backs and large roll arms. The seats are of a full spring construction, which insures maximum comfort. Upholstered in a fine grade velour and finished in dark mahogany. Complete as shown, $189.00.

William and Mary Dining Room Suite.....$167

For durability, beauty and satisfaction, there is no period that surpasses the William and Mary. This suite is a choice example of that old-time period, and as such is a suite that will give you years of satisfaction. Consists of buffet, extension table, one arm chair and five plain chairs. Finished in walnut.

THE SERVICE WE RENDER

It is our policy to serve our customers in every way possible and to their complete satisfaction. We aim to carry only the furniture that we know by experience will stand the test of time and prove a worth-while investment. Not only must our furniture serve you, but we maintain organized departments that will give you the assistance of their knowledge on the solving of your furniture problems. If you desire to know what an interior decorator would advise for your home, we will furnish the information without putting you under any obligation.
