

SPEEDY ACTION ON LIABILITY INSURANCE BILL IN OHIO SENATE

COLUMBUS, O., April 6.—Rush tactics are to be employed by the interests back of the Culbert-Burns private liability insurance company bill to bring it to a vote in the Ohio Senate. Whatever chances it has of passing the general assembly finally depend upon speedy action in the upper chamber, so that it may reach a vote in the house of representatives with the prestige of enactment by the Senate.

Introduced yesterday, read a second time and referred to the Insurance committee, a hearing was announced to night for Thursday night.

First reactions of senators to the bill were unfavorable. They began to hear that manufacturers in their districts were opposed to the readmission of the banished companies, especially as many suspect that, as charged, the attack is largely for propaganda purposes in other states.

The measure is also being assailed by influential leaders from the standpoint of Republican expediency, and members also said that their employer constituents had told them that competition would increase the compensation premium charges.

Errors Found in Bill. Because of the detection of four material errors in the reorganization bill, fostered by Governor Harry L. Davis, it was decided not to vote upon it until Thursday instead of Wednesday, as originally planned. Clerk William E. Hadley, of the senate, said the senators might not vote upon it until it was placed in correct form. He added that the bill was being scanned for further errors.

One of those already found would place the securities department under the secretary of state, and the measure abounds in typographical errors. The Cleveland chamber of commerce has mailed to each senator a protest against the measure and against the "emergency clause" seeking to prevent a referendum. The bill is described as being "in danger of becoming primarily a political measure to increasing the efficiency of the state government, but for the purpose of forming a considerable number of appointive officers."

There is said to be "no necessity for the emergency clause," as "there is no emergency present."

Public utility lobbyists who thronged the senate smoking room when the taxation committee met were worried by the action taken by the committee on the the Griswold debt limitation measure. The proposed amendment on public utilities was not placed in concrete form, but a vote was taken on the principle of exempting bonds of all municipally-owned utilities from the debt limitations.

PLANS FOR GOVERNING AIR ROUTES PREPARED FOR U. S. WASHINGTON, April 6.—Plans for a new commission to prepare regulations governing air routes, landing fields and laws affecting commercial and pleasure aviation in this country, together with names of the members of the commission, were ready today for President Harding's approval, having been worked out by the national advisory committee for aeronautics.

Ohio News Flashes

COLUMBUS. — Spirited protest against the McCoy bill regulating motion pictures by statute, was made Tuesday in a hearing before the senate judiciary committee. James A. Maddox, of Columbus, speaking for exhibitors and producers, asked for a chance to "clean up the motion picture business."

SANDUSKY. — Sandusky region grape growers, meeting informally Tuesday, took steps to oppose the McCoy bill, pending in the Ohio assembly, on the ground that it would force the grape growers out of business. It was asserted that the intent is not only to prevent the prescribing of wine and beer by physicians, but to prohibit the manufacture of wines and other intoxicants.

YOUNGSTOWN. — Robert Stoich, alleged black hander, was captured Tuesday by a party of citizens who were watching the spot on a suburban car line at which Ed Powell had been directed in a letter to place $5,000 under penalty of "planting." Stoich, the posse said, was digging up a cigar box in which the money was to be placed, when he was seized.

Always Ask for Zwissler's Betsy Ross Bread

Lots of people look on all bread as alike. Yet a little thought shows that bread that contains carefully selected flour, wholesome milk, and other ingredients whose purity is beyond question, is not at all like a bread of indifferent ingredients and unskilled baking.

We produce BETSY ROSS Bread with such care and under such safeguards as make it the very best bread it is possible to produce. The wheat is selected for its purpose; other ingredients, tested for purity, are scientifically proportioned to create the proper diet; proteins, carbohydrates and fats are carefully balanced. The important vitamins--the wonderful substances that bring immunity to disease, are guarded.

The fact that BETSY ROSS Bread tastes good is not its sole claim to distinction. It is a better bread, with more nourishment, more health, more vitality than can be found in plain ordinary "filler."

You are exercising sensible care when you select BETSY ROSS Bread for your table.

You'll find it at your grocers
