One of the most beautiful home weddings of the month occurred Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Haner, of South Fourth street, when their daughter, Lucie, and Harlow Edgar Haas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar M. Haas, were married at 7:30 o'clock. Roses twined with smilax formed arches in the entranceways while large bouquets of pink roses and festoons of smilax were used in abundance throughout the rooms of the residence. White candles in crystal holders added to the loveliness of the scene. Preceding the ceremony a program of bridal airs were played by Miss Alice Knollenberg. Miss Corinne Nusbaum, and Miss Camilla Haner, sister of the bride. Accompanied by Miss Knollenberg on the piano and Miss Haner on the violin, Miss Nusbaum sang "For You Alone," "Calm as the Night," and "Mavis." Miss Haner and Miss Nusbaum played two violin duets, "Love's Old Sweet Song" and "The Sweetest Story Ever Told." The wedding march was played by Miss Knollenberg. The service as read before an altar banked with palms and ferns and intertwined with roses and smilax about which tall candles in stately candelabra gleamed. The single ring ceremony was used, the Rev. F. A. Dressel, of the First English Lutheran church officiating. The bride's gown was of Paulette crepe fashioned over white satin. She carried a shower of white roses and valley lilies. There were no attendants. After the ceremony a wedding-supper was served. The bride's table was lighted by pink-shaded candles in crystal holders tied with tulle. The centerpiece was formed with pink roses and smilax. Four smaller tables, also lighted with candles and decorated with roses, accommodate the other guests. Mr. and Mrs. Haas have left on a short wedding trip after which they will be at home in Franklin.

Churches Plan Special Program to Celebrate 'Mother's Day' Sunday

Mothers will be honored in nearly every church in Richmond Sunday, "Mother's Day."

All programs for services during the day have not been completed, and other pastors could not be reached Thursday. This makes the list of events incomplete. However, a canvass of the church officials indicated that special "Mother's Day" sermons and song services would be the order of the occasion.

An effort is to be exerted to bring to the Sunday services those mothers who find it difficult to attend regularly. Any who are unable to get to the churches because of age or recent illness are to be brought to the churches in automobiles.

The Rev. E. Howard Brown, pastor of East Main street Friends church, said that he was planning to preach an appropriate sermon at the morning service. Also that special music would be furnished by the choir. Automobiles will be used to bring to the church mothers unable to attend otherwise, and those belonging to the Home department.

Special Subject Chosen.

"Motherhood" is the subject chosen by the Rev. J. P. Miller, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, for his Sunday morning sermon. Music will be provided by the junior choir. Special observance of the day will be evident in the Sunday school exercises.

Shut-ins and elderly mothers will receive attention at the First M. E. church. Automobiles will make it possible for these persons to attend. A sermon touching strongly upon the observance of the day is to be preached by the pastor, the Rev. R. W. Stokes. The Epworth League is in charge of "Mother's Day" church decorations.

The Rev. C. Raymond Isley, pastor of the Second English Lutheran church, reported Thursday, that while a program has not been prepared, he would preach on the subject. It is quite possible that the superintendent of the Sunday school will arrange appropriate exercises.

Quartet and solo numbers, together with a sermon on "Mother," by the Rev. L. E. Murray, pastor of the First Christian church, will comprise the observance by that church. "Mother 'o Mine" will be a solo number by Ralph Little, while "Back to Mother's Knee," will be rendered by the quartet. The quartet is composed of Miss Hazel VanMetre, soprano; Mrs. Edward Sharp, alto; Harry McMinn, tenor, and Ralph Little, bass.

African Missionaries.

One or two of the Friends' missionaries from Africa, now in this city, may be features of the program at the South Eighth street Friends church, Sunday. The pastor, the Rev. Andrew F. Mitchell, announced Thursday that he would preach a sermon honoring motherhood. Musical numbers will be given.

Although the Rev. E. L. Gates, pastor of the Third M. E. church, was absent from the city, Thursday, Mrs. E. L. Gates said that the church would celebrate the day at the evening service. A program will be announced later.

West Richmond Friends church has arranged for a special program, to be given at the Sunday school hour, 9 a.m.

ence, who have left their business to serve without salary, in literal obedience to the Bible command to love one's neighbor.

"At the present time, 750,000 children and nursing and expecting mothers are supplied with one hot meal a day. The work is carried on through the school. The largest operation is in Berlin, where mainly 1,000 feeding stations are supplied from central kitchens, the largest of which has facilities for preparing meals for 34,000 children. The food is carried to the stations in thermos kettles. In Berlin, 115,000 children are on the lists. The other operations are located chiefly in the industrial centers.

Bear Part of Cost.

"The German government has gradually taken over the financing of the actual operation of the child relief, and is today bearing between 50 and 60 per cent of the cost. This includes supplying all of the sugar and flour used in the rations. Office for the staffs in Berlin and in the districts are supplied warehouses in all cities, where the operation is carried on, kitchens and feeding stations rent free services of 25,000 Germans who are engaged in the actual work of handling the food, cooking and distribution.

"The American Friends service committee regards it as essential that the feeding be continued under its auspices for another year, during which time an end will be made to organizing the German agencies now cooperating, in order that they may continue the relief without abatement when the Americans finally withdraw. It is estimated that less than four or five years of feeding will not work a

Miss Blythe Says:

"When the Quakers were invited by Herbert Hoover to take charge of the feeding of the German children the opportunity was welcomed with eagerness. As members of a religious body historically opposed to war, many of them had refused military service as conscientious objectors. But there were those among them who were not satisfied to give no service in the time of the world's greatest need, and Mr. Hoover's suggestion was accepted as an opportunity to aid in the reconstruction.

"Prior to the co-operation of the Quakers with the American Relief administration, a small number of them had been engaged in extending what aid they could in Germany, in fact the first civilians to enter Germany were English and American Quakers. Relief work had been performed in France, Serbia and Russia, but Germany was chosen for the alternative demonstration to war, because it was the very fountain head of militarist spirit.

"Why not try the 'ministry of reconciliation' in the country where militarism is bred in the bone of the people.

Serve Without Salary.

"The plan of combining the child feeding brought the Quaker effort more conspicuously before the world. The A. B. A. has supplied about 80 per cent of the funds used to purchase and ship the food supplied from outside Germany, while the overhead of 40 Quakers in charge of the work is borne by the American Friends' service committee. The chairman is A. G. Scattergood, an officer of the Provident Life and Trust company of Philadelphia, and the personnel includes business men of equal prominence.

Although the Rev. E. L. Gates, pastor of the Third M. E. church, was absent from the city, Thursday, Mrs. E. L. Gates said that the church would celebrate the day at the evening service. A program will be announced later.
