

WESTERN PHYSICIAN LAYS DOWN RULES FOR LIVING OVER CENTURY

(By Associated Press)
LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 4.—Dr. James Martin Peebles, physician and author, who not long ago celebrated his 99th birthday anniversary and who wrote a book on "How to Live a Century and Grow Old Gracefully," ascribes his long life in a large measure to abstinence from eating animal flesh. Dr. Peebles stopped eating meat when he was 39 years old. He wrote his book on the rules of living when he was 62.

Asked what he considered the greatest contributory cause to his long life he instantly replied: "One cannot stretch his life by living on death. I cannot bear the idea of eating dead cows and dead hogs, and it is not necessary. See how strong are horses and oxen; they do not live on dead flesh. Other rules he made for himself and which he said he believed had helped him to reach his advanced years included:

Early Rising Rule.
"Go to bed every night at 8:30. Out of bed every morning at six. Never use tobacco. Never use intoxicating liquors. Never complain."

"Avoid all worry and keep an harmonious mind. Worry is among the worst enemies in the world. Have a strong will-power. Always look for the new. Keep calm."

On his 99th birthday, Dr. Peebles walked erect only occasionally using a cane. He has been showing how he used spectacles for reading; his hearing "as good as ever," and his appetite and digestion he declared excellent. His long white beard and hair gave him a truly venerable appearance.

Asked what his plans for the future were he replied:

"To live a number of years more and to write at least another book. This will be on the progress of Christianity as it is preached, showing how preachers are leaving hell fire, brimstone, purgatory and many other old-time dogmas behind."

Reviews Changes.
"What a variety of mighty changes since my birth!" he exclaimed. "Napoleon then had just died on the island of St. Helena; old 'Hickory Jackson' as he was then called, had just been elected president of the United States; Ohio was then a budding state and the great west was dotted with Indian wigwags."

"Later came telegraph, telephones, railroads, electric lights and machinery, wireless flashes on ocean and land, airplanes sailing through the skies and automobiles dashing madly across the continent."

"There is life in everything. Crush the acorn to earth and the germ looks toward the mountains. In every marble block there is an angel's form awaiting the sculptor's chisel. God is good. There is no absolute evil in the universe, because God made it."

Dr. Peebles was born March 27, 1822 at Whitingham, Vt., and was graduated from Oxford Academy, Chelmsford, N. Y., in 1841. He has traveled around the earth five times.

FREIGHT TRAFFIC DECREASES IN MAY IN NORTHERN CANALS

(By Associated Press)
SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., June 4.—Freight traffic through the American and Canadian canals here during May amounted to 6,155,663 tons, a decrease, compared with May, 1920, of more than 2,000,000 tons. Many boats that carried coal to the upper lake ports were unable to find east bound cargoes and came down light, making the eastbound traffic unusually light for the month.

Movement of coal to the north compared favorably with previous records, the shipments amounting to 2,220,000 tons, while oil shipments set a new record at 63,291 tons.

Eastbound Shipments.
Eastbound grain shipments amounting to 25,039,062 bushels, of which 12,609,469 were wheat, represented about half of the normal May average, while the ore and lumber movement to the east also made a poor showing. Ore cargoes amounted to 2,647,832 tons, and 18,562,000 feet of lumber were carried down.

Vessel passengers numbered 1,510. Only 62 passengers passed through the American canals, while 1,275 passed through the Canadian locks. Canadian passenger lines having been in operation for several weeks.

PALLADIUM WIRELESS GETS FIGHT RESULTS

(By Associated Press)
PITTSBURGH, June 4.—The Dempsey-Carpenter championship at Jersey City, July 2, will be flashed to all parts of the country by wireless telephone, it became known here today.

A company engaged in the manufacture of wireless telephone equipment is making arrangements to have a "blow by blow" report of the bout telegraphed from the ringside to its offices here. This report will be relayed on the wireless telephone.

The Palladium will receive returns of the fight on a special wire of The Associated Press, and also by wireless telephone.

The returns received by wireless in turn be sent out by The Palladium wireless to points in Indiana and Ohio.

Austrian General, Accused of Treason, is Acquitted

(By Associated Press)
VIENNA, June 4.—Major General Joseph Hummel, formerly of the Austrian army, and eleven other ex-officers, who were placed on trial before a special court here Wednesday on the charge of having committed treason in connection with the recent attempt of former Emperor Charles to regain the Hungarian throne, were acquitted by a verdict rendered late yesterday. The ex-officers were charged with having organized legionary troops and placing themselves in the service of Hungary in pursuance of a plan to restore the Hapsburg dynasty in Austria.

WHAT DO THE LORD REQUIRE OF THEE? SPEAKER WILL ASK 300 YOUNG FRIENDS

"What Doth the Lord Require of Thee?" has been announced as the theme of the open air lectures to be given during the Young Friends conference, beginning Friday evening, July 22, and continuing until August 1. Frederick J. Libby, publicity secretary for the American Friends Service Committee, is to deliver a series of seven lectures based on this theme.

Each of the lectures will be delivered at Chase, out-of-door stage on Earlham campus, between the hours of 10:45 and 11:30 each day except Sunday. All sessions of the conference are to be held at Earlham. The subjects to be presented by Mr. Libby during the series are as follows:

"The World's Need of Friends"; "Christ in the Life of a Friend"; "Faith in the Life of a Friend"; "Love in the Life of a Friend"; "Helping God Build Heaven"; and "What Doth the Lord Require of Thee?"

It is the plan of Mr. Libby to show first the need of the world physically and spiritually for leadership, light and hope and peace, all incarnate in personalities. His series of lectures will be one of the main events of the entire conference.

The conference this year will be the 12th. Last year the conference was attended by 300 delegates. Two class periods have been arranged for each morning, with the exception of Sunday. These classes will be taught by able instructors. In arranging the Young Friends conference for this year, Clarence E. Pickett, general secretary of the Young Friends' board, has had the following points in view:

To meet the needs of leaders of Christian Endeavor and study classes; to meet the needs of those having the responsibility for and the leadership of boys' and girls' organizations and all work with intermediaries; to meet the needs of those desiring help in study classes in teacher training, social service, personal evangelism and other educational courses; to meet the needs of pastors and young Friends interested in the work of pastoral secretaries and directors of religious education. Classes for boys and girls between 16 and 18 years of age are planned.

Work Outlined.
Five classes will be conducted at once each morning from 8:40 o'clock to 9:30, and from 9:35 o'clock each morning to 10:30 o'clock. Classes to be conducted each morning between 8:40 and 9:30 o'clock include:

"Bible Study," by Alexander Purdy, head of Biblical department of Earlham college; "Friends' History," (senior division) by Agnes L. Tierney, associated with the educational committee and the committee on Social Work; "The Philadelphia Yearly Meeting," by E. Willis Beede, educational secretary of the American Friends Board of Foreign Missions. His text book will be the revised edition of the book on missions, "The Why and How of Foreign Missions," by Arthur Brown. "Older Girls' Class," by Edith E. Wildman, teacher of English in the Friends Spiceland academy; and "Older Boys' Class," by Harold Laitz, teacher-elect of Oakwood Friends school, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

Classes to be conducted each morning between 9:35 and 10:30 o'clock include:

"Discuss Church Problems," "Young People and Local Church Problems," by Ora W. Carrell, president of Nebraska Central college, Central City, Neb.; "The Teacher and the New World," by William J. Reagan, principal of Oakwood Friends school, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.; "Friends' History" (junior division) by Agnes L. Tierney, of Philadelphia Yearly Meeting; "Religious Education," by an instructor yet to be named; and "Personal Evangelism," by Errol D. Peckham, pastor of Friends' meeting, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

A recess period will be granted from 10:30 to 10:45 each morning. At 10:45 each morning of the conference, Frederick J. Libby begins his open air lectures. At the conclusion of the lecture period, the following program will be held:

Second Time for Babe; May Serve Jail Sentence
(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, June 4.—Babe Ruth simply can't help being too fast for New York. For the second time the hard-hitting Yankee today was summoned for speeding. The first time he was fined.
