

FAYETTE HOSPITAL HEAD WILL BECOME SPORTSMEN'S LEADER

D. M. Bottoms of Connersville, superintendent of Fayette Memorial hospital since September, 1919, today announced his resignation to become national secretary of the American Sportsmen's Protective League.

Robert Graham is organizing a branch in Wayne county.

Some months ago he and Ben W. Cole, of Connersville, and Dr. William E. Fallis, of Louisville, conceived the idea of forming an association for the protection of game.

At that time they thought only of a league for the states in this section of the country, but sporting magazines from New York to California carried articles of the project and met with such unanimous and encouraging support that within several weeks every mail brought responses from sportsmen expressing their desire to become members and have county units organized.

Since that time, an organization has been perfected in every state in the union with the one exception of Nevada.

Mr. Bottoms has been foremost in advancing the organization to different counties of the 47 states and the wonderful expansion of the league has devolved duties upon the founders which demand an active national organization. Mr. Bottoms active in the movement since its inception, will be at its business helm as secretary.

During the months of August and September he will make a tour of places in Indiana and Illinois.

INDIANA IS LEADER IN DRAINAGE PROJECTS

Indiana has the most land in drainage enterprises of any state in the Union, according to late reports of the census bureau. This state surpasses its nearest competitor, Ohio, by nearly 10 per cent. Michigan stands third with 26 per cent of its area in drainage projects; Minnesota fourth with 18 per cent; Iowa fifth with 15 per cent; Arkansas has 12.7 per cent and Illinois 11.2 per cent.

Other states have drained varying percentages of their areas from less than one to 9.4 per cent.

An amount of capital invested in drainage, however, Indiana and Ohio stand fifth and sixth respectively, with investments of $31,000,000 and $30,000,000. California has 47 millions in drainage enterprises; Iowa has 49 millions; Illinois, 43 millions, and Minnesota 42 millions.

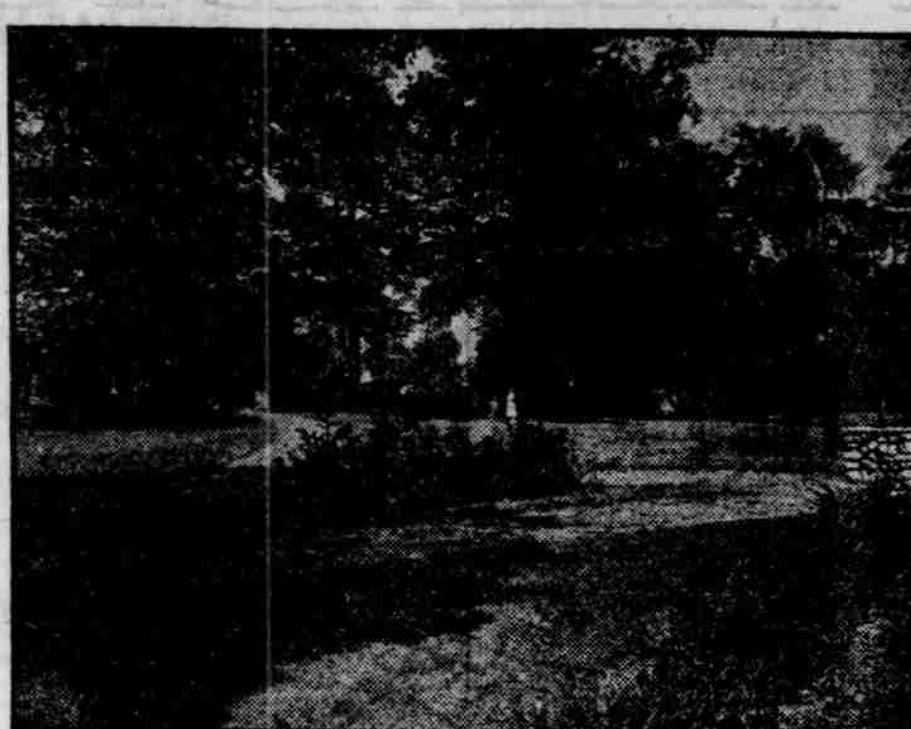

America Furnishes Share of Austrian Food Supply

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 22—About four percent of Austria's total foreign commerce in 1919 was absorbed by the United States which served principally as a source of Austrian food supply, according to a report to the commerce department today from Carol H. Foster of the American mission at Vienna.

During the year, he said, American imports from Austria totalled 15,800 tons, chiefly minerals, while exports to that country were 290,000 tons, chiefly food products, oil and cotton.

CAMBRIDGE CITY, July 22—Cambridge City will be the scene next Sunday of what is expected to be the largest community meeting ever held in this section of Indiana. The affair will last all day.

The program is an elaborate one. Included in the list of speakers are Dr. J. M. Taylor, of Upland, an African and South American missionary and newly elected president of Taylor university; Judge William Bond and William Dudley Foulke of Richmond; E. L. Trifitt and E. P. Hawkins, Connersville; Dr. W. C. Van Nuys of Newcastle, and D. M. Edwards, president of Earlham college.

Cambridge City is centrally located between Richmond, Liberty, Connersville, Rushville, Carthage, Knightsburg, Greenfield, Newcastle, Hagerstown and Winchester, and people from well filled baskets and eat dinner and supper on the Gaar nursery grounds, Capital Hill in east part of Cambridge City. If you come only in the afternoon, come directly to Capital Hill as early as possible, enjoy the band concert and meet people from all parts of the community from 12:30 to 2:30 o'clock. There are introduction and entertaining committees appointed to see that you are made welcome.

"At 2:30 o'clock the band will march to the M. E. church and Hurst opera house where the program will begin at 3 o'clock. Plan to be at the evening service and hear Dr. J. M. Taylor, one of the ablest speakers of America today, and one who dedicated his life to the service of young people. Come to all the services and bring your neighbors and friends with you. We welcome you."

J. M. Taylor is president-elect of Taylor university and former missionary to Africa and South America. He has traveled 500,000 miles in missionary work outside of the United States and has seen about 22,000 young persons dedicate their lives to Christ. He will bring with him a famous bull fighter of Peru, South America, who is studying at Taylor university and will return home as a missionary. He also will be accompanied by a lady student who whistles sacred songs. Mr. Wesley who has charge of the music at Taylor university, will be present. They will aid in the program during the day.

GAS TRACTOR USE INCREASING, REPORT

Increasing use of gas tractors is shown by sales for the past year, just reported by farm implement manufacturers.

Gas tractors to the number 203,000, with a total value of $183,000,000, more than 1,000,000 plows with a value of over $40,000,000, 225,000 farm wagons with a value of nearly $25,000,000 and 412,000 haying machines with a value of nearly $25,000,000 were manufactured in the United States during the year of 1920, according to detailed reports from 583 manufacturers summarized by Bureau of Public Roads, United States department of agriculture. The total value of implements manufactured was $537,000,000 and gas tractors constituted more than one-third of the total.

Average values for the implements are as follows: tractors, $950; plows, $40; and farm wagons, $111.

Export sales show that plows and lists are the most favorite American implements, with haying and harvesting machinery next in order. About 50 per cent as much in value and in number, of plows are exported as are sold in this country. Foreign sales of haying and harvesting machinery are 25 to 35 per cent of domestic sales.
