

FORMER ASSOCIATE IN BUSINESS, SUES CHAMBERLAIN, EATON

EATON, O., Aug. 16.—Suit for an accounting has been filed in common pleas court by Francis VanAusdal against Brook Chamberlain, of the Southern Motor Car company, following dissolution of a partnership July 23, last.

VanAusdal avers he and Chamberlain entered into a partnership in December, 1919, in the operation of the Southern Motor Car company in Eaton, as a general garage and automobile sales business, and that each put $5,067 into the business.

VanAusdal avers he put an additional $7,600 into the business from time to time, taking Chamberlain's individual notes for his half of the amount. They borrowed $9,000 from the Preble County National bank on a joint note, VanAusdal avers. He claims the note remains unpaid.

At the time of dissolution of the partnership, VanAusdal claims it was agreed that he was to assume all obligations of the firm and all assets, etc., in control of Chamberlain was to be turned over to him. He avers Chamberlain has neglected and refused to abide by the agreement.

Fleisch is Defendant
William Fleisch, local farmer, is being sued by Grover F. White and Sam Addleman, of Wayne county, Ind., for $500 for sale of a farm.

The plaintiffs aver Fleisch agreed to pay them $500 if they sold for him a farm in Dixon township, Preble county. They claim they performed their part of the contract but have received no pay.

The suit was prepared by Attorney Gath Freeman, of Richmond, Ind., and filed here in common pleas court by H. L. Risinger, local attorney.

United Brethren Conference
The Rev. C. B. Boda of Brookville, O., will preside here Wednesday evening at the last quarterly conference of the local United Brethren church.

RUSH ODD FELLOWS BOOST COUNTY RALLY

RUSHVILLE, Ind., Aug. 16.—Twenty-five representatives of the seven Odd Fellow lodges of Rush county will meet in this city Wednesday evening at the local lodge hall for the purpose of making the preliminary arrangements for a county meeting to be held here on the month of October.

A committee from Franklin lodge has completed a tour of the county, visiting every lodge, boosting the meeting, and reports great enthusiasm everywhere.

It is planned to have an afternoon and evening program, with all the grand lodge officers present. A parade is being arranged, with several bands and floats and other novel features.

SHELBYVILLE YOUTH WORKS AUTO FRAUD

SHELBYVILLE, Ind., Aug. 16.—Explaining that he had worked hard to save enough money with which to buy an automobile, a young man, giving his name as "Clarence Thompson," worked a clever game here yesterday when he presented a worthless check for $200 at the Shelby Buick Company, a local automobile firm, in payment for a used car, which he purchased and drove away.

After having selected an automobile, the young man became somewhat dejected as he told the salesman that he had saved his money very carefully and after he had paid for the car he would only have $47 in the bank. As he was in a hurry and seemed conscientious, the salesman permitted him to take the automobile and accepted the check. When inquiry was made it was discovered there was no balance whatever in the bank and there never had been any.

Abington Farmers Discuss Culling, Fertilizer, Coal

ABINGTON, Ind., Aug. 16.—The farmers' association of Abington township will meet at Abington on Thursday evening to discuss poultry culling and pooling of fertilizer and coal orders.

RANDOLPH FARMERS LEARN HOW TO CALL THEIR LOAFING HENS

WINCHESTER, Ind., Aug. 16.—Four special poultry culling demonstrations were held by County Agent R. A. Fields, and P. G. Riley, poultry specialist of Purdue, on Aug. 11, in Randolph county. The demonstrations were conducted on the farms of Clyde Miller, near Winchester, O. P. Botkins, near Carlos City, Harry J. Wise, near Lynn, and Robert Kemp, near Union City.

Three classes, the high producing hens, the medium producers and the loafers, were culled out of the flocks. The flocks culled included 482 hens. Many of the spectators signed agreements to cull their own flocks and to report results to the county agent.

Further culling demonstrations will be conducted as follows: Jesse Haynes, Modoc, Aug. 16, 9 o'clock; Ernest Spillers, Ridgeville, Aug. 16, 2 o'clock; H. C. Slick, Hollansburg, O., Aug. 18, 9 o'clock; Giffa Frazee, Winchester, Aug. 18, 2 o'clock; A. W. Lumpkin, Losantville, Aug. 22, at 2 o'clock; George Addington, Winchester, Aug. 22, 9 o'clock; V. E. Hinkle, Union City, Aug. 23, 2 o'clock.

Chinch Bugs Appear.
Chinch bugs are showing again in corn fields, the second brood having hatched out and farm operators are asked to watch for the bugs in neighborhoods where they appeared this summer and to discover their abundance before the winter burning campaign starts. Hibernation places should not be burned now, says the county agent, as the bugs are not in winter quarters yet, and simply will find some other hiding places. They can be destroyed most easily by burning them out after severe weather sets in.

Warning against Hessian fly, and advice as to wheat midge and chinch bugs are sent out by the county agent to Randolph county farmers this week. Wheat growers are advised not to sow wheat before Sept. 25, as the government reports a 30 per cent infestation of Indiana, and counts show a still greater infestation for Randolph county.

Announcement is made by Mrs. Fields that the Home Economics club of the county will send one or two girls between the ages of 14 and 18, to the state fair for ten days, beginning Sept. 5. They will be selected from among those who make application.

A Canadian agriculturist has invented a system by which the queen bees are developed in a cage to insure that they shall not get away from the control of the grower.

Putting the Furnace in the Parlor

There is on exhibition in the store windows of Romey's, a decided novelty.

A banner invites passers-by to "Stop and See Estate Heatrola—the Parlor Pipeless Furnace."

The heater is appropriately named, because its appearance is that of a fine phonograph. Its sides are paneled, apparently in fine-grained mahogany with the lustre of rare furniture. In design it has the lines of a fine cabinet talking machine. This idea is carried out in the shape, the finish and the ornamentation.

Everyone who has seen the Heatrola is enthusiastic in praise of this effort to substitute for the homely black stove, with the glaring nickel trimmings, a piece of furniture which is actually ornamental and which is a better heater than a stove.

The Heatrola is not merely a cleverly disguised stove, it is a regular warm-air furnace or the pipeless type. Inside of the fire chamber is a patented air chamber. This takes in air from the room, sterilizes it, moistens it and heats it, then discharges it through registers in the top of the heater. Just like a pipeless furnace.

So, the Heatrola heats a whole house of three to six connecting rooms at the cost of operating an ordinary stove.

The Heatrola burns any kind of coal—hard or soft, lignite or slack. It is guaranteed to hold fire for fifty hours on one charging.

Women who have seen the Heatrola are particularly impressed with its convenience. It is as easy to keep clean as a phonograph. There is no blacking, no metal to polish. The steel panels are finished like wood, grained like rare old crotch mahogany, and polished to the smoothness of glass. All you need do to clean it is to rub it with a soft dust cloth, as you would your furniture.

It is a very economical heating plant for small homes, because it holds fire so long, because it burns any kind of coal, and because the charge is small on each loading. It requires very little attention, much less than an ordinary stove or furnace.

Physicians recommend it because warm, moist air is the healthiest heat you can use. It is a pipeless furnace in effect, a handsome piece of furniture in appearance.

The Heatrola is on display at Romey Furniture Co., 920-926 Main Street.

SHOT DURING PICNIC, ITALIAN WON'T TALK, FESTIVITIES GO ON

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—Joseph Sileo was reported by the police today to be dying with sealed lips, a victim of a bootlegger war in the Italian quarter, which has rolled up a casualty list of 20 in the last three months.

Despite the fact the attack on Sileo was made in the midst of a crowd of 50 picnickers at New Dorp Beach, Staten Island, detectives assigned to the case were unable to gain a single clew as to the assassin's identity.

Terror of the "Camorra," they said, had so chilled the hearts of the witnesses that none could be found who would admit having seen the man who emptied three chambers of a pistol into Sileo's body as he sat on a hotel veranda at New Dorp.

Two of Sileo's brothers who were nearby professed to be entirely mystified. Sileo, on his hospital bed, refused to discuss the shooting. The picnic went merrily on to its conclusion, with the detectives circulating through the crowd to prevent the outbreak of further trouble.

Eleven of the 19 shootings that preceded Sileo's took place at or near the corner of Grand and Christie streets in the lower East Side. This corner, the police say, is the scene of a secretly conducted bootleggers' curb "market."

Detective also are trying to trace to the bootleggers' feud a shooting that occurred early today in the Bronx. Joseph Lazaro, the victim, said he had been shot by a man posing as a prohibition agent who first tried to extort $500 in exchange for immunity from arrest on a charge of having a can of Italian wine in his possession. He said he could not identify his assailant.

The Mystery of the Cook's Pet Parrot

A FUNNY paper recently.
SLIPPED ME a good laugh.
WITH A wheeze about
A FAMOUS ventriloquist.
AND WHY he had quit.
THE VAUDEVILLE stage.
IT SAID he discovered.
HE COULD make more jack.
SELLING WOODEN parrots.
SO WHEN I got home.
I PASSED the joke.
TO OUR cook, who owns
BOTH A speechless parrot.
AND A sense of humor.
BUT SHE muffed it.
BECAUSE SHE didn't know.
WHAT A ventriloquist was.
SO I had to explain it.
AND ON the way out.
I BLEW just a whiff.
OF CIGARETTE smoke.
AT HER amusing old.
FOOL OF a parrot.
WHICH NEVER talks.
AND I said, "Poll.
HOW D'YOU like it?"
AND TO this day.
IT'S GOT me guessing.
WHETHER IT was cook.
OR THE blamed bird.
WHICH SQUAWKED back.
"THEY SATISFY."

CHESTERFIELDS speak for themselves. They let you know you're smoking. They "satisfy" and yet, they're mild. An impossible combination, you say? Sure—everywhere but in Chesterfields. The blend does it and the blend can't be copied.
