

115 AMERICANIZATION MEETINGS ARE HELD IN COUNTY, IS REPORT

Mrs. Ethel Jay Probst, county superintendent of Americanization department of the W. C. T. U. submitted her annual report before the county convention Wednesday which showed 115 meetings held in behalf of Americanization this year.

The work, Mrs. Probst says, is carried on through six mediums, namely, the Sunday school, Bible classes, summer sewing clubs, mothers' meetings, mothers' and fathers' meeting, and the booster chorus.

Personal calls are made in the homes of foreigners in order to meet the mother, who can be reached in no other way, and who it is necessary to reach in order to raise the standards of the home.

Instruction in the speaking of English is one of the most important things taught the foreign born mother. Calls made in the homes included 75 by members of two local W. C. T. U. unions and 169 by the county superintendent.

The report of Mrs. Probst follows: "Wayne County's Americanization and Evangelization through the W. C. T. U. have been carried on principally through the Community center of the Union Mission located on North Twelfth street, Richmond.

"The Mary Hill W. C. T. U. has adopted or taken as a special work the Hungarian families and has carried on a very interesting and beneficial work, especially in the homes with the mother who has practically no affiliation with any educational institution when she arrives with her husband and family in America. The husband goes to the shop where he picks up bits of English and also he goes to night school. The mother remains at home with the family while the older children go to public school.

Family Adopted. "An Italian family with 10 children have been adopted as the special charge of this union. Special visits are made to the home and advice is given, comfort extended in time of sorrow. The union has given one of its regular meeting days to sewing for this home.

"Forty-five personal calls to the homes of foreigners have been made by the union. "The Frances Willard union has adopted the Italian families and assumed the responsibility of 'Home Visitation'—the work that means a world of opportunity for the foreign mother.

"This union has set apart one day per month to sew for their charges and to give instruction in sewing. Forty-one articles of clothing have been given to the needy. Members of the union have been doing valuable work in the summer sewing school, having instructed about 43 children. Mrs. Maude Sweet Winder, president of the union, has furnished a Story Hour for children at the mission. The matron at the Community House, Mrs. Beatrice Snively, who superintends the social and vocational departments, is furnished by this union. Thirty calls to foreigners' homes have been made by this union.

Other Ways. Illustrating other ways of meeting the families and reaching them, the report enumerates:

"The Mothers' meetings which convene the second Thursday each month. At these meetings they meet the American mother socially and at the lectures receive higher ideals of home and community life.

"The Fathers and Mothers' meetings occur quarterly. The children sometimes entertain their parents. A lecture is also given and music is an important feature of these programs.

"During the summer the children met each Thursday at the Community house and during the afternoon a program was followed which included: music and prayer; Bible study; sewing; and Story Hour. Ninety-five children attended the summer sewing school, which was divided into five classes. The younger children learned the stitches and made little articles, sewing bags, quilt block, doll clothes, etc., while the older girls were taught to make their own clothes.

ORGANIZE CLASSES FOR BIBLE STUDY

Bible school classes to be taught by instructors provided by the First Methodist church were to be organized at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

Children between five and 14 years of age are to be included in the enrollment. The school is a counterpart of the vacation Bible school conducted by the City Sunday School association this summer.

Mrs. R. W. Stokes, wife of the pastor of the church, is to be in charge of the school. Those named to assist are Miss Gertrude Kirkpatrick, Mrs. John Schellenberg, Miss Eva Phelps, and Mrs. Clyde Ewing.

ALLIED LEADERS USE SPARE TIME TO DRAW FANTASTIC DESIGNS

(By Associated Press)
PARIS, Sept. 8.—The hours dragged monotonously for the Allied premiers during the last meeting of the supreme council at Paris, while the interpreters were translating the various speeches from French into English and Italian and, to while away the time, the prime ministers scribbled and drew various figures on pieces of paper which they later threw into the waste basket. A journalist rescued them and this is what he found.

Lloyd George, probably inspired by the designs on Marshal Foch's uniform right across the table from him, had drawn a perfect oak leaf.

Curzon Likes Geography
Lord Curzon's effort proved to be a geographical map but the country which it purported to bound remained a mystery; it might have been Upper Silesia and then again it might have been India, as the noble lord was just preparing a speech on famine in that country during his vice-royalty as compared with the present Russian famine.

Brand's thoughts were evidently far away from matters of state while Camerynck, the official interpreter, was translating into English a speech the French premier had just delivered, for he drew a picture of a wedding couple just emerging from one of the Parisian churches. The French premier is a bachelor.

HARDING MAY VISIT CHICAGO

RITA GOULD GOTHAM GIRL, ENTERTAINER FOR LEGION POSTS

RITA GOULD

Miss Rita Gould's war service began in France, whither she went in 1918 to cheer the American doughboys, but she did not forget the veterans when they slipped back into "civies". Nor did she forget the disabled men.

She has spent most of the summer of 1921 in government hospitals and at recreation camps entertaining the disabled veterans, who have not been as popular since the close of the war.

as they were when they started overseas.

At the close of her summer's work, Miss Gould announced through S. Rankin Drew post of the American Legion, New York city, that she was offering her services gratis to all posts of the Legion in the cities she will visit this fall and winter on a theatrical tour.

Miss Gould has appeared at soldiers' benefits given by the Drew post, which is named for the first American actor to die in France. The membership of the post is composed of theatrical folk, newspapermen and members of the moving picture fraternity.

MENTION L. S. BOWMAN FOR AUDITOR OF STATE

An Indianapolis newspaper has the following to say regarding the discussion of politics at the state fair:

"Of course, it would not be a regular state fair if the politicians were not there. Most of the politicians centers about the administration building. Not that the officers of the fair play at politics while the fair is going on, but all the candidates for office and all the officeholders try to get their henchmen jobs at the fair, and most of them succeed. Consequently, there is considerable political talk going on all the time. The bunch from Richmond has started the name of Lew Bowman as a candidate for auditor of state. Mr. Bowman was deputy state auditor and made a great record. He became a candidate, but through the deal to nominate Ora Davies, of Kokomo, for treasurer of state, he was dumped at the state convention, and his friends think that he did not have a square deal. They refused to let him run for mayor of Richmond in order that he might get into the next race for state auditor. Will Oliver, the present state auditor, is a candidate for governor, backed by the McCray-Watson-Fred Robinson crowd, and this fact, the Richmond boosters think, will give their candidate a better chance."

WAYNE COUNTY MAN HELD AT NEWCASTLE ON WHISKY CHARGE

NEWCASTLE, Ind., Sept. 8.—Henry Yost, a resident of Wayne county, was lodged in the county jail here today as one of the operators of a whisky still captured in Liberty township more than two months ago. He was arrested in Richmond and brought here today by the sheriff of Wayne county.

Yost is the third man to be arrested in connection with the capture of a still on a farm owned by Dr. D. S. Wiggins and O. O. Carpenter. The others were Tuck Booher, a well-known Millville character, and Kenneth Tuttle, colored, who resides not far from the cabin in which the still was found. The Wayne county man, officials state, was probably the brains of the whisky ring which operated the still, and was probably the chief beneficiary from the proceeds of the business. He

Everybody in County Will Visit Stock Show

Nearly two years ago certain Wayne county farmers who deal in pure bred hogs felt the need of forming associations. We have three associations representing the principal breeds: Big Type Poland Chinas, Duroc Jerseys and Chester Whites.

A year ago, in co-operation with the agricultural agent, these associations started pig club work. Those who attended the show at Centerville last September know what success they had. Another and larger livestock association has developed. And a larger and better show will be held Sept. 14 and 15 at Jackson Park. The park has been purchased for exhibition purposes.

The last of May 63 boys and girls assembled at Centerville and drew lots for as uniform a bunch of pigs as good, hog judges could pick from Wayne county herds.

Twenty-nine Big Type Poland Chinas, 17 Duroc Jerseys, nine Chester Whites and eight Spotted Poland Chinas found new homes with our future farmers. The boys and girls have been feeding the pigs and are keeping records on their costs. What are the results? Come to Jackson Park next Thursday and see.

Of course we do not expect the young farmers to be the whole show. The old hog raisers are coming in the same as last year. Besides this there is the Breed Promotion show for the Big Types. At least 10 herds of three sows and one boar, all March 1st or after, 1921 pigs will be entered. First prize is $40 and 10th prize is $5. Some one is going to take that first prize.

Not all farmers are greatly interested in hogs so the cattle, horse, sheep and poultry man will have an opportunity to see some mighty good individuals, herds or flocks. The back yard poultry man has a chance to enter his birds in the poultry show. Just to point out plainly the differences, both good birds and poor ones will be shown. This in itself will be worth a trip to the park.

Those who do not care for any kind of live stock will find a complete exhibit of grains.

Wayne county's show is for two days again this year. Let's all get out and boost so that a year from now we may have a three-day show—100 pigs in the pig club, and a complete exhibit of everything grown on the farm.

Value Ground Limestone

Fifty-seven Fulton county farmers are applying ground limestone this fall at the rate of three to five tons per acre to show the value of this product in correcting soil acidity, co-operating with County Agent L. R. Binding to demonstrate this point. Mr. Binding obtained six carloads of ground limestone free for the demonstrations, the men paying the freight and agreeing to apply it under his direction. All of it will go on wheat ground which will be sown to clover in the spring, except one place where alfalfa is to be seeded.

SPECIAL NOTICE

This week's "Tips" is dedicated to the Wayne County Agricultural Products and Live Stock Association, Jackson Park, Sept. 14 and 15, 1921.

TIMELY HINTS

It will soon be time to sow wheat. It has been estimated that smut has caused a loss of at least two bushels per acre in Wayne county this year. Get in touch with the county agricultural agent at once and learn his plan for eliminating this loss for next year.

A great many farmers say that their sows lay on pigs. Eliminate a big cause of this loss by placing a 2x4 guard rail 8 or 10 inches from the floor and 10 inches from the walls of the farrowing pens.

Clean farrowing pens thoroughly at least a day or two before they are to be used. Spray floors and walls with some creosote compound or other standard disinfectant and sprinkle lime on the floor and in cracks. This precautionary measure may save one or two pigs of a litter.

It is not always possible to cure a pig-eating sow by another means than selling to the butcher. Frequently the cause is either lack of protein or exercise. Try a little tankage, milk or oil meal.

Considerable interest is being shown in the pig club contest soon to be held at Jackson park. Some of the boys and girls have produced REAL PIGS. The men showing in the open class had better watch their step if these young farmers decide to enter their pigs against their elders.

The wheat sowing period Sept. 28 to 30th. This is the time the state Agricultural Society has given as the best period to sow wheat in Wayne county.

Weed Out The Slackers

September is the month for culling out the unprofitable hens from a flock. Mr. Dolan is holding a demonstration at Len Pike's, 2 miles southwest of Fountain City at 8 a. m. Friday, Sept. 9. Another is scheduled for the afternoon at Lew Kinsey's, 3 miles southwest of Green's Fork. On the 10th, in the forenoon, he is to be at Harry Heinbaugh's, 6 miles south of Richmond on the Liberty pike. Monday, Sept. 12 another demonstration occurs 2 miles northwest of Jacksonburg at the home of Verne Hayes. In the afternoon the flock of Star Souders, top of Sycamore Hill, will be culled.

Those who are interested in making their chickens pay and have not had an opportunity to attend the earlier demonstrations will find it worth their while to spend an hour or two at one of these.

Keep Insects From Stored Seed With Carbon Disulphid

Many seeds, especially beans, corn, and lettuce, are subject to injury by a number of insects, all of which may be destroyed by fumigation with carbon disulphid, say experts of the United States Department of Agriculture. Carbon disulphid is a liquid that can be purchased in tin cans at any drug store. When poured into a dish it evaporates rapidly, producing a foul-smelling gas that is heavier than air. Therefore, in fumigating seeds, to kill insects attacking them it is necessary to place the carbon disulphid on top of the seeds in order that the gas may sink into them and reach every part of the container. A tight tin pail, box, or barrel makes an excellent container for fumigating seeds. For a tight barrel full of seeds one-half cupful of carbon disulphid is sufficient. For smaller containers, use in proportion.

Seeds to be fumigated must be dry, and if they are in paper bags, the bags should be opened. The gas penetrates cloth bags easily. The liquid may be placed in any shallow dish, such as a saucer or plate, or merely poured on the seeds. The liquid will not injure the seeds if poured directly upon them. Immediately after starting the fumigation, the container should be covered with several thicknesses of heavy paper, or other tight cover, and allowed to remain covered from one to two days. A longer fumigation in the pails is apt to injure the germinating power of the seeds.
