

CHINA DISSATISFIED AFTER STUDY OF JAP SHANTUNG PROPOSAL

(By Associated Press)
PEKIN, Sept. 16.—Acceptance of the proposals of Japan, with regard to the restoration of Shantung would mean virtual confirmation of Japan's economic position in Tsing-Tao and Kiaochow bay, while returning to China nominal jurisdiction, is the view of foreign students of China of the Shantung problem after having analyzed Japan's note, which was made public at the Foreign Office.

It was pointed out that the lease of Kiaochow bay includes the shore to the high water line, including the islands. This area comprises immense salt fields, which are in the hands of private Japanese. The same applies to the extensive ex-German fiscal lands and buildings acquired under treaty, the former at their value as agricultural lands, now greatly enhanced.

These holdings would be confirmed with clear title, which they do not have at present. The agricultural industry amounts to little, it was stated, but the loss of the salt industry would be serious.

Object to Railway Terms.
Paragraph 3 of the Japanese proposal, regarding the railway from Kiaochow to Tai-Nan, brought forth the objection that it does not give China the right to redeem the railways, but that joint ownership by China and Japan in perpetuity is suggested inferentially.

The sixth proposal, concerning the Tsing-Tao customs being regarded as part of the Chinese customs, in the same manner as during the German regime, is regarded as ambiguous since under the Germans it was provided that the German language might be used in correspondence.

"The same manner as under the German regime," in the opinion of the Chinese suggests the possible substitution of a Japanese staff. It is pointed out that joint management of public utilities, as mentioned in the Japanese communication, includes docks, piers and roads. The Chinese consider that other nations might have a reasonable fear of preferential treatment toward Japan in the matter of berthing ships, apportioning docks and the use of approaches.

Chambers of Commerce and guilds of student bodies in various cities are bombarding the government with protests against acceptance of the Japanese proposals.

INDIANA INDUSTRY SHOWS BIG GAIN IN FIVE YEARS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—Census figures announced Thursday show that Indiana is strong industrially as well as in agriculture. The state had 7,918 factories in 1919 in comparison with 8,022 in 1914. While there were 204 less factories in the state in 1919, the number of factory employees was 80,114 in excess of those employed in 1914. Wages paid Indiana factory workers in 1919 aggregated $317,080,000 in comparison with $119,258,000 in 1914. This represented an increase in wages paid of 158 per cent. The 1919 value of the products of Indiana factories was $1,901,846,000 in comparison with $423,857,000 five years ago, or an increase of 160 per cent, thus the increased wages were within 2 per cent of the increased value of the products. The capital invested in Indiana industries in 1919 was $1,335,851,000 in comparison with $658,863,000 in 1914.

FAMOUS OLD CUP RACER AMERICA FITTED FOR FINAL TRIP; WILL VISIT YACHT CLUBS

The America being fitted out for her last trip in shipyard in Boston.

The noted old racing schooner America, which went across the Atlantic in 1851 and captured the Royal Yacht Squadron cup, which has been held ever since by America—even against Sir Thomas Lipton's assault—is being fitted out in a Boston shipyard for her final trip. It is to be one of triumph, too. She will visit various yacht clubs on the Atlantic coast. Following this trip she will be preserved at Annapolis academy, having been given to the government by Charles Francis Adams, noted skipper who defeated the Shamrock IV last year.
