

MAYOR TO TAKE UP UNEMPLOYMENT WITH PUBLIC WORKS BOARD

Indications that Richmond will take up the problem of relieving the unemployed by furnishing jobs to help them share in a revival of business activity, were seen in the statement of Mayor Zimmerman Wednesday that he intended to speak to the board of works concerning the problem at its regular meeting Thursday morning.

"I have been following the reports of the Washington unemployment conference through the medium of the local papers," said the mayor. When asked if he had any definite plans in view at present he said:

"It seems to me that there is only one thing to do, and that is to start some new public works. Of course, when that is done, we have the taxpayers protesting."

The national conference on unemployment issued a statement recently, saying that the first move toward relieving the situation would be to build up a local organization in each city, to handle the question.

Exactly how far local authorities will go in the matter is a matter of conjecture at present.

Suggest Conferences.
Conferences between civic officials and leading manufacturers are among the measures suggested by the national unemployment conference. No meetings of this sort have been arranged for here as yet.

Miss Ethel Clark, secretary of the Social Service bureau, is interested in this matter and it is likely that she will appear before the board Thursday to talk over the needs of the city. The bureau will start a house to house canvass of the city soon, to determine the exact number of unemployed in Richmond.

Need of actual facts in regard to the number of jobs is stressed by Miss Clark in a statement made Wednesday. A canvass of manufacturing plants of the city does not always prove accurate, she said. "Some of the men formerly employed with that institution may have left the town. The only accurate means is that of canvassing each house."

To Divide Into Districts.
The city of Richmond is to be divided into districts to allow a centralized canvass. Volunteer workers will then take up their districts and report within a week. It is the aim of the bureau to have all necessary information available by the end of next week. The canvass will be started Monday.

The state meeting of the Central Labor council will take up the unemployment situation at its meeting Wednesday evening, according to Verne Pentecost, former president of the organization. Forms of relief, will be discussed with a view to co-operating with the civic officials in any move they may make, he said.

The last report of the Central Labor Council statistician placed the number of unemployed in Richmond at between 3,200 and 3,300. Comparatively few habitual "floaters" are to be found here, according to Mr. Pentecost. Educational methods advanced by the local representative of organized labor have discouraged such a tendency.

MAY DELAY HEARING IN ARBUCKLE CASE FOR ACTOR TO COME

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 5.—The manslaughter charge against Roscoe C. Arbuckle in connection with the death of Miss Virginia Rappe after a drinking party in a hotel here a month ago, was on the calendar of the superior court today, but the defendant was several hundred miles away at his home in Los Angeles.

It was learned last night from Charles Brennan, one of the defense attorneys, that Arbuckle's presence in court today was not deemed necessary as the case will come up only for instruction and arrangements. District Attorney Matthew Brady intimated, however, that he opposed Arbuckle's absence and probably would ask continuance until next Friday to enable the motion picture comedian to come to San Francisco and appear.

Federal action against Arbuckle in connection with alleged Volstead act violations are to be held up for some time, it was announced by Robert H. McCormack, special assistant to the attorney general of the United States.

Delays Arrest.
McCormack said he had cancelled plans which called for the immediate arrest of the comedian on a charge of unlawful possession of liquor until after full investigation of the alleged disappearance of $40,000 worth of assorted liquors from a restaurant, declared by McCormack to have been the source of the intoxicating liquors consumed by guests at Arbuckle's party. When federal officials raided the establishment its purported $40,000 stock was not found. McCormack charged that advance information of the raid had been conveyed.

Late last night McCormack made public a telegram which he had received from Wayne B. Wheeler, chief

Two grade school rooms in the Williamsburg school building will be opened for school Monday, according to County Superintendent Williams, who talked with Enos Vale, trustee of Greene township, Wednesday.

For some time, the officials at Williamsburg had been conducting school in a room down town, but this room has been condemned, and they were compelled to discontinue school. No decision has been received regarding the hand issue for a new building for this township, a matter which now is before the state tax board.

Fifteen cash prizes will be awarded for the fifteen best lists submitted. The answer having the largest and nearest correct list of visible objects shown in this picture starting with "S" will be awarded first prize; second best, second prize, etc.

Everybody Join In—The Indianapolis Star announces a most interesting and amusing puzzle game for the little folk in a puzzle that's "different" and a game in which everyone from Grandpa to the little tot can participate. It's really not a puzzle at all, because all the objects have been made perfectly plain with no attempt to disguise them; it's just a test of your skill. Your ability to find "S" words determines the prize you win. Right after the dishes are done this evening get all the folks in your family together. Give each of them pencil and paper and see who can find the most "S" words. We know you will enjoy it, for every one loves a puzzle.

Open to All, Costs Nothing to Try

The "Star" invites you, Mr. and Mrs. Reader and Family to join in this puzzle game. It doesn't make a speck of difference whether you are six or sixty years old. Here's your chance for some dandy fun. Wait until you've tried it and you will say, "The most fun I ever had." Write down the "S" words you have in mind right NOW. Then study the picture and when your list is made up send it to The "Star" and try for the big prizes.

Observe these Rules

- Any man, woman, boy or girl living outside of the city of Indianapolis, and who is not an employee of The STAR Publishing Company may submit an answer. It costs nothing to try.
- All answers must be mailed by Oct. 22, 1921.
- Answers should be written on one side of the paper only and words numbered consecutively: 1, 2, 3, etc. Write your full name and address on each page in the upper right hand corner. If you desire to write anything else, use a separate sheet.
- Only words found in the English Dictionary will be counted. Do not use hyphenated, compound or obsolete words. Use either the singular or plural. Where the singular is used the plural can not be counted and vice versa.
- Words of the same spelling can be used only once, even though used to designate different objects. The same object can be named only once. However, any part of the object may also be named.
- The answer having the largest and nearest correct list of names of visible objects shown in the picture that begin with the letter "S" will be awarded first prize, etc. Neatness, style or handwriting will have no bearing upon deciding the winners.
- Candidates may co-operate in answering the puzzle, but only one prize will be awarded to any one household. No prize will be awarded to more than one of any group outside of the family, where two or more have been working together.
- In the event of a tie for any prize offered, the full amount of such prize will be paid to each tied participant.
- All answers will receive the same consideration, regardless of whether or not a subscription for The Indianapolis Star is sent in.
- There will be three independent judges, having no connection with The STAR, who will judge the answers submitted and award the prizes at the end of the puzzle game. Participants agree to accept the decision of these judges as final and conclusive.
- The judges will meet directly following the close of the contest and announcement of the prize winners and the correct list of words will be published in The Indianapolis Star just as quickly thereafter as possible.
