MURRAY

The Theatres

A real Western rodeo—relic of a picturesque, passing West—is one of the exciting features of "Penny of Top Hill Trail," the Federated feature starring Bessie Love, which is playing at the Murray theatre.

The scene was filmed on a California ranch, and some of the best riders living took part in it. Miss Love was scheduled to ride a mustang, but her first attempt ended abruptly when she was thrown over the head of the bucking steed. A week in bed with a sprained ankle and wrenched side was the result, but then the scene was re-taken and Miss Love bestrode the same spirited horse in triumph.

MURRETT

One of the finest casts ever assembled is being seen in "The Old Nest," the Rupert Hughes story of mother love and American family life, playing at the Murrettle theatre. The story is a film version of a short story that appeared in the Saturday Evening Post, and was produced by the Goldwyn company.

The director, Reginald Barker, is well known for the many fine productions he has made for Goldwyn.

In the cast Mary Alden plays the leading role, that of the mother, who appears first as the young matron with her six children of school age. Then, little older, with greying hair, she is their companion and advisor. Finally they grow to manhood and womanhood, leave the old nest and strike out into the world for themselves. Here, the poignancy of Miss Alden's acting as the old mother is irresistible.
