

CLEVELAND ORCHESTRA, PLAYING HERE NOV. 8, WINS PRAISE OF ALL

When music lovers of Richmond gather in the Coliseum on Nov. 8 to hear the Cleveland orchestra in symphony concert, they will listen to the artistry of 30 musicians who last season in New York City established the year's symphony attendance record in that metropolis. Conductor Nikolai Sokoloff's big organization on a Sunday night in the vast New York hippodrome attracted an audience that completely taxed the seating capacity of that big auditorium, won great outbursts of applause and gained the favor of the critics of a city which, though not Missouri, has opportunity to hear so many musical treats in a season that it has to be shown—if the presentation of music may be referred to as being something which may be shown.

The triumphs of Mr. Sokoloff's organization in its tours in the east and in Ohio last year have made the demand for its concerts exceed the supply of dates available, although the Musical Arts Association of Cleveland, which operates the orchestra, has lengthened the approaching season to 23 weeks and the number of concerts to 125. Cities across the border in Ontario, in which the love of big orchestra movements is so pronounced, have asked the management to make a tour in the province.

These tributes to the orchestra and the place it has so speedily won for itself in the musical firmament are, quite naturally, attributable to the foresight, technique and personality of Mr. Sokoloff, together with his rare genius in assembling the orchestra's personnel and the selection of programs, the latter item being no mere routine selection of composition. Each summer the conductor visits European countries to secure new additions to the Cleveland orchestra library, and then follows a period of study of their possibilities and the arrangement of the scores for the 30 musicians.

Render American Numbers
These visits to Europe, however, do not mean that Mr. Sokoloff fails to recognize the American composers. Quite the contrary is true, and some of the big successes that have come to the Cleveland orchestra have been through the rendition of American compositions. One of the conspicuous examples of these was Charles Martin Loeffler's "A Pagan Poem," which, through its unique and artistic presentation, was one of the season's triumphs, winning favor everywhere to an extent that it is again to be featured this year.

The Cleveland orchestra is one contradiction to the old adage that "a prophet is not without honor except in his own land." Back in the Fifth City, the sale of season tickets for the orchestra's series of 16 pairs of symphony concerts, on a date five weeks before the current season's opening and before the sale of seats began, had exceeded the total sale of season tickets for all of last season.

Organizations such as the Chamber of Commerce, the Women's City club and the Cleveland Advertising club have had Conductor Sokoloff appear before them to tell them more about symphony music, while the Cleveland Community Fund provided money gifts of $25,000 with which the orchestra "carries music to the people" with community and "Pop" concerts and with children's concerts and music memory contests.

Richmond, then, will not only have the opportunity of hearing a symphony orchestra, the merit of which has been attested by audiences in cities which it has visited, but one which in its home city occupies the position of a civic institution belonging to all the people.

22 PER CENT BOOST IN NUMBER OF LOCAL INDUSTRIES, REPORT

An increase of 22 per cent in the number of establishments operating in Richmond is shown by the last census figures for the cities of the state of Indiana, just released. The last tabulation was in 1914, when there were 118 industries in the city, and there are now 144. A 36 per cent increase in the number of persons employed, from 4,238 to 5,767, is indicated.

A larger increase in proprietors and firm members and in salaried employees is shown, than in wage employees. The number of proprietors has increased from 78 to 109, or 33.7 per cent; the salaried employees from 498 to 720, or 44.6 per cent, while wage workers have increased from the 1914 figures of 3,662, to 4,938 in 1919, or 34.8 per cent.

The horsepower necessary to operate Richmond industries has increased from 5,707 to 6,711 or 17.6 per cent. Capital invested has increased from $10,969,000 to $14,215,000, an increase of 29.6 per cent. The salaries paid have increased by 143 per cent, from $593,000 to $1,441,000; while wages also have gone up from $2,316,000 to $4,859,000, a 109.5 per cent increase.

Costs of material have more than doubled, from $4,879,000 to $12,712,000, a jump of 155.8 per cent, while the value of products manufactured has increased only by 123.3 per cent, from $10,252,000 in 1914 to $22,894,000 in 1919. The value added by manufacture has increased by 92.8 per cent.

tutes a manufacturers' sales tax for the revenue bill. Their attitude is largely governed by political expediency.

A new house of representatives is to be elected next year and Republican members are not a bit anxious to go to their constituents on a proposition like a sales tax, which can be so easily misrepresented and of which so little is known by the general public.

Representative Mondell, Republican leader in the house, has issued an ultimatum to the senate that if the present session of congress expects to get anywhere with tax revision legislation the Smoot sales tax measure must not be substituted for the revenue bill which has been passed by the house and reported to the senate in amended form.

New Favors Sales Tax
But coincident with the issuance of the Mondell ultimatum came the announcement of Senator Harry S. New of Indiana that he favored the proposed manufacturers' sales tax. The action of the senior Indiana senator, who is particularly close to the administration, has been interpreted by many to mean that President Harding is willing to see the pending revenue bill scrapped. Should this be the president's attitude, it is reasonable to believe that the senate will scrap the revenue measure for the Smoot bill, putting it squarely up to the house to accept it or defy the president.

May Require Intervention.
In many quarters the prediction is being made that the president will be required to intervene to save some of the important features of his legislative program. It is understood that the president has lately abandoned the hope of having the present congress enact a tariff act, a hope which he clung to long after such expectations had been generally abandoned in Washington.

"I hope Mr. Harding soon will realize that he cannot continue his policy of non-interference in the affairs of the legislative branch of the government; that he must exert his authority as titular head of the Republican party and as chief executive. I would not want to see him repeat the mistaken policy of President Taft in his relations with congress," remarked a Republican member of the house recently.

Delay Causes Discontent.
It is safe to say that before the present session of congress adjourns, some time next month, a tax revision bill will have been placed upon the statute books, but each day this legislation is delayed causes more general discontent.

With their political futures at stake in the general elections of next year, Republican members of the house are in a nasty temper over the senate's dilatory tactics with the all-important tax revision bill. The house is well advanced with its legislative program. It has functioned admirably for six months only to see many of the important acts it has disposed of wedged into the legislative jam in the senate, which probably will continue until the last day of the session. Then the senate will pull off its usual curtain act of attempting to dispose of in a few hours everything it has postponed until the proverbial eleventh hour.

INGROWN TOE NAIL

How to Toughen Skin so Nail Turns Out Itself

A few drops of "Outgro" upon the skin surrounding the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost overnight. "Outgro" is a harmless, antiseptic, manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.—Advertisement.

ZEM ZEM CLUB WILL BE RULED BY MURAT

If present plans of the Zem Zem club are carried out the local club will automatically come under the supervision of the Murat temple at Indianapolis. A set of rules and regulations have been prepared by a committee composed of William Edmondson, Mr. Snyder, Ed Wentling, Walker Land and Benjamin Ball. These rules will be passed upon at the meeting of the club in its rooms Friday night. The rules when passed upon will then be presented to Edward J. Schoonover, potentate of the Murat temple.

The following committees will be appointed at the meeting Friday night by Sheikh Charles E. Duffin: Ways and means, entertainment, finance, government, membership, transportation, grievance, publicity, reception, social, health and property.

Sheik Duffin stated that the Zem Zem club expects to take a more active interest in the activities in other Masonic bodies in the city this year than they did last year.

LIGHTING CONTRACT COSTS EATON $4,959; HAVE BETTER SYSTEM

EATON, O., Oct. 6.—Contract for lighting the city streets has been renewed by the city council with the Eaton Lighting company, under which a number of higher power electric lamps than those now in use are to be installed. The cost, under the new agreement, will be $4,959 a year, a slight increase over the cost under the old contract.

Lamps of 250 candle power will be installed at all railway crossings. The same power lamps will be placed at street intersections from Franklin street west to the intersection of Main street and the Richmond pike. From the Pennsylvania railway south on Barron street to Wadsworth street all intersecting lamps will be 100 candle power, excepting at Somers street, which will have a 250 candle power lamp. All other Main street lamps will be 100 candle power. All other lights in the city will be 80 candle power.

The new contract calls for all night service, excepting moonlight nights, when the service will be discontinued at midnight. The new schedule will save an aggregate of 2,200 hours service, as compared with 2,400 hours under the old schedule.

Work of installing the higher power lamps will begin within a short time, it is expected.

KENTUCKY GIRL WRITES LETTER

How She Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Sunnyside, Ky.—"I suffered for more than two years with my back and nervousness, and was not able to help my mother do the housework. I took treatment from many doctors and they did not do me any good. Mother saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in the paper and I took about ten bottles. It has done me a great deal of good. I weigh 138 pounds and am in good health. I will gladly recommend Vegetable Compound to anyone who suffers with the troubles which I had, and you are welcome to publish my testimonial."—VERMILION HENDRICK, Route 1, Sunnyside, Ky.

"To many American girls life is often a heavy drag in consequence of illness, and every mother should heed the first manifestations, such as cramps, backaches, headaches and nervousness as Mrs. Hendrick did for her daughter, and give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial. For over forty years this old-fashioned root and herb medicine has been relieving women of just such troubles."

The foolish man who built his house on the sand

He gave an example in folly which anybody can understand.

It isn't so easy, however, to sense the mistake of trying to build the body on foods which lack essential nourishment.

Here, again, is a foundation of sand which gives 'way when the test comes.

Many a food that tastes good lacks honesty of nourishment to equal its taste. Thus it tempts the appetite into mistakes that often are costly.

Grape-Nuts is a food which helps build bodily endurance for life's stress and storm. The full nourishment of wheat and malted barley, together with the vital mineral salts so necessary to bone structure and red blood corpuscles, with phosphates for the brain, is retained in Grape-Nuts. The long baking process by which Grape-Nuts is made gives the food a natural sweetness and an unusual ease of digestibility and assimilation.

Served with cream or milk, Grape-Nuts is fully nourishing, and whether eaten as a cereal at breakfast or lunch, or made into a pudding for dinner, Grape-Nuts has a particular delight for the appetite. Sold by grocers.
