

PUT YOUR CHURCH ON BUSINESS BASIS ADVISES BANCROFT

Speaking before the Men's classes of the Methodist churches of the city, E. Don Bancroft, of Columbus, O., opened the Sunday school "Mobilization Week" of the Grace Methodist church, Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Mr. Bancroft also delivered the principal address in the evening services of the church.

Mr. Bancroft emphasized the fact that the work of the church should be carried on strictly in a business-like way. He also emphasized the importance of all members meeting the obligation of the church immediately in a businesslike manner.

In the evening services at the church Mr. Bancroft spoke on "The New Program of the Methodist Church," emphasizing first the following of the spiritual life of the church, such as Bible reading and prayer in the home. He stated that every head of the family should see that these things are done.

Advocates Tithing
Secondly he emphasized the matter of Christian stewardship of possessions, declaring that members of the church should tithe.

Thirdly, he emphasized the importance of the laymen of the church taking an active part in the affairs and welfare of the church. He said that the layman can do more good for his church in a businesslike way than the minister. He stated that the minister carries on the work of the church in a professional way while the layman does not.

Mr. Bancroft asserted that every member of the church owes it to the church and himself to win over at least one new member to the church. Monday night at 7:30 o'clock, E. T. Albertson of Indianapolis, state secretary of the Indiana Sunday school association, will deliver an address.

MADDY WILL OUTLINE MAY FESTIVAL PLANS

Organization of the May Festival chorus of 300 voices will be effected Monday evening at a meeting of all persons interested in becoming members, to be held at 7:30 o'clock in the high school auditorium. Prof. J. E. Maddy, conductor of the symphony orchestra will present the plans for the year to the assembly.

The first appearance of the festival chorus occurs in December when it will appear in the presentation of Handel's "Messiah" with the Richmond Symphony orchestra assisting.

The chorus is to be one of the chief attractions at the spring May Festival to be held in 1922. Plans for that will be discussed when the chorus members convene again a week from this Monday.

Engineer's Federation Plans Will Be Launched Tonight

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Plans for a world federation of engineers, designed primarily to work for international peace, will be launched formally tonight at a dinner arranged by the Federated American Engineering societies.

The dinner is in honor of a mission of 13 engineers who have just returned after conferring the John Fritz medal for distinction in science upon Sir Robert Hadfield of London and Eugene Schneider of Paris.

CHURCH FEDERATION BACKS MOVE TO PUSH IN BEHALF OF PEACE

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 10.—With an appeal to the churches of the state, the Ohio Federation of Churches today joined its voice to that of the Federal Council of Churches in urging enlistment of the spiritual forces of the state and the country in behalf of world peace and disarmament.

Secretary B. F. Lamb's message, issued on behalf of the federation, whose membership includes 15 denominations, endorsed the national organization's call for observance of Sunday, October 9, as a day of prayer, and for special services on Armistice Day, November 11, when the international conference on limitation of armament convenes in Washington.

It also appealed to ministers and laymen of the churches to remember the disarmament program constantly in their prayers between now and the time of the conference.

Special meetings for study of international questions during the week of November 6, community mass meetings in later October or early November and special emphasis on world peace in Thanksgiving Day services are recommended.

The action of the Ohio Federation of Churches signals the formal enrollment of the organization in what many church leaders declare to be more far-reaching in its importance than any interdenominational movement in years. The program recommended in the state will be in harmony with the national plans being developed by the Federal Council. Officials of the various denominations, reports show, are communicating with their churches, urging full cooperation.

ART ADMIRERS MEET CINCINNATI ARTISTS

Herman H. Wessel and John E. Weis, prominent Cincinnati artists, who now have exhibitions hanging in the public art gallery, visited the gallery Sunday afternoon, and were met by many persons. Randolph L. Coats, another of the exhibiting artists, with his mother, were guests at the gallery a week ago. The fourth exhibitor is at present a resident of Paris and will not attend the exhibit.

The gallery will be open on week days, except Saturday, from 8 until 5 o'clock, this week. In addition, the gallery will also be open between the hours of 7 and 9 o'clock Wednesday evening.

WOMAN ORGANIZER ACTIVE IN PROGRESS OF AMERICAN LEGION

Miss Pauline Cranston Curnick.

When we think of the American Legion we think of men. But the fact is that the legion has in its ranks women who earned the right in war to join this peace-time organization and who are active in its progress. Such a woman is Pauline Cranston Curnick, national organizer and director. She will be one of the leading figures at the legion's convention in Kansas City which opens Oct. 31.

Miss Curnick was born in Springfield, O., where her father was pastor of the St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church.

She was educated in private schools in Detroit, Mich., and Terre Haute, Ind., and was tutored by her father, who was formerly a professor of sociology. Upon the completion of her education Miss Curnick acted as secretary for her father and engaged in various phases of social work. During the war she took an active part in entertainment work for the soldiers. After the cessation of hostilities, Miss Curnick entered into the welfare and organization work for the national child labor committee and later became employment manager for an eastern industrial concern.

Finds Time to Write.
For a time missionary work occupied her attention. Miss Curnick is a member of the Writers' club and has found time in addition to her other duties, to contribute to various literary publications of merit.

Since joining the headquarters staff of the legion, Miss Curnick has devoted her entire time to women's auxiliary work.

Since taking over her office, the membership of the auxiliary has increased 180 percent in the number of units attached to posts. Miss Curnick has personally supervised the formation of 40 state department organizations, and has been present at the formation of 22 departments. Miss Curnick's primary interest has been the effecting of a national organization.

Everyday Ad-Ventures

That Puts the Joy Back Into Life—

When you're sure that everything is under control and going well in the kitchen and then without any warning, your cook develops a sudden attack of temper and anti marches out one afternoon just before dinner time—

And you have to "jump in" and get the meal and then your husband comes home and dinner isn't ready and he has to set the table and help with the dishes afterward and you both feel as though civilization had slipped back a couple of ages—

And this goes on the next day—and the next—even though you're looking everywhere for a cook, and at the end of the week your husband throws down his dish towel and says "We simply can't go along this way any more—we've aged five years in the last five days!"

And then suddenly you have a rejuvenating idea and step to the phone and give the Palladium a "Help Wanted" ad—

And the next night the new cook—that you picked from the half-dozen who answered your ad—is on the job—and you and your friend, husband, have nothing to do but dress for dinner—

That puts the joy back into life!
