

IF YOU WOULD FIND RELIEF FROM FOOD PRICES, TRY ANATOLIA

(By Associated Press.)
WITH GREEK ARMY IN THE FIELD, Oct. 19.—Americans who find life expensive would secure unbounded relief if they could come to Anatolia. In the area through which the Greek army passed in its advance on Ankara, lambs sell for 60 cents each, chickens for 12 cents, whole cows for $9 and eggs for half a cent. Everywhere food is found in great abundance and at prices such as America never heard of even before the war.

The fertile fields of Anatolia rival those of the most productive American state. Wheat is the principal commodity of the thrifty Turkish and Kurd farmers. They raise sufficient quantities to feed a continent. When King Constantine's army made its memorable 300-mile advance from Ushak into the heart of the Kemal country, it found hundreds of thousands of tons of wheat and grain. It is the plan of the Greek government to market this huge treasure in an effort to bring the Greek currency back to par.

The Greeks also found incalculable numbers of cattle and sheep. Cows, oxen and water-buffalo swarm the plains of Asia Minor, while the famous Angora goats and Caraman sheep are so numerous that they sell for about the price of a pound of mutton in any American city.

It is this great cornucopia that has made it possible for Mustafa Kemal's army to subsist so long without outside assistance. It is also this great abundance that has kept the Greek forces going. Their onward march to Angora would not have been possible upon the meagre food supplies they have been able to transport from Smyrna and Greece.

SEASON TICKETS

wish that the name of every public spirited man and woman of our community appear on the season's programs. We ask that you make that privilege possible by checking up your ticket sales at the Weisbrod Music company not later than Saturday, Oct. 22.

Faithfully yours,
THE FINANCE COUNCIL,
Oliver P. Nusbaum, president.
Is Self-Supporting.

The Indianapolis Star in an article states that the Richmond Symphony orchestra is the only symphony orchestra in America which is entirely self-supporting, that it started out last year with nothing and carried out a successful season without a guarantee fund, and ended its season with a surplus. The Cleveland orchestra cost that city $250,000 more than it could earn last year, but the orchestra is conceded to be an advertisement well worth that price.

Excerpts from "The Kiwanee," official publication of the Kiwanis club, one of the sponsors for the musical program this winter, say:
"The Richmond symphony orchestra is OUR orchestra. It stands for culture of our community and for its ideals."

"No city in America with less than 100,000 inhabitants can boast such an orchestra and chorus as the Richmond symphony orchestra and festival chorus. The orchestra was the basis for the musical activities of Richmond

Why a Boy Should Belong to Y.M.C.A.

A study of the statistics of reformatories, prisons, etc., show conclusively that the time of most break-downs in character is boyhood.

Fathers and mothers do not fear for their boys when they are busy at the factory and at school. The time to be alarmed in their behalf is in connection with the unaccounted for evenings, the half holidays, the time between the closing of school and supper, the time after supper, when the boy gets away from home. To these hours we may trace the formation of most of the life habits which mean the undoing of the best of our boys.

The Young Men's Christian Association in providing healthful and up-building diversions and occupations in these hours of fate is therefore rendering service of inestimable importance. It gives attention to the development of their bodies, their moral and religious life. It has a mission to the younger of public school boys and the older boys of the high school, and to the employed or working boys. It has a mission to the boys of all churches, as well as to those who are not interested in any church.

Therefore as Boys' Work director of the local Young Men's Christian Association, I wish to appeal to the fathers and mothers that their boys be given a chance to get into the association this winter, that they may get the training which we will give through our honor system. Parents who are interested are urged to call and have a talk with us.

PERRY A. WILSON,
Boys' Work Secretary.

last year which culminated in the big music festival, 1,800 people taking part in the performances. Through the festival and symphony concerts Richmond received wide publicity as a musical center, several of the leading magazines featuring articles commending our musical activities."

Everyday Ad-Ventures

That's What You Call Service—
When you come home one evening and your small boy tells you, with tears in his eyes, that "Patches", the family fox-terrier, is lost and you say "Oh no, I guess he'll be back home tonight!"

But there's no sign of the wanderer by breakfast-time the next morning and the boy is so distressed that it's all you can do to persuade him to go off to school, and your wife says she's afraid someone has stolen "Patches" and that she thinks you ought to do something about it—

And you tell her that you'll "see what you can do", but after you call up the pound without any luck, you're just about stumped—until—
You get a "doggone" good idea and stop in at the Palladium office and have an ad put in the Lost and Found column—

And that same day, your wife calls up your office to tell you that some man has just brought "Patches" home—and you can hardly hear what she says for the uproar made by one small dog barking and one small boy shouting "Hooray!"

Oh Man, That's What You Call Service!

Labor Bureau Statistics Show 1.7 Cut in Living Cost

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—Based on statistics for 32 cities the cost of living in the United States decreased 1.7 percent from last May to September, according to figures announced today by the Bureau of Labor statistics.

The decrease from May to September ranges from 0.1 percent for Portland, Me., to 3.8 percent for Jacksonville, Fla., with New York showing a decrease of 1.1 percent, Boston, 0.9 percent, Cincinnati, 2.8 percent, Denver 0.6 percent, Houston 2.6 percent, Memphis 1.3 percent, San Francisco, 1.3 percent, and Seattle, 2.6 percent.

The figures showed the cost of living in the country in Sept. to be 77.3 percent higher than the average for the year 1913. The increase were itemized as follows: Foods 53.1 percent, clothing 92.1 percent, housing 60 percent, fuel and lights 80.7 percent, furniture 124.7 percent and miscellaneous 10.8.

LAW OR

Judicial dignity was treated with contempt and its statutory power ignored. Instead of acting as a court should act, it issued a set of recommendations that implied not the faintest rebuke to the offenders against its authority, but actually went far towards surrendering to the unions' demands.

If the labor court had a stronger personnel, there might have been a different story. Courts acquire influence and the authority of public support through the wisdom and the courage of their members in times of crisis.

Since Saturday apparently, President Harding has given them an injection of a better quality of spinal fluid, and they are now going to assert the authority and dignity they so supinely surrendered.

Apparently, the labor board will now do, belatedly what they ought to have done instantly as an automatic reaction of industrial courage. They are going to order both the railroad managers and the union chiefs back to their kennels, and insist that this controversy is to be considered and settled through the judicial machinery which the people of the United States have set up for that purpose.

President Stone, of the engineers' brotherhood, says the issue is between a strike and the government taking over the railroads. That statement reflects the remotest purpose that is in the back of the heads of a good man of the union leaders. They want to bring about nationalization of the railroads. But Mr. Stone is wrong.

The real issue is whether labor disputes shall be settled by judicial bodies under the orderly processes of law in accordance with American traditions, or by a return to the crude wording of supply and demand in the relations between employers and employees.

If the labor board breaks down, the next step will not be the nationalization of the railroads, which Mr. Stone hopefully predicts, but it will be the withdrawal of many of those protections and immunities which the government has set up to aid organized labor in its relations with employers.

While this is the heart of the story, it is, of course, not the whole of it. It is a fact that several weeks ago, the Pennsylvania and some other railroads treated certain judgments of the labor board without the respect they ought to have paid to such an institution. But its ways too complex to be told here the refusal of the railroad managers to obey judgments handed down by the labor board was infinitely less offensive than what the unions did on Saturday.

Public Must Insist.
The thing for the public to do now is to insist as against both the managers and the unions upon a strict regard for the authority of the court that the people have set up, and to visit public condemnation on which every party refuses to accept that authority.

For the moment the question is whether a labor court set up by the United States government has or has not any standing and authority. After that is answered, and depending on how it is answered there will be further developments from Washington.
